

Dates For Playground Field Days Are Announced

The Newton Recreation Department has announced the dates for the Field Days to be held on the Newton Playgrounds as the highlight activity of the Summer Playground Season.

These field days are an annual event and provide an opportunity for the members of the playground groups to show the public the varied activities which take place on Newton playgrounds.

There will be displays of boys' and girls' craft work to indicate the workmanship of the boys and girls in making things with their hands.

There will be dance demonstrations under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Sawyer, who has provided this instruction on a number of our playgrounds with the assistance of the Playground Leaders on the respective grounds.

The major activities will consist of team games, demonstrations, competitive races and games, obstacle competitions, doll carriage and bicycle parades and on some playgrounds there will be dramatic presentations.

The final events of each field day will be the public recognition of playground children through awards by the Recreation Department for outstanding work and achievement in crafts, girls' handwork, dancing, baseball, softball, team competitions and individual prizes.

The schedule of field days is as follows:

August 10—At Carr School: Carr School Playground, Horace Mann Playground, and Albemarle Playground.

August 11—At Boyd Park: Boyd Playground, Stearns Playground, Victory Field, and Hawthorn Playground.

August 17—At Newton Centre (Brewer) Playground: Newton Centre Playground, Newton Highlands Playground, Weeks Junior High Playground, Thompsonville Playground.

August 18—At Levi Warren Playground: John W. Weeks Playground (West Newton), Levi Warren Playground, Temple Street Playground.

August 19—At Auburndale Playground: Thomas W. Lyons Playground.

August 22—At Cold Spring Playground.

August 22—At Newton Lower Falls Playground.

August 23—At Cabot Park Playground.

August 24—At Upper Falls Playground: Newton Upper Falls, Emerson School Playground.

August 24—At Franklin School Playground.

August 25—At Wellington Playground: Wellington Playground, Eden Avenue.

August 25—At Angier Playground: Angier Playground, Richardson Playground.

August 26—At Burr Park: Read Fund Picnic and Play Day, Burr Playground, Farlow Park.

Community Service To Be Held at Eliot Church Sunday

The Community Service sponsored by the churches of Newton will be held on Sunday in The Eliot Church at ten o'clock.

The preacher will be Mr. Richard N. Hey, student assistant in the Eliot Church. The organist at this service will be Mr. Herbert Irvine, Minister of Music of the Eliot Church and Mr. Herbert Craik will be the soloist.

Rev. J. Edgar Park to Preach At Services

The Reverend J. Edgar Park, D.D., minister of the Second Church in Newton for nineteen years and former President of Wheaton College, will be the guest preacher at the last five union services sponsored by nine churches in western Newton this summer. He will preach on August 7, 14, 21, and 28 and September 4 in the Newtonville Methodist Church on Walnut street near Washington street.

It was under Dr. Park's direction that the present edifice and parish house of the Second Church were built. Following his years in Newton, he served as president of Wheaton for eighteen years. He now makes his home in Oosterville on Cape Cod and has taken part in union services in Newton for the past three years.

The hour of worship is 11 a.m. Co-operating churches are the Auburndale Congregational, the Central Congregational, the Church of the Open Word, the First Unitarian Society in Newton, the Lincoln Park Baptist, the Newton Highlands Congregational, the Newtonville Methodist, the Second Church in Newton, and the Centenary Methodist.

Sarah Churchill At Wellesley Theatre Beginning Aug. 9

The Wellesley Summer Theatre is proud to announce that Sarah Churchill, famous daughter of England's illustrious Winston Churchill, who is making her official American stage debut, will appear in Philip Barry's delightful comedy, The Philadelphia Story, starting Tuesday, August 9 on the Wellesley College campus. Miss Churchill, who has gained prominence on both sides of the Atlantic through her work in British films, has received special permission from the J. Arthur Rank productions to appear on the Summer Theatre circuit.

Jeffrey Lynn, well-known American movie star and a native of Massachusetts will be co-starring with Miss Churchill. Mr. Lynn, who spent five years in the service, rapidly won back the high spot he occupied in films before the war. Among his many creditable motion picture successes are Yes, My Darling Daughter, The Fighting 69th, Million Dollar Baby, Strange Episode, Captain China and A Letter to Three Wives.

Featured in the Sarah Churchill and Jeffrey Lynn is the lovely film actress Patricia White who makes her third appearance in this, her second season at Wellesley after a winter of New York television. Others featured in Philip Barry's comedy are Frank Sanderford, Fay Roope, Dorothy McLaughlin, Douglas Rutherford and Johanna Douglas. The production is staged by Henry B. Williams and designed by Charles E. Rogers. Those who missed Sarah Churchill's earlier appearance should note that this will be the last chance to see the famous actress in the Boston Area this summer.

Newton "Y" Selected For National Project

President Frederick Sayford Bacon announced that the Newton Young Men's Christian Association has been selected as one of ten YMCA's in Massachusetts and Rhode Island and one of one hundred in the United States to be included in a cooperative evaluation project sponsored by the National Council Committee on Standards Related to the Strength, Vitality, and Quality of Service of YMCA's.

John H. Lehman, executive secretary of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island YMCA's in Boston, has been directing the project locally. Each participating association has entered this exploratory project on a volunteer basis. Members of the committee sponsoring this study are: Frederick Sayford Bacon, Frederick A. Hawkins, Dr. Edwin P. Leonard, Alex R. Miller, and Oliver Smith.

Republican Club Discuss Plans to Sponsor Rally

At the monthly meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Republican Club held Monday night, plans were discussed to sponsor a rally for the candidates up for election in Newton.

Such a rally has been held successfully in other cities and the club believes that it will better acquaint the voters with the candidates in Newton.

Plans were discussed for the fall meetings and the board is sure that the coming announcements concerning these meetings will be of interest to all.

The membership is growing steadily and all those interested in joining now are requested to either write to Frederick Fisher, Jr., 157 Wiswall road, Newton Center, or call him in the evening at DEcatur 2-4789.

NANCY WOODWARD

Announce Engagement of Nancy Woodward

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney C. Woodward of Framingham Center announce the engagement of their daughter Nancy, to Douglas W. Pope, of Newtonville, son of Mrs. Maude A. Pope of Newtonville and Mr. Arthur T. Pope of Madison, Ct.

Miss Woodward was graduated in 1946 from the University of Massachusetts, where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. Pope was graduated from Tufts College in 1945. During the war Mr. Pope served with the United States Navy in the Pacific area.

Reminds Citizens to Register By Oct. 19

The League of Women Voters of Newton has issued a statement reminding all residents that they must be registered as voters at City Hall before October 19 in order to vote at municipal elections on November 8. Although City Hall will be open extra hours for registration the week before the deadline, voters are urged to avoid the last minute rush.

Citizens over 21 who have been residents of Newton for at least six months and residents of Massachusetts for at least a year are eligible to register. Once a —REGISTER—

Bloodmobile to Be In Newton Aug. 8-9

You'll start your vacation happier when you keep that blood donating date with Red Cross before you leave town. Remember, vacation months are high accident and sickness days — and there's a bigger demand for your pint of precious blood. So, please leave that pint before you go!

The Bloodmobile will be at the Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, from one to seven p.m. Monday and Tuesday, August 8 and 9. Mrs. Hannah Levinsohn, Director of the Program, hopes all Newton people will make their date with their Red Cross because accident and sickness take no holiday and lots of folks are already out of town just when the demand is at its peak. So, call your Chapter House for your convenient appointment.

Auburndale Doctor Joins Army Reserve

C. B. Roehrig, 32 Fern street, Auburndale, Mass., has been commissioned a first lieutenant in the Medical Corps Reserve, according to an announcement from the Office of the Surgeon General, Department of the Army.

Lieutenant Roehrig, a recent graduate of the University of Maryland, was one of 255 medical school graduates to be selected for intern training in the Army's highly competitive Civilian Intern Program. Lieutenant Roehrig began his internship July 1st at Boston City Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts.

The Civilian Intern Program is designed primarily to interest young physicians in a career in the Regular Army Medical Corps. Physicians selected for training in this program will serve with —DOCTOR—

Moonlight Dance and Cruise to Be Held By Elks, August 18

Announcement of a moonlight dance and cruise down Boston Harbor to be held by Newton Lodge of Elks was announced by Michael McCarthy, chairman of the entertainment committee at the meeting of Newton Lodge last Thursday evening. The cruise on the S. S. Alertone will leave Rowe's Wharf, Boston, Thursday evening, August 18 at 8:30 and will return at 11:45.

A memorial service was held for the late Francis H. Burbank with George King delivering the eulogy.

Exalted Ruler Thomas McEnaney announced that Emmett T. Anderson of Tacoma, Washington was elected Grand Exalted Ruler at the 85th annual convention. He also announced the re-election of Thomas F. Coppinger as secretary of the Massachusetts Elks Association and the election of Dr. Edward J. O'Donoghue as a State trustee for two years.

Admitted to membership were Daniel J. Kerr, Frank H. Machlett, John J. McGrath, William R. Dwyer, Keith A. Marden, Jules D. Charbonnier and Moe Gilman. Refreshments were served by the House Committee under the direction of George Delaney, chairman.

The next meeting of the Lodge will be on August 25.

Pre-Bridal Shower Tendered Miss Barbara Halewood

A pre-bridal shower was tendered Miss Barbara Halewood of 278 Cabot street, Newtonville last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Carr of 15 Carter street, Newtonville.

Miss Halewood is to become the bride of Thomas H. Carr, Jr. on September 10 in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville.

V.F.W. Posts Here to Assist Veterans

Commander William J. Maloney of the Sgt. Eugene Daley Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has announced that plans had been completed by both the Sgt. Daley Post and the Lt. Stanton Amesbury Post of Auburndale, Frederick Joyce, Commander, for assisting Newton's World War veterans in making application for the substantial dividends on their National Service Life Insurance.

According to Commander Maloney and Joyce, the local posts are cooperating with the V. F. W. State Department in a state-wide plan to complete applications for the long awaited dividend as soon as possible.

Under the direction of the V. F. W. State Commander, William N. Burns, plans have been formulated during the past month for providing this type of service to every veteran in the city, whether he is a member of the organization or not. Members of the two local posts are being especially trained to provide the assistance in filling out these applications. As soon as these applications are received by the State Department from the Veterans Administration they will be mailed to every post from V. F. W. headquarters in the State House, sometime in August, according to the V.A.

Commander Maloney stated that trained members from his Post will be on duty at the Post home, 52 Elmwood street, Newton, day and night from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. and at the War Memorial Building in City Hall from 7:30 p.m. until 10:00 p.m., for the entire week after the forms are received and Commander Joyce will, later on, publish his Post's Headquarters for this week.

Practically every World War II veteran in Newton is eligible for this dividend, said Commander Maloney. "We fully realize what this money means to them and the economic life of the city and we are sparing no effort to get applications of veterans down to Washington as quickly as possible. We have been informed that repayment of this money, which actually belongs to these veterans, will be made on a 'first come, first served' basis. I would like to point out that all of this work will be done by trained members of both posts, who have the authority from the VA to provide this assistance. All our veterans will have to do is to come to these locations as soon as they get word that the forms have arrived."

Both commanders stated that they would notify the press as soon as they have received word from V. F. W. State Headquarters that the forms had arrived in Boston.

Broadcasts On City Costs Have Been Inaugurated

Money May Await Richard Lay Granger

A former resident of this locality may have a little sum of the welcome green stuff due him from the Federal Government, which "Uncle" is only too anxious to deliver to him. He is Richard Lay Granger, a Navy war veteran who used to live at 15 Saxon road, Newton Highlands, and who may be entitled to military leave payments.

Trouble is his present whereabouts are unknown and the money lies amouling in the coffers of the U. S. Navy at Great Lakes, Ill., according to fiscal officers of the Ninth Naval District Headquarters.

Sanguinetti Named Assoc. Councilman

Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti of 37 Waldorf road, Newton Highlands, assistant treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank, has been appointed associate councilman for the State of Massachusetts, by the national president of the American Institute of Banking, the educational section of the American Bankers Association.

He will be charged with the responsibility of organizing new chapter or study groups in those communities where no organized Institute unit exists.

He will also play an active part at the New England regional conference conducted by the A.I.B. to be held in Springfield, Mass., on August 5, 6, and 7.

Plans for featuring the Institute's history, with its theme of better banking through education, will be promulgated there, as the American Institute of Banking, the largest adult educational organization in the world, enters its Golden Jubilee year with a record membership of nearly 90,000 men and women.

Sanguinetti is a graduate of Boston University and is active in the affairs of Boston Chapter A.I.B., being past chairman of the debate, public speaking, membership, and seminar committees. He is widely known in banking circles as past president of the Savings Bank Forum of Massachusetts and past president of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Managers. He is also a past president of the Newton Lions Club.

Last Monday at 3:45 p.m. a series of Public Relations Programs over Radio Station WCRB were inaugurated under the auspices of the Municipal Research Library. Harold T. Pillsbury, Director at Newton City Hall. They plan to bring to the citizenry of Newton pertinent information concerning the Newton City Government, and that What, Where and How of matters pertaining to the functions and costs of our City Government in all these phases.

The first broadcast introduced Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health for the City of Newton, under whose direction Newton has become nationally known in Public Health achievement. They anticipate on subsequent Mondays, at the same time, on "The Bill Sherman Goes Calling Program," to acquaint and educate our Newton citizens with the 24 departments and 14 boards whose functions make our City tick well, all of whom are responsible to the City's Chief Executive, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood.

These broadcasts will embrace subjects of first interest first that our citizens may have more complete information, which will result in their improved opinions, judgement, conclusions and decisions.

Next Monday Mr. James P. Reynolds, Agent for the Public Welfare Board, will discuss "Public Welfare."

The following Monday, August 15, Mr. C. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner, will discuss "Recreational Matters."

State Many Endorse Swimming Pools

Speaking of swimming and wading pools for Newton, due to the pollution of the Charles River beaches at Allison, Ware's Cove and Newton Upper Falls, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood's office is now being "flooded" by post cards from Newton citizens endorsing the building of a pool at Albemarle playground as sponsored by Harry Gath Jr., candidate for alderman from Ward 2. The "flood" of post cards is in addition to the hundreds of signatures Mr. Gath has obtained on the city-wide petitions which will be presented to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen previous to their August meeting.

Will Your Life Insurance be TAXED?

Life insurance paid to your wife under so-called "optional modes" of settlement may be taxed at your death, or it may be tax free, depending on the terms of your policies.

Review your policies with your lawyer and insurance underwriter. You may be able to save thousands of dollars in taxes for your family.

At the same time, review the plans you have made for the distribution of all your other property. Your life insurance is merely one part of an overall estate plan.

If we can be of assistance to you, your life underwriter, and your attorney in the practical and financial aspects of such a review, call on us.

Fatally Injured While Riding Horse

Barbara E. Bilek, 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Bilek of 8 Manitoba road, Waban, was fatally injured at a riding school in Natick Wednesday when the horse she was riding suddenly shied and bolted throwing her from the saddle. The girl's foot became caught in the stirrup as she fell and she was dragged and kicked by the horse. She died a short time later at the Leonard Morse Hospital, Natick.

The girl was attending a day school in Holliston and with two other children was receiving riding instructions at the stable. According to officials at the stable the horse she was riding was one of the gentlest in the stable and a favorite of the little girl.

Receives Arsenal Award Second Time

James J. Fay of 52 Schofield drive is the first employee in the history of Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, to have ever received for a second time the coveted Department of the Army Commendation for Meritorious Civilian Service, it was announced by Colonel Carroll H. Detrick, Commanding Officer of the Arsenal. The award is one of the highest which can be received by a civilian employee of the Army. Mr. Fay received the award for outstanding supply work during 1948, which resulted in savings in excess of $100,000 for the National Military Establishment.

Mr. Fay received his award at a special ceremony at the Arsenal, during which Colonel Detrick, Commanding Officer, lauded his outstanding performance of duty during his thirty-four years at the Watertown Arsenal. Mr. Fay is a graduate of Suffolk Law School, Boston, is Chief, Supply Division at the Arsenal.

After only one look at an existing powder mill, Paul Revere was able to build a duplicate, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Eddy Family Assn. To Meet Saturday

The Eddy Family Association will hold its annual reunion at Rebekah Hall, Swansea, Saturday, at 11 a.m. with the Rev. John Shady Franklin, Brooklyn, N. Y., speaking on the subject, "The Price We Pay." Following a picnic lunch at 12:30 and the address the group will visit the Old Eddy Burial Ground nearby.

Top project before the Association this year is the preparation of a second supplement to the 1930 Genealogy, "The Eddy Family in America," bringing up to date genealogical data concerning thousands of Americans living today who are descended from John and Samuel Eddy. Pilgrims who came to Plymouth in 1630, and featuring the war records of members of the family. Mrs. Ruth Story Eddy of Providence, R. I., is the Genealogist. Robert Devereux Eddy of Winchester is national president and Mrs. James Williamson Eddy of Natick is secretary of the Association. Miss Ruth Bosworth Eddy of Swansea is local chairman.

During the recent war the featured speaker, Rev. John Shady Franklin, a former Newton clergyman and publisher, served as chaplain with the 101st Infantry at Camp Edwards and in the Pacific with the 182nd Infantry and other units of the Americal Division. For the past three years he has been pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the leading Baptist churches in that state. While pastor at Lincoln Park Church in West Newton he organized the Newton Ministers' Association and was especially active in youth work and community service. He was moderator of the Boston West Baptist Association. He still retains membership in Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and Newton Post No. —EDDY—

Red Cross Chapter Chairman Gives Report On Activities

This is a report of your Chapter Chairman of the activities of your Chapter:

1. Mrs. Frances B. Harris, our Executive Director, has accepted the position of Executive Director of the Newport, R. I. Chapter and will leave us on September 15th. We all are very sorry to see Mrs. Harris leave as she has done a marvelous job here, but we congratulate her upon her referral to Newport, which need the help of a good executive director, and from a financial standpoint, it is much better for Mrs. Harris.

We have written the Area Office for referrals, which is the proper procedure, and I have appointed Vice Chairman John Wheelock and Chairman of Volunteer Services Mrs. Bates to act with me in interviewing those who will be referred to us and later will call a meeting of the Executive Committee to make the final decision regarding a new executive director for our Chapter.

National Convention

Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Dan Lewin, Ann Doyle, Philip K. Brown, Mrs. Frances B. Harris, Chapter Chairman.

Mrs. Keyes, who is Chairman of our College Activities, was invited by National as their guest, together with one other lady from Florida, to represent the entire program of College Activities, and Mrs. Keyes did a marvelous job.

Mr. Philip K. Brown, our Public Information Chairman, was invited by National to be on the Public Information Forum and we are proud of the work that Mr. Brown did. Mrs. Brown accompanied Mr. Brown as his guest.

Dan Lewin, our Junior representative, was invited by National as their guest to be the moderator of a Junior Red Cross forum and, as usual, Dan did a dandy job.

Miss Ann Doyle represented our Junior Program and was chosen by the Junior Council.

Miss Adelaide Ball, who is Vice Chairman of Volunteer Services, attended all the meetings and has brought back with her much information that will be of benefit to our Chapter.

Mrs. Harris, our Executive Director, and your Chairman, attended all the meetings and three special meetings on programs relative to Chapter activities and we feel that a great deal was accomplished.

We are proud of our program and the National Organization has frequently indicated their appreciation of our active Chapter.

Blood Program

Your Newton Chapter is carrying on its share of the Blood Program week. The Bloodmobile visits our Chapter House many times a year and through the excellent work of Chairman John Wheelock and the Director, Mrs. Hannah Levensohn, the results have been exceptionally good. A total of 1,083 pints of blood in the form of plasma, Gamma Globulin (Measles serum) and whole blood, or $19,918.00 in monetary value were furnished to hospitals, physicians, and residents in the Newton Chapter jurisdiction from March 1, 1948 to December 31, 1948 by the National Red Cross Blood Program. Our people are recognizing the fact that Red Cross furnishes blood without cost to anyone in our city regardless of creed, color, or financial standing. We have calls throughout the day and calls throughout the night. Just last week a call came at 3 o'clock in the morning and the blood was furnished. Our Executive Director, Mrs. Levensohn and Mrs. Chase, Home Service Director, are on twenty-four hour duty as far as calls are concerned.

Nursing Services

In June a graduation was held for Home Nursing class members and 252 certificates were awarded. This included 17 fathers.

Home Service

Home Service case load is somewhat lower; however, requests for furloughs and other needs continue to come in at all hours of the day and night.

Junior Red Cross

Junior Red Cross is busy with the Wellesley Training Centre and this is the second year for this project, which is conducted by the National Organization for the purpose of youth leadership training.

Volunteer Services

Hours for the year total 26,000. When you consider that last year's figures of 27,000 included 3,500 hours of disaster service, it shows that this has been an unusually fine year for the Chapter—the number of volunteers, too, has increased. Non-volunteer service hours, such as Junior Red Cross adults, College Activities, First Aid and Water Safety total 31,159; this makes a total of over 57,000 volunteer hours for the Chapter for the year ending June 30, 1949.

Water Safety

Water Safety is conducting a program for 1400 young people. Transportation is furnished to Crystal Lake and all reports indicate a busy season.

Fund Campaign

During March, which is Red Cross month, there were so many other drives that as a result we reached only 94% of our quota; however, more than 1500 workers assisted in this year's fund campaign and the entire organization was a splendid one. Mr. Douglass B. Francis was overall Chairman of the Fund Campaign.

The above is only a sketchy report of the activities of your Newton Red Cross Chapter and we wanted you to have this report in order to be thoroughly informed that you may acquaint your friends with our activities and the service we render.

Due to careful economy we were able to save $3,000.00 on this year's expenses without decreasing service. In planning next year's expenses we have managed to reduce our budget by $2,708.00. This has been possible because of the splendid co-operation of all services.

Annual Meeting

There will be our usual Annual Meeting in October and I would like to have your suggestions as to how you would like this handled. Should we have a dinner which entails some expense, or would you prefer an open meeting at the Newton High School with a pageant, if this could be worked out, showing services rendered and invite everyone to come and be our guests; or would you prefer an annual business meeting, election of officers, etc., at the Chapter House with refreshments served afterwards. Any suggestions

Interesting Data on the Boston-Newton Co.

I have enclosed two copies of newspaper clippings. One from the Newton Graphic in 1896. The other from the Oakland Tribune 1949. The latter will tell the story of my historical endeavor.

The men of the Boston-Newton Company of 1849 proved to be most excellent examples of the New England way of life which in turn has made the history of that group a most fascinating project.

In all we have five diaries. The Gould and Staples Diaries that pertain to the overland journey to California. The Burt and Locke family diaries that pertain to California life of these members from 1855-1900. The fifth one, the diary of John Allen Gould of Walpole, Massachusetts, father of Charles Gould. This diary contains information about the 1849 Company as well as excerpts of letters from his son in the California gold mines.

Five miles north of Fairbury, Nebraska, is a monument of Quincy granite, marking the "Oregon Trail" and the burial place of George Winslow a member of the Boston-Newton Company who died enroute. Embodied in the granite is a slab of red sandstone on which Jesse Winslow and David Staples inscribed Winslow's epitaph.

Through the efforts of the Boston-Newton Company of 1949, a marker will be placed at Shingle Springs, California, (near Sacramento) where a significant incident took place on the last night the men were on the trail.

There are descendants of some of these men in Newton and for that reason, I thought this information might interest you.

Cordially,

Jessie Gould Hannon.

The Boston-Newton Co.

The Boston-Newton Company which came to California, in 1849, as you shall see in this story by Jessie Gould Hannon, descendant of one of the men, was in many ways unusual. It never broke up; it never quarreled; no member cursed or drank; and its business methods returned profits. Standing room only at the Boston-Albany Station on the morning of April 16, 1849, marked that day as an important one for the group of young men engaged in leave-taking, the roughing it clothes in which the men were clad as well as the stack of luggage which was piled alongside a heap of saddles and rolled-up tents, foretold a trip of adventure. Adventure was in the air. It was everywhere one hundred years ago. The Boston-Newton Company was bidding farewell to the New England States. The Gold Rush was on. Twenty-five selected men from Boston and Newton signed their names to a contract and then proceeded in a body to a Newton Church to receive a sermon of admonition and warning. They were: Milo J. Ayer, Benjamin Burt, Robert Coffee, Harvey W. Dickenson, Daniel Easterbrook, Benjamin C. Evans, Walton C. Felch, Charles Gould, J. A. Hough, D. J. Locke, M.D., Brackett Lord, J. F. Loring, Thomas McGrath, W. H. Nichols, Harry Noyes, S. D. Osborn, David J. Staples, Fred Staples, Albin C. Sweetzer, George Thompson, John White, Lewis Whittier, Edwin Wilson, George Winslow and Jesse Winslow. It was a long overland journey from Boston to California that consumed five months of travel by train, steamboat, covered wagons and muleback, arriving at Sutters on September 27th. They were a well organized and a well financed group and arrived in California with the same officers elected at Newton and with no division of men, the only overland company to hold that distinction. Each man also had cash in his pockets. No liquor was used by the company and swearing was taboo; the Sabbath was observed by resting their animals. A two-year supply of merchandise was shipped via the Horn on the bark Helen Augusta. When the company disbanded in October of that same year, this merchandise was sold at auction in Sacramento bringing between four and five times the amount paid for it.

Descendants Organize
Descendants of those Massachusetts men have organized the Boston-Newton Company of 1949. Reading the Gould and Staples diaries and memoirs left by others members of the original company, inspired a granddaughter of Charles Gould to organize the 1949 group. In late September of this year a festival will be held in commemoration of that group of adventurers who crossed the plains in search of gold. A group of men who, from the moment they set out, attracted attention because of the character and deportment of the company as a whole. It will be an event that will aid in perpetuating the part the Boston-Newton Company took in the Great Trek and their later participation in California history.

For history, the Boston-Newton Company has left written records of interesting information and exciting events. For tradition, inspiring anecdotes that sparkle with idealism and patriotism. Vexations came to them as well as one great sorrow. Too, there were moments of great anxiety, of thrills and exultation. None of the flavor has been lost in the long years those tales have been stored away. The Gould Diary, a little brown book with light blue pages, still holds wild flowers pressed there while on the Great Trek — flowers that have not faded in one hundred years. What better occasion to make those stories live again and to press new flowers than in California's Centennial year? The known descendants number five children of the pioneer group, many grandchildren down to great-great ones living in the Bay area and Sacramento and Stockton areas. Other descendants are scattered throughout California and in other states. The chairman of the 1949 group is Clyde Engle of Oakland, and co-workers are David Staples Painter, Sr., of San Mateo, Mrs. D. F. Dozier of Sacramento and Mrs. Jessie Gould Hannon of Berkeley who is also historian.

Benjamin Burt, a California pioneer, and a member of the Boston and Newton Joint Stock Association, has passed over the river. He died on the 14th of October at his home in San Jose, California.

He was the son of Dea. Benjamin Burt of Freetown, Mass., and a brother of Mrs. Noah S. King and Mrs. David Hall of Newton Centre. He was a graduate of the State Normal School of Bridgewater, Mass., and just before starting for California was engaged in teaching school at Provincetown, Mass.

The Newton members of this association were Brackett Lord, D. S. Staples, Jesse Winslow, Charles Gould, George Winslow, Milo J. Ayer, W. H. Nichols, N. B. Loring, John F. Staples, and Robert Coffey. Dr. Dean J. Locke of New Hampshire, a prominent member, died in California several years ago.

The association was composed of 25 members, each of whom contributed $300. Jesse Winslow of Newton Upper Falls was the treasurer and the oldest member of the company. Few of the members still survive. It may be interesting to the residents of Newton of nearly half a century to live over again those days when these brave, noble, ambitious young men in the face of toil, suffering and uncertainty left friends and positions in the East in search for gold.

It may also interest the present generation to know something concerning the gold fever of 1849, and how emigrants got to California in those days. We all know something about the intense excitement of the presidential campaign which we have just passed.

The news from the "gold diggings" was about as eagerly sought as election prospects have been. Everybody was interested and excited, and that too, all over the country. The subject of gold was upon the lips of the young and of the old, but the land of gold was thousands of miles away and no railroad had been built across the country. How could our gold seekers get there? Some parties took the voyage of 15,000 miles in sailing vessels around Cape Horn; other parties went to the Isthmus of Panama and ran their chance of getting passage in a sailing vessel up the Pacific Coast.

But the Boston and Newton Joint Stock Association decided that they would take the almost unknown overland route after shipping their baggage and supplies around Cape Horn. They left Newton the latter part of April for Independence, Missouri, where they were to make preparations for the 2000 miles of prairie and mountain travel. In passing through St. Louis one of the newspapers said of them, "No finer looking or nobler set of men have yet passed since they have been in our city proves them to be men of the true grit for an enterprise like this, every one of them being a strict follower of the soundest laws of temperance."

From St. Louis to this place we were annoyed by robbers. A member of our company while asleep on the cabin floor had his pocket rifled of $50.00. We now keep regular guard in camp; have two dogs with us. We think of taking with us a Spanish interpreter. We find the gold fever is on the increase as we go West. From three-fourths to seven-eighths of those on the route are temperance, steady men; ministers, doctors, and all classes of respectable citizens.

As we are obliged to travel on the Sabbath up the Missouri we had preaching by a Calvinist. This was the first Sabbath on which we traveled and it will be the last one. We shall keep the Sabbath as we would at home in New England. We are now 2000 miles from Boston, half way to San Francisco."

After spending about two weeks in Independence the company was ready to start on the 17th of May. They had purchased tents, four wagons, (one having springs in which to carry the sick, if need be), also forty mules and six horses. Three hundred pounds of provisions to each man were taken, but more than that was needed. They averaged about 20 miles a day, resting Sundays. Ox-teams went slower. Other companies joined them in traveling for protection from Indians. Among them was that of William Jackson's son Edward, of Newton.

About one hundred persons usually traveled together. The Indians came around and wanted to trade, but were always peaceable when they saw strength of numbers. The men alternately walked and rode. Their property was guarded at night.

The first sad incident of the trip occurred near Fort Kearney on the Platte river. Here it was that George Winslow died after a few days of sickness. Mr. Burt, in a letter written at the time, described his burial in these words: "No useless coffin enclosed his breast, but wrapping his sheet around him after reading Scripture and having prayer, we consigned his lifeless clay to the cold ground, beyond the reach of the howling wolves around. How little do we know what is before us! In the midst of life we are in death."

Some of the way—grass was short as there were many thousands of emigrants on the road, but the mules could get along with very little food. For this reason they sold their horses before crossing the great 60-mile desert beyond Salt Lake City.

They spent a few days at this place boarding with the inhabitants. The city then contained 17,000 people, the houses being one story, and all being built of logs and clay.

Before entering the desert the party abandoned their wagons and packed their mules with food and water and grass. Many persons with ox-teams had to abandon everything and go on foot. The next climb was the Sierra Nevada. It was successfully made in the absence of rain or snow, which would cause the mules to slip.

After travelling 133 days from Independence the company arrived at Sacramento City on the 27th of September all in good health and spirits. The first thing to do was to get their baggage and supplies at San Francisco.

This was work of several days as the only way to go up and down the Sacramento river was by a sailing vessel, going when the wind and the tide favored. Mr. Burt was dispatched to get these goods. He said that he suffered more in returning from San Francisco than at any time during the overland trip. Another sadness occurred soon after the arrival of the company in California and before their dissolution.

Dr. Lock went prospecting in the mines and was taken sick. Mr. N. B. Loring of Newton went to his assistance and was taken sick with lung fever and died.

Mr. Burt had to announce to Mrs. Loring the melancholy news of her husband's death. Most of the emigrants to California intended to go to the "diggings" as soon as possible after arriving at Sacramento. That was the kind of business that nearly all had in mind. The nearest mines were about 30 miles from Sacramento. San Francisco was down the river 150 miles from Sacramento.

The rainy season came on earlier than usual in 1849, and there are about 5000 emigrants here, and 10,000 at St. Joseph's. Some who have been here quite a long time, have wasted their money in drinking and gambling and will return.

All's Sunshine At Longwood

by LEE TYLER

The breaking of the water mains in Newton recently sent me scurrying over to Longwood Cricket Club to find out how it was affecting those 32 velvety grass courts that will be the object of world attention in two weeks when the National Doubles start. I found Charlie Chambers, the genial pipe-smoking superintendent greengrasskeeper on the club porch.

"How are the courts?" I asked.
"Very good for the weather conditions."
"Well, how's the water shortage affecting you?"
Charlie puffed. "Won't allow any members to play if it gets any drier, but the situation's improving, so we may not have to do anything drastic after all. It was a scare, though." Having visions of his beloved babied courts frying up, he puffed longer.

The important grandstand court, nestled on the corner of Hammond and Boylston streets, is safely on the Brookline side so, even during Newton's crisis, it could be sprinkled liberally with Brookline water. The grass, even on the much-used clubhouse courts, looks good. It's because they're never allowed to be any other way, not if it's humanly possible. "There's never an end to a season here," says Charlie. "When one summer's over, I start getting the courts ready for the next year."

He has eight muscular helpers who take turns working on shifts with him from eight to five. If you get up early enough, you'll see them out rolling the grass, "spanking" it, getting the sprinklers going, marking, and finally putting up the nets. And then at night getting it all undone again. To say it's a full-time job is putting it mildly. "During the drought season," Charlie says, "some of us come back at seven and work 'till 10, or midnight if the grass looks bad."

I asked him how he could see to work at night. "Street-lights," he said. "They give enough light. And if we see a burned patch of grass the next afternoon, we know then that we missed a spot."

This is Charlie's 49th year of service at Longwood, his 17th as overall caretaker. His father, John Isaac ("Ike") Chambers, an English cricket player turned tennis-devotee, was greengrasskeeper while Charlie was growing up at the club. As Charlie says, "First I pushed a broom, then I graduated to serving tea to the 1903 British Davis Cup Team. That was the beginning of things."

Before "Ike" passed away, he handed his silver watch engraved with greetings from that same team over to Charlie for safe-keeping. He's never without it.

1903 was the third year of Davis Cup competition. "Now, back then we had tennis," he boasts. The club was at the corner of Brookline and Longwood avenue (where the Winsor School is now) and Charlie used to watch championship matches from on top of the roof. "I've got the player's view now," he grins. "Right on court."

"But those were the years," he repeated. The National Singles were at Newport and Longwood had the Longwood Bowl in international competition in July, and the National Doubles, besides the Davis Cup in August.

"You were here then, Charlie?" Mr. Samuel A. Fitch of Auburndale, who'd joined us, asked the question.

"Why, sure I was," he answered, "and when there were two Longwoods operating at the same time too. That was when they decided to move the club to its present location, and it took three years to get everything adjusted."

We asked him how he thought the early players would stack up against today's Shroeder, Talbert, Parker. "Farnard and Mac Whitman—Hackett and Alexander—the Wrenn brothers and Beals Wright—Richards and Tilden," he mused. "They'd lick 'em. But you never can tell about this game, you never can tell."

Charlie, ordinarily a genial, patient man, is a "wreck," says he, during a big tournament like the Nationals. With so many different tennis temperaments active on the courts, he never knows what players will think or next, such as requesting permission to wear spikes (Charlie shuddered thinking of his sensitive grass), or heaving their rackets in a temper rage at the ground, or digging up the green at the baseline with a dragging service foot, like Drobny did last year. "Foot fault!" Charlie feels like hollering then. "Big fault!"

Suddenly he glanced up at the clock on the clubhouse tower, twisted around and looked out over his courts. "Well, been relaxing long enough. Back to the grass." And back he went.

We're inclined to think that water shortage or not, Longwood's courts have nothing to worry about under Charlie's devoted care. He'd always—somehow—found a way to keep them nourished.

Double-Duty Colander

THE NEWEST WRINKLE in picking vegetables from the backyard garden is to use a porcelain enameled colander. Take it to the garden for gathering such things as beans, beets, tomatoes and kohlrabi. As the vegetables are picked, shake the colander gently so that most of the dirt falls through the holes and stays in the garden. Then when the vegetables are brought to the kitchen, it's an easy trick to hold the colander under the faucet and wash away remaining dirt. The enameled colander has a smooth glass surface which is durable and easy to keep clean.

"Spirit" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 7.

Golden Text: "O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me. . . . Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?" (Psalms 139: 1, 7).

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"The king shall joy in thy strength, O Lord; and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice! . . . Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own strength; so will we sing and praise thy power!" (Psalms 21: 1, 13).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"Let us feel the divine energy of Spirit, bringing us into newness of life and recognizing no mortal nor material power as able to destroy. Let us rejoice that we are subject to the divine 'powers that be.' Such is the true Science of being" (p. 249).

City, when he sold his property in order to reside in San Jose permanently.

On Saturday evening, September 27, Mr. and Mrs. Burt attended a reunion and banquet of the California Pioneers at San Jose. The occasion brought much enjoyment to the two pioneers. The next night Mrs. Burt was taken ill, pneumonia set in, and on October 7 she passed away.

Before the funeral Mr. Burt was stricken down with the same disease and died October 14, just one week after his wife's death. The two funerals were at the same hour, the same ministers officiated, the same hymns were sung and the same pallbearers were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt left four daughters, all of whom reside in California.

Recent Weddings

Halloran-Murphy

In Our Lady's Church, Newton, Saturday, July 23, Miss Alice Anna Murphy, daughter of Mr. John T. Murphy of 28 School street, Newton, became the bride of Mr. George E. Halloran, son of Mrs. John Halloran of Newtonville. Rev. John H. Quinlan performed the ceremony and a reception followed at the Hotel Commander, Cambridge.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white marquisette over satin. Her fingertip veil was caught to a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid center. Miss Louise Blakely of Newton, the maid of honor, wore orchid marquisette and carried red roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Patricia Maher of Newton and Miss Margaret Halloran of Newtonville wore gowns of pink marquisette. Mr. Paul Benger of Watertown was the best man. Mr. Daniel Welch of Newtonville and Mr. Wilfred Pouliot of Watertown served as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Halloran will make their home at 51 Kensington street, Newtonville.

Haas-Parker

In St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville Saturday, July 30, Miss Julia Bryant Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodrich Parker of Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Richard Henry Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Haas, of Newtonville. Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwell performed the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly and rose-point lace and a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of roses and stephanotis. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Walter S. McBurnie of Quincy as matron of honor who wore pink nylon marquisette with a hat of pink net and carried pink roses and blue delphinium. The bridesmaids, Miss Helen T. Parker of Newtonville, Mrs. Floyd Tremberth of Leicester, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Diane B. Baird of Newton Highlands and Miss Frances A. Smith of Wellesley Hills, were gowned alike in blue nylon marquisette with matching hats of blue net and carried pink roses and pink delphinium.

In the Church of Our Lady, Newton, Saturday, July 23, Miss Dorothy M. Cucchi, daughter of Mrs. Donald Cucchi of 122 Hawthorn street, Newton became the bride of Mr. Albert McAleer, son of Mrs. Mary McAleer of Brighton. The double ring ceremony performed by Rev. John H. Quinlan, was followed by a reception at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon marquisette trimmed with lace and a full length veil of illusion. She carried a white prayer book with an orchid. Miss Angelo Rando of Waltham, her maid of honor, wore a gown of pink marquisette and a picture hat to match and carried roses and baby's breath.

The best man was Daniel McAleer of Brighton, brother of the bridegroom. Andrew Joseph Cucchi, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. McAleer will reside in Waltham.

The bride attended the Newton schools and Mr. McAleer was graduated from the Brighton High School.

Newton Highlands

Photogenic Virginia Lee Boyer of Burnside road, whose picture appeared on the sports pages of the Boston and New York papers when she departed and arrived back in America, recently returned home from an eight weeks trip through Europe, where she participated in a number of national tennis tournaments. "I didn't win any of them," she says. "Sometimes didn't even get beyond the first round—but I had a wonderful time." Here on home ground, Virginia will compete in the National Doubles at Longwood Cricket Club the week of August 15.

the Newton's which are sorely in need of major repairs such as Pearl street. Even that construction has been "dilly-dallied" by the city administration. Now three months ahead of election, day, Mayor Lockwood decides to do something.

"The penny-wise, pound-foolish" policy of Mayor Lockwood should not fool Newton taxpayers. As I said at our meeting a few weeks ago "every street in Newton is the home-owner or rent payer's thoroughfare. I would like to ask Mayor Lockwood if he has had a complete street survey made of the definite minor or major needs for rebuilding or repairs? If he has why hasn't he announced it so every "man on the street" his own street—will know when and if some action will be taken? In my trips throughout the city in the past few weeks I have made many observations of these needs. Naturally, I'm not on every street. What I would like every home owner or taxpayer in Newton to do is to write me a letter to 26 Greenwood street, Newton Centre, and tell me definitely what the street repair needs are on his or her street; if they have complained to the proper city authorities about it; what kind of a reception or reply they get, and if they wish to expound further, what they think of the present administration's handling of the whole street repair problem? Such information will be most valuable to me when I go to the various sections of Newton in the next few weeks actively campaigning. I am convinced with such information I can have a better appreciation of what Newton taxpayers need on their streets.

"To you loyal 'Janse 49ers', I am fully confident that we can pioneer as ably through the 'mountains and prairies' of Newton for the civic betterment of all of us. Our 'prairie wagons' are our own automobiles, trucks, bicycles, even tricycles that are being constantly repaired because of a lack of street repairs."

Baked Casserole Adds That Touch To Beach Picnic

The proof of a picnic, like that of a pudding, is strictly in the eating. Fair weather, close-to-nature atmosphere and plenty of frivolity are, of course, important. But whether the affair will be a day to remember or just another outing depends on what's on the "bending board" when you call, "Come and get it!"

For a beach picnic anywhere, from California to Cape Cod, what could bait more appetites than this one of several menus in the August issue of Good Housekeeping magazine:

Beach Picnic

Casserole of Bean-and-Apple Bake (wrap in several layers of newspaper)

French-Bread slices spread with Garlic butter (to be toasted over fire)

Grilled Franks

Crisp Carrot Strips, Stuffed Celery, Radishes, Tiny Green Onions

Coffee and More Coffee

Casserole of Bean-and-Apple Bake

2 No. 2 cans red kidney beans (4 cups)

1½ cups thinly sliced, peeled, cored apples

4 slices bacon, cut in 2" pieces 1½ teasps. salt

1½ cup brown sugar

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Drain beans; reserve 2 tablesp. liquid. Arrange alternate layers of beans and apples in lightly greased 1½ qt. casserole or bean pot. Top with bacon; sprinkle with salt, sugar. Add bean liquid. Cover; bake at 350 degrees F. ½ hr. Uncover; bake ½ hour longer. Makes 6 servings.

The Veteran Asks . . .

Q.—I am a World War II veteran. In the event of acute non-service-connected illness, am I entitled to hospitalization even though I have never filed a claim of any kind with VA?

A.—You may be entitled if you meet eligibility requirements, and file an affidavit swearing you are unable to pay hospital charges. Admission will depend on the availability of a bed.

Q.—Are a widower and children of a woman veteran entitled to pension at her death?

California street, Newtonville, Mr. Gath said, "There's a familiar phrase, 'One good turn deserves another.' Hundreds of my supporters received post cards from Mayor Lockwood this week. What they said under 'remarks' is their business. But I thought I should 'call the turn' on Mayor Lockwood with a post card from Mayor Lockwood like this, 'Like many other citizens of Newton, I heartily endorse the proposal of Harry Gath Jr., that a swimming pool be constructed at the Albemarle playground. The pollution of the Charles River beaches should convince you that an acute need for such a pool exists. Other communities have such facilities. WHY NOT NEWTON? Therefore I urge you to recommend consideration of this matter at the August meeting of the Board of Aldermen.'"

"It is my understanding," said Mr. Gath, "that these post cards, signed by Newton citizens, are giving full demonstration to Mayor Lockwood regarding the need of such an installation at Albemarle playground not alone from the voters in Ward 2 but from all parts of the city. As a member of the Board of Aldermen I will be most ready to endorse similar installations in other parts of the city. It looks as if the pollution of the Charles River beaches will be ever with us as they say, 'Like death and taxes.'"

"While I am on the mention of taxes, the cost of such a swimming pool construction at Albemarle could easily be absorbed in the tax rate, not only for its initial cost but through the years when Mayor Lockwood's own recreation department turns back into the city treasury a surplus. My understanding is that they have done this for years, even while the present Mayor was the head of the finance committee of board of aldermen. Therefore, he should have a full knowledge of how Newton can finance such a plan. Further, he has the recommendation of his own recreation department and health department before him asking him for some relief from the pollution problem of the Charles River. What more does he need?"

The Eddy family roster is studied with leaders in community, state and national life. Among prominent Eddy's are Nelson Eddy, film and radio star, Major-General Mantos S. Eddy of Chicago, Dr. Sherwood Eddy of Missionary and Y.M.C.A. fame, and Dr. Walter H. Eddy of New York and Washington, foremost food authority. Names other than Eddy in the family range from Abbott to Zowatski! Leading spirit in the organization of the Association and president for many years was the late Dr. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville, internationally-known Congregationalist and missionary leader. Numerous members of the Eddy family live in this city.

News from the State House

By HELEN L. RING

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin was given a tremendous reception by both branches of the General Court when he visited the State House on Wednesday. He was introduced by the President of the State Senate, Chester A. Dolan Jr. Mr. Tobin spoke briefly. He stated that this session is the longest session ever held in the history of the Commonwealth of Mass. He continued on to praise Sen. Leslie Cutler of Needham for his duties as Representative in passing bills when he was Governor. He stated she was a good "Democrat." He then went to the House of Representatives and was introduced to the House members by Speaker Thomas J. O'Neill. As Mr. Tobin walked down the aisle it must have dawned upon him that a battle royal was in progress and he stood still in the aisle before he proceeded to the rostrum. He was finally convinced that it was quite all right to proceed. Rep. Chadwick of Winchester was speaking at the mike on the bill against racial bias in colleges and other institutions. Mr. Tobin spoke briefly. He spent a few hours at the State House visiting several departments and remained some time with Governor Dever.

Many amendments were offered to the bill to outlaw discrimination by colleges and other educational institutions. All were turned down. An amendment offered by Rep. J. Phillip Howard of Westminster, Republican was adopted on a roll call. The amendment to the proposed law would be enforced by the State Department of Education instead of the Mass. Fair Employment Practice as first intended. This would require an appropriation of $35,000 to enforce the plan. There was much opposition to the bill. Rep. Howard Whittemore Jr. and George Rawson of Newton strongly opposed the bill stating there was no discrimination whatsoever in the state. Rep. Daniel Rudsten, Dorchester, spoke in favor of the bill. He stated that Clark University of Worcester openly admitted that there was discrimination through operation of a percentage or quota system. The debate on this bill lasted several hours. If this bill is enacted into a law there would be no penalties for violation and the only means of discouraging the practices would be through advertising.

H. 1230 proposed by Sen. Richard H. Lee, and Rep. Howard Whittemore Jr., both of Newton and others was debated on the Senate floor on Monday and Wednesday. The bill calls for the exemptions allowable to individuals of $2000, shall apply in the aggregate to income from intangible and annuities, and to income from a profession, trade or business. The bill was ordered to a third reading by a roll call—20-17. Sen. Lee claimed that it would aid widows and orphans who inherit stocks, bonds and annuities and should not be dodged by the Senate. Other leaders of the bill were Sen. Evans, and Sen. Miles. Sen. Miles said it was an excellent bill and should pass. The opposition, Senators Flanagan and Peirce both stated that the state would stand to lose $3,000,000 if this bill passes. Both attacked the bill stating that the bill is a scheme to help financial pirates and stock market thieves. Sen. Peirce ridiculed the bill. He said "the poor widows and the poor orphans, that's all I hear and the poor widow and the poor orphan with $50,000 in stocks and annuities is not suffering."

The $18,000,000 tax program has been postponed again in the Senate. It may be heard in the Senate today.

A joint session was held in the House on Tuesday on the proposal levying graduated income tax. It lasted nearly six hours. Most of the time was spent in debating on amendments and roll calls. Rep. Howard Whittemore Jr. of Newton offered an amendment. It was defeated. It was ordered to a third reading on roll call, 118-102. Another joint session must take place before it is placed on the ballot.

H. 2628 was not rejected in the Senate. The bill calls for the 186 employees in the Division of Employment Security be passed under the civil service laws. Many of these people have been employed for nearly five years. They were transferred from the U. S. Employment Service. Sen. George Stanton opposed the bill. He stated there were 167 veterans in the group and they should not be allowed to take civil service and are entitled to everything the state can give them.

Sen. Richard H. Lee of Newton was reelected chairman on the Commission on Interstate Commerce for the ensuing year. The principle work now before this commission is the New England and Eastern States Conservation Conference. This includes Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Delaware and all New England states. During the past year this commission has been instrumental in getting adopted a Forest Fire Control Compact. (Former Sen. Hollis of Newton was chairman of this Commission for several years).

Health for All

Most people regard swimming as the ideal summer sport. It is good exercise and is refreshing, and brings relief from summer heat.

So it is easy to forget that swimming can be hazardous. We may not realize the dangers of swimming until we hear of a drowning, or have the unpleasant experience of a "narrow escape" in the water ourselves.

By far the greater percentage of swimming fatalities are the result of carelessness. In almost all cases they could have been avoided if a few precautions had been observed.

This may seem unnecessary advice, but anyone who likes the water, whether it be lakes, pools, rivers or the ocean, should learn how to swim. Knowing how to swim makes the water more fun, as well as less hazardous.

But even good and experienced swimmers should never go swimming alone. Accidents can happen to the best swimmers and someone else should be along—preferably a person who also swims well—to help out if anything should go wrong.

KEEPS HER PROMISE—Pretty, blue-eyed Jean Donnelly, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Donnelly of 16 Colburn St., Westwood, a former patient at the Boston Children's Hospital, vowed one year ago today that when she was cured of nephrosis (a kidney disease) she would help other sick youngsters. Jeanie, who may register in the Hospital's School of Nursing class of 1953, raised $13.85 for the Children's Medical Center building fund campaign in a door-to-door drive in her neighborhood.

Information For Veterans Questions And Answers

Q.—I was honorably discharged from the Women's Army Corps and am assured I meet eligibility requirements for Federal benefits. In case of emergency, will the Government assume my hospital expenses in a private hospital without prior VA authorization?

A.—The Government will pay for such emergency treatment in a private hospital for a service-connected ailment, or for a homeservice-connected disorder, or for treatment to prevent the interruption of vocational training under Public Law 16, provided Government facilities were not feasibly available and delay would be hazardous.

Q.—I am a World War II veteran and suffer from a non-service-connected disability. Am I entitled to an examination for my disability?

A.—No. Such service is not authorized unless required by VA in connection with adjudication of a claim for compensation or pension.

Q.—May I, a World War II veteran, have a physical check-up by VA without going to the hospital?

A.—No.

Q.—I was discharged after service during World War II and would like to know if I can get glasses through VA?

A.—You may get glasses if they are determined necessary for a service-connected disability, or if they are a necessary part of your hospital treatment or domiciliary care, or to prevent interruption of Public Law 16 vocational training.

Veterans and their dependents who desire information concerning their benefits and entitlements are invited to send inquiries to this newspaper. Their questions and the answers will be published in this column.

Rotary Club

The four new members who spoke at Monday's meeting were: Archie Whitman, Treasurer and Collector, City of Newton; Willard Pratt, Director of Public Works, City of Newton; Hugh Farrington, Personnel Director, Star Market; Herbert Chapman, Electrical Contractor.

Mr. Whitman said that the City's collection business is really big business, handling 15 million dollars a year with 14 people in the office. The City of Newton sells its own bonds and does much of its own financing in that way.

Hugh Farrington, Star Market, said that the Star Market is really a large growing institution, and that they aim and hope to build two new stores a year. They now have 400 persons in their employ. It is a good place for employees who are willing to work and grow. He said that they had hired six college men this spring and hope to hire more who want to grow with the business.

Mr. Pratt spoke on the importance of coordination between the different departments of the City, particularly the Water Commissioner, City Engineer and Street Commissioner and their departments. Each cooperation is important because of the rapid growth of the city.

Herbert Chapman talked on his recent trip to Europe and what happened to him in his Rotary connections in the British Isles. He spoke of the strong show of hospitality. The food was not up to that in America because of their difficulty in getting it. The best meals he had were in Edinburgh. In general, the Britishers were much impressed and interested in our public health programs.

Al Kreider was asked to tell about the trip he and President Al Hartshorn took around Boston Harbor under the auspices of the Boston Harbor Authority.

Welfare Load Is Increasing Here

Conditions resulting from unemployment are believed to be reflected in figures released by James R. Reynolds, director of Public Welfare, city of Newton.

The Public Welfare Department started the present year with less than 100 cases of general relief, but since then the case load has increased to 140. Expenditures of the department during the past year tell a similar story. The total expenditures for the year 1948 were $940,714, of which $279,900 was returned by federal grants, $300,000 was returned by the state and $26,000 came back from other cities and towns to reimburse the city for money expended on recipients having settlements in those cities and towns.

The net cost of the department to the city was thus approximately $319,900, which was in increase of more than $60,000 over the amount of the preceding year.

The number of cases of old age assistance in May of this year was 905, compared with 821 in the corresponding period of last year. The amount expended for old age assistance in May of this year was $58,200, while that for May, 1948, was $47,150.

In May of this year the number of cases of aid to dependent children was 151, compared to 135 in May of last year. The expenditures of aid to dependent children rose from $15,000 in May of 1948 to $17,500 in May of 1949.

Information For Vets

Q.—My husband, a World War I veteran, died of a non-service-connected ailment. Am I eligible for a pension?

A.—You may be entitled if you were married to the veteran prior to December 14, 1944; your income does not exceed the limitation established by law and your late husband's service meets the requirements of the law.

Q.—What is the time limit for filing claim for burial allowance?

A.—Claim may be filed within two years from the date of cremation or permanent burial of the veteran.

In early Greek boxing and wrestling even the breaking of bones was legal, with only biting prohibited, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

William D. Wareham Institute Speaker

William D. Wareham, 67 Canterbury road, Newton Highlands, will be one of the speakers August 8 at the afternoon session of the Office Management Institute being held at Boston University August 8, 9 and 10 sponsored by the Boston Chapter of the National Office Management Association.

Mr. Wareham, of Ernst & Ernst, Accountants, Boston, has devoted much time to office methods and procedures and will take part in a unique forum assisted by two of his associates, Mr. Ralph W. Tickets Now On Sale For Sarah Churchill & LeGallienne Shows

Tickets are now on sale for the performance of Sarah Churchill and Jeffrey Lynn in The Philadelphia Story, starting at The Wellesley Summer Theatre on August 9. Philip Barry's delightful comedy will be staged by Henry B. Williams and designed by Charles E. Rogers. Because of the great demand for tickets, the management has asked that reservations be made early. Also on sale now are the tickets for the Eva LeGallienne production of The Corn Is Green, starting the 16th of August. Reservations made now by calling Wellesley 5-0320 will receive the utmost attention.

Local Resident Is Elected to Office

John G. Aldinger of 50 Solon street, Newton Highlands, has been elected Secretary in the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

This is an organization of more than 26,000 members devoted to improving the standards of industrial accounting through education, research, and discussion. The Boston Chapter of N.A.C.A. is comprised of over nine hundred members representing a cross section of the industrial and service organizations in this area.

Mr. Aldinger's duties will include responsibilities for planning the Monthly Meetings of the Boston Chapter.

DWIGHT COLBURN

ORVILLE O. CLAPPER

Dwight Colburn Heads 1949 Salvation Army Appeal

The Newton division of the Salvation Army's Greater Boston appeal for funds, now in process of organization, is in charge of Dwight Colburn, as general chairman.

Assisting him are co-chairmen Orville O. Clapper and Walter A. Hood, and a large group of Newton men and women who will give freely of their time and energy in their determination to better last year's exceptional showing.

"Newton went 'way over the top in 1948," said Dwight Colburn. "But all of us who are working on this year's drive to provide funds for the continuation of the Salvation Army's splendid activities, are convinced that Newton people will set up another record next month. We've got to aim high; but it's been my experience that our warm-hearted citizens are solidly behind any cause as worthy as the Salvation Army."

According to Mr. Colburn, the large organization of volunteer workers necessary to do the job is rapidly shaping up. "When the drive opens, along about September 15th," he added, "we'll be ready to go into action. Many committee meetings have already been held. And every chairman has reported the spirit of their workers promises success in our efforts to put Newton well over its quota before the drive ends. That 'Newton always comes through' has been proven again and again in the past. It will again this year, I'm sure."

Polio Cases Greater Than Last Year

One hundred and eighty-three polio cases have been reported in the state compared to 153 this time last year, the state department of public health said this week. Dr. Roy F. Fenster, director of the division of communicable diseases, said "The prevalence still seems to be concentrated in the metropolitan Boston area with a few thin scattered cases in the rest of the state."

Dr. Fenster said there is "much superstition about the way polio is spread and exaggerated fear of the disease often causes unnecessary suffering and may disorganize the life of the community. Since most people have the disease entirely without paralysis, this fear for the majority is entirely unfounded."

WALTER A. HOOD

To Omit Rubbish Collections On Holidays

Householders will receive the following notice preceding the Labor Day holiday from the Newton Street Department, of which Harold F. Young is commissioner:

"Beginning at once, when normal collections of rubbish are due on holidays, there will be no collection in the particular district concerned until the regular collection day the following week."

The Street Department urges all householders to observe this notice so that there will be no confusion concerning the date of collection.

Return Home After 8000 Mile Tour

After a month's tour which included Yellowstone National Park, Glacier National Park, and a Canadian visit, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs and daughter, Constance, have returned to their home at 37 Claremont street, Newton, having covered a grand total of about 8,000 miles.

Ten days were spent with friends in Colorado Springs during which time they visited Yellowstone National Park. Traveling northward through Montana, they stopped at Glacier National Park.

Captain Marshall A. Glazier Returns From Japan

Announcement of the return to the United States of Captain Marshall A. Glazier, son of Mrs. Clarence M. Glazier, 367 Waltham street, West Newton, for subsequent reassignment to 3386 Technical Training Group, Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi, was made recently by Colonel Walter C. White, Commanding Officer of Nagoya Air Force Base, where Captain Glazier was stationed for duty with the Fifth Air Force, the occupational Air Force for Japan.

Captain Glazier is a graduate of Newton High School, Newtonville, Mass., class of 1929, and attended Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana. He served in the European Theater of Operations from July 1943 to August 1945. Previous to coming to Japan he was stationed at Biggs Field, Texas.

Arriving in Japan in August 1946, Captain Glazier was assigned to the Fifth Air Force and subsequently reassigned to Hq. & Hq. Service Company, 930 Engineer Aviation Group, Nagoya, Japan.

Abandon Two Stolen Autos - One Wrecked

Two stolen cars were abandoned in Newton early Sunday, one of which was wrecked when the thieves hit several raised man-holes on a street under construction. The occupants of the other car failed to stop when hailed by Newton police, and left the car in a driveway and escaped before the police car could catch up to them.

Patrolman Walter Drews spotted an automobile with Florida license plates driving along California street toward Washington street. Becoming suspicious of the three occupants, two boys and a girl, in the car, he left his police prowl car and called to them to stop.

Instead of stopping, the car went around the corner into Rustic street, parked in a driveway of a house on the street, and its occupants escaped.

Shortly afterwards, police received a call that two young boys had driven a car on to Pearl street which was under construction. They had wrecked the front end by slamming into several raised man-holes, and when the car stopped, the boys leaped out and ran away.

They were reported a short time later by Charles Greene of 88 Walnut park, Newton. He said they tried to start his car, but he had chased them off.

Paul S. Rich Putting On Active Campaign

On June 16, Paul S. Rich of 278 Franklin street, Newton, announced that he would be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7 in the coming November election. His nomination papers were completed and filed at City Hall in a matter of days and with that has begun an intensive campaign to acquaint all Newton voters with his reasons for seeking office, and the privilege of representing them on the Board of Aldermen for the next two years.

Mr. Rich will celebrate his thirty-second birthday this month, and as a young, progressive and sincere man intends to justify the confidence of many enthusiastic by conducting an aggressive and victorious fight for a place on the Board of Aldermen. He says that the results of next week's special meeting of the Board will give ample proof to all citizens just what he will be up against next November, and it is his belief that what ward 7 particularly needs is less secret deals and alliances, and more sincere and forthright speaking from the ward's elected representatives.

Mr. Rich is married and has two young daughters. He first came to Newton with his parents when but ten years of age.

Health Dept. to Condemn Unsanitary Refuse Containers

Uncovered garbage is a breeding haven for disease-carrying flies and rats and imperils the health of the city and encourages the spread of infantile paralysis, Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health asserted this week.

To eliminate it, he announced that Health Department inspectors and refuse collectors soon will place red warning labels on all unsanitary refuse containers. Householders then will be expected to replace them with sanitary garbage cans.

The red labels bear the warning "This Container is Condemned for the Use of Garbage." Such condemned containers must be replaced with approved containers including galvanized steel garbage cans, which have rust resistant bodies and close-fitting covers to thwart flies and rats.

Covered galvanized steel garbage cans are recommended to eliminate this primary source of food for flies, rats and other vermin. They offer a practical means of preventing disease by starving the carriers of disease, and eliminating their feeding and breeding areas.

Coin Boxes Being Distributed Here

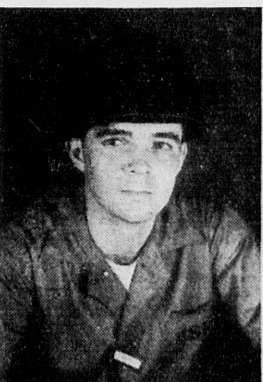

The Massachusetts Mayors' Association is conducting a special program to distribute coin boxes for the new Children's Medical Center, Boston. It is planned to place these boxes in retail stores and other public places throughout each city. The Honorable Theodore R. Lockwood, Mayor of Newton, heads the committee in this city. Distribution will start about the fifteenth of August.

The Children's Medical Center is an especially worthy project. Thousands of critically ill children are pleading, "Brother, can you spare a dime?" You won't turn them down, will you?

Daughter of Lieut. And Mrs. William Fitzgerald Rescued

The annual vacation of Fire Lieutenant and Mrs. William Fitzgerald, of 10 Chapel street, Newton, almost ended on a tragic note at Nantasket Beach, Tuesday afternoon, because Martha Fitzgerald, 10, one of five children in the family, won a plea with her daddy to let her have one more swim before supper.

Less than two minutes after Lieutenant Fitzgerald had given in to the pleas of the little girl she was the central figure in a life and death battle by life-guard John "Kewpie" Kilroy, famed Boston College football star and Louis Lipetz, a swimmer, against a heavy surf and a strong undertow to save her from drowning more than 100 yards off shore.

Leaving the side of her daddy, Martha ran to the end of the shore line and thence into the water just as a huge breaker crashed onto the beach.

The wave knocked Martha to the beach beneath the water. Then she was caught in an undertow that spun her around and finally carried her towards the open sea.

The girl's plight was quickly observed by both Lipetz, who lives at 321 Nantasket avenue, Nantasket, and Kilroy who was seated atop his life guard lookout tower on the beach approximately 50 feet away.

Lipetz had just come out of the water and was walking up the beach when he was attracted by the screams of several women and the sight of Kilroy leaping from his tower.

He turned around just in time to see the form of Martha being carried out toward the sea.

Plunging into the water in advance of Kilroy he battled the strong incoming tide, the huge

A student of Boston College, Gallant is being given intensive instruction in drills, tactics and weapons. His time is divided between classroom lectures, field problems and demonstrations. Several days are spent on the rifle range where weapons such as the Garand rifle, carbine and pistol are fired. For the final three weeks, he will move from his modern barracks to the camps of the Quantico reservation for training under field conditions.

Reservists Have Own Good Neighbor Idea

Sergeant First Class Robert J. Kinchla and Corporal Walter R. Pitt, neighbors living on Wildwood avenue in Newtonville, are proving themselves good neighbors to their associates in the Organized Reserve Corps. Sergeant Kinchla, who attends Boston University, and Corporal Pitt, who attends Reimsalaer Polytechnic Institute, are spending the long college summer vacation at the Boston Army Base, helping local reservists prepare their units for this summer's encampments.

As student veterans of World War II, Sergeant Kinchla and Corporal Pitt realized that the lessons of the battlefield and the classroom all add up to one thing—preparedness. In China and Korea, Sergeant Kinchla saw the price of weakness, while in Italy, Corporal Pitt saw the fruits of dictatorship.

James P. Reynolds In Radio Talk Outlines Procedure Of Public Assistance

Four categories of public assistance with which the City of Newton is concerned namely: Old Age Assistance, Aid To Dependent Children, General Relief and Aid Granted at the City Infirmary were discussed by James P. Reynolds, Agent for the Board of Public Welfare in the second of a series of radio broadcasts originating at Newton City Hall over Station WCRB at 3:45 Monday afternoon.

In welcoming Bill Sherman, Special Events Director of Programs of WCRB, Harold T. Pillsbury, Director of the Municipal Research Library, introduced Mr. Reynolds to the radio audience as the man who for the citizenry of Newton directs whatever financial aid or social services that may be needed to help keep the home together and make it all it should mean.

Mr. Reynolds spoke as follows:

"The Newton Board of Public Welfare is responsible under State Law for all public assistance granted in this City, except that given under the Veterans' Program. There are four types of assistance rendered: 'Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, General Relief, and Aid Granted in the City Infirmary. Two of these, namely, Old Age Assistance and Aid to Dependent Children, are subsidized by both the State and Federal Governments. The Commonwealth also has financial responsibility for certain General Relief cases.

"A brief examination of Welfare Department expenditures and income for the year 1948 will show that against the total cost of public relief in Newton for last year, which was $941,000.00, there was an income from Federal, State and other City Governments of $621,000.00. This in simple figures means that Newton's share of financial responsibility was only $320,000.00 or only 34 percent of the total cost.

"Whereas all public relief is given on a need basis in the Old Age Assistance Program a person may have up to $300.00 in resources or savings accounts. To be eligible for Old Age Assistance there are three primary essentials, all of which require definite proof: One must be a citizen, be 65 years of age or over, and have resided for three out of the last nine years in Massachusetts, one of these being the last full year. At present there are 900 Old Age recipients in Newton receiving an average monthly grant of each month, the checks being mailed directly to the home of the recipient.

"Aid to Dependent Children is public assistance based on need, which provides a monthly cash allowance for the support of Dependent Children under 16 years of age or under 18 years of age

Taxpayers' Ass'n. Reviews City Gov't. and Its Future

In a comprehensive report to the members of the Newton Taxpayers' Association issued this week, Lorenzo F. Muther, Jr., executive secretary, raises certain pertinent questions relative to the local city government and its costs. The purpose of the report, the Association states, is to obtain opinions from its members regarding many phases of the city government, in the hope that the Association "may be guided in its specific recommendations during the coming year." The report, as issued, is as follows:

Municipal Debt

The recent danger of a drop in Newton's credit rating from triple A to double A points up the issue of municipal debt.

The total debt of the city jumped from $4.7 million to $8.2 million in the year and a half between December 31, 1947 and June 30, 1949. This $3.5 million of new debt represents a 74% increase.

At present $1.3 million of the increase is due to the Oak Hill Park project and $1.5 million is due to borrowings for public buildings, mostly schools. Sewers and streets account for the balance of our new debt.

Bear in mind that the great increase in our debt has come from the careful work of the Planning Board, the Mayor and Aldermen. It is part of an over all capital improvement program which involves about $2 million more of borrowings yet to be made.

Whatever we may think of the city's policy during the war years—we kept low tax rates instead of building up a post-war project fund—we are now faced more urgently with the problem of how far we should go in financing new capital structures and improvements by borrowing rather than from the tax levy.

The danger in a high debt level is in its inflexibility. More than one city has learned that debt repayments must still be made even though valuations and other revenue sources have been curtailed just when special payments such as for relief cannot be cut back.

Now, while Newton is enjoying booming increases in new valuation, would seem to be the least painful time to give serious consideration to adopting a policy more closely related to the pay-as-you-go principle. What do you think?

Land and Valuation

The municipal taxes on real estate and personal property are by far the largest source of city revenue. They produce between two-thirds and three-quarters of the money we spend. Thus Newton's valuation, upon which these taxes are levied, lies at the heart of the city's well being, and how we use our land and keep up its value is of premier importance.

In 1947 this Association pointed out that even with a valuation of over $2000 per capita, the steadily increasing cost and demand for municipal services would affect that base figure. Both residential and commercial property has been revalued now and we have enjoyed a heavy increase in new construction. Our valuation base of over $2000 per capita has been maintained.

It does not appear, however, that our present rate of increased valuation—$12 million in 1948—will be sustained much longer. Our population still will grow. Therefore it becomes pertinent to be as carefully selective in the uses to which we now put our developed and undeveloped land as it is possible for municipal authority to be. Put another way, if we are to maintain our population-valuation ratio, we should strive to realize on at least $8000 worth of new valuation for each new family of four coming into Newton as a single residence family.

An alternative, or supplement, is to develop multi-family units of such a type that the cost of services required of the city will be less per family in those units. Our report of May, 1948 covered this situation, and now the city has hired Prof. Adams of M.I.T., chairman of the Cambridge Planning Board, to go over our zoning regulations again. The purpose is to explore the possibilities of increasing the areas where multi-family units wisely can be erected.

Leaving aside the question of further business development, Prof. Adams' inquiry opens up the whole question of the zoning laws and their enforcement, or lack of enforcement, in the city. The Chamber of Commerce has done considerable work on the redevelopment of older structures in Newton and has a pamphlet on it.

On the question of allowing variances in present zones your Aldermen are divided. Some believe in a rigid application of the zoning principle; others take the position that if the neighbors do not object after receiving their notification, the variance should be granted.

User Payments for Municipal Services

How far should the general property taxpayer finance special uses of municipal services and how much should the user contribute? This question is important because although Newton's valuation ratio has been maintained, our ballooning budgets have forced up the tax rate by more than 33% since 1945.

Thus the pattern of a million dollars a year increase in operating costs was continued this year. So Newton now has gone from a five million dollar operating cost in 1945 to a nine million dollar one in 1949.

The general taxpayer is doing his part all right, but the search for new revenues becomes of increasing importance. An increase in user payments could help.

A specific example of user payment is the parking meter. A complete off street parking program for Newton will cost well over $500,000. Should the general taxpayer assume all of that burden? Or, as we develop areas, should we erect parking meters and let the motorist not only help himself to better traffic conditions but also contribute to the cost of a municipal expenditure his presence has made necessary and desirable?

ANNE MARIE HALEY, of Newtonville, is having quite a time making up her mind as to just which of the multitude of Fairs she will enter her potential "blue-ribbon-winners"—"Bossy", the cow; and "Sugar", a trained pony. Anne has some help, however, from a booklet just published by the Information and Research Department of the Boston Chamber of Commerce which lists all of the New England Agricultural Fairs for the coming fair season.

At present the policy of the city is to charge the general taxpayer. While he receives some help from increased valuations on the business properties abutting the off street parking area, this aid, except in Newtonville where the Star Market constructed a new building, has not been commensurate with the cost.

In your Secretary's opinion, parking meter revenues can be properly applied to certain off street parking costs. When the program has been paid for, we may then look forward to removing the meters if that seems wise.

Should we erect parking meters? If so, under what conditions?

Other types of special municipal service which are being urged increasingly are the uses of city facilities by groups for uses not contemplated generally by the municipal tax power. Thus we have the recent request of the Marine Corps to use part of the Carr school for an electronics course, the requests of the National Guard, veterans' organizations and Our Lady's Parochial School to use the High School football field, the proposal of the Planning Board that the city build a building to house the offices of the various charitable and civic organizations in the city, and the occasional request of a private individual to use city equipment.

In each case the relation of the city to the group making the request is different. For example the city has special legal obligations to veterans' organizations, but has none toward the usual Red Feather group. Also the service asked is governed by different principles in each case. Thus the High School athletic field falls into a category different from that of a regular playground or municipal stadium, or of moveable city equipment.

Our inquiry as taxpayers can only go properly to the cost involved and the legal propriety of the use contemplated. And it should never be forgotten that these proposals usually come from regular taxpaying citizens of Newton who are helping to pay for the service requested.

But with these requests increasing in number and variety we would like your views on whether a special charge should be levied. The School Department has adopted a schedule of charges for the use of its buildings. How far should we extend that principle? And if we are to make a charge should it be a token charge, or one covering the bare cost of the service, or a rental sufficient to take care of overhead, or what?

Relation of Tax-Supported to Voluntary Services

In the opinion of your secretary the whole question of the relationship between municipal government and voluntary service organizations is one to which Newton should give thorough consideration at once. In health, public welfare and recreation particularly a great deal of overlapping can be avoided and better planning and programming result.

If you have not had the chance to look over the summary of the Greater Boston Community Survey filed last February by the group headed by Robert Cutler, we urge you to do so. Whether you reach similar conclusions or not, you will readily perceive parallels that can be drawn particularly in Newton.

Later in the year we will go into these relationships more

THOMAS R. LEAHY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine R. Leahy, 50 Halcyon Road, Newton Centre, was one of 1500 men selected from colleges and universities throughout the nation to receive commissions in the Marine Corps Reserve by attending the Platoon Leaders Class program here at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. thoroughly but meanwhile we would like you to keep the problem in mind, for it will become of increasing importance to you both as a taxpayer and as a subscriber to or member of any voluntary service organization.

Centralized Purchasing and Project Accounting

1. In the 1920's the citizens of Newton by referendum favored centralized purchasing. During the 1930's the Aldermen passed repeated resolutions in its favor. Your association began to press the matter just before the war intervened. However discounts continued to be lost, prices varied and the separate departments continued to buy on their own.

One big objection to centralized purchasing used to be that a purchasing agent would not have a purchasing base large enough upon which to make savings sufficient to justify his salary and other costs. A major factor was that he would not have any jurisdiction over school department purchases—and they bulk large.

Now, however, if Newton goes about it in the right way a purchasing agent could have jurisdiction over the price aspects of school purchases. Also since the seller's position is now more competitive, a good buyer has more opportunity than during the war to make savings.

During the past year tentative steps have been taken which can lead to integrated purchasing in Newton. Let us do all we can to encourage the progress of this long overdue change.

2. Another slow-poke development is project or cost accounting in Newton. This type of procedure has been discussed for some time, but even now it requires almost a major convulsion to discover the actual cost to the city of many of its undertakings. The lack is most apparent when a change in a given operating method is under discussion.

Perhaps the change in snow removal records brought about recently will successfully point the way to an inexpensive cost set-up. A little prod to the candidates could push us along faster.

Eva LeGallienne at Wellesley Next Week

In an extension of the Wellesley Summer Theatre season, Eldon Winkler has proudly announced the personal appearance of Eva LeGallienne the week of August 16. Miss LeGallienne, actress, director, producer, one of America's most notable women, and one of the founders of the American Repertory Theatre in New York, will star as Miss Moffat in Emlin Williams' beloved comedy, "The Corn Is Green," in performances Tuesday through Saturday.

Richard Waring who created the role of Morgan Evans in the original New York company will be featured with Miss LeGallienne. Other notable members in the supporting cast are: Dorthy Hinkley who creates the role she has played in the touring company production; Robin Craven who recently appeared with Sir Lawrence Olivier and Sir Ralph Richardson in a season of "The Old Vic"; Eva Leonard-Boyne, established English actress; and Barbara Welch who has starred with the Stanford Players in California. The production is staged by Edward A. McHugh and designed by Georges Philippe deRosier.

breakers and the undertow to reach the girl with Kilroy following in his wake.

After a 10-minute struggle the two rescuers reached the child, who had swallowed a large amount of water and was floating unconscious on the water 100 yards from shore.

In the meantime hundreds of persons who had been relaxing on the beach, including the panic-stricken father of the child, rushed to the water's edge to watch the life-and-death struggle going on out in the open water.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, the child's mother, was spared the ordeal of watching the rescue attempts and the later life saving efforts of police and firemen carried out on the beach.

She, with the other children, had left the beach to return to the family cottage to prepare supper. Martha had asked her to let her stay back on the beach with her father.

When the youngster was finally returned to the shore, Patrolman William Souza of the Metropolitan police began administering artificial respiration to Martha until the arrival of members of the Hull fire department with an inhalator.

After working over the youngster for a half hour she was revived and rushed to the first-aid room at the M.D.C. police station, where she was treated for shock and immersion by Dr. Odd S. Nielsen of Hull.

tional Park, and then on into Canada. The highlight of their trip, the Gibbs felt, was the region of Banff and Lake Louise where they stayed at a hotel set in a picturesque valley surrounded by mountains. This location provides an excellent view of the Mt. Victoria Glacier which is reported to have snow 300-500 feet deep all year round.

For sweltering Newtonites, Mr. Gibbs' comment on weather conditions at Pike's Peak may bring vicarious, if slightly ironic, relief. "It was so cold you needed overcoats."

He completed his elementary and secondary training as a member of the Newton High School class of 1936. After graduating from Suffolk Law School in 1940, and the intervening war years, during which he received an honorable medical discharge from the U. S. Army Air Force, Mr. Rich attended Northeastern Law School and took review courses at Boston University Law School; all the while holding down responsible positions with two large national food organizations, doing traffic and credit work. He was admitted to practice in 1947, and maintains law offices at 73 Tremont street, Boston.

Mr. Rich has always been very active in sports both in this city and throughout New England, and at present, is about to defend the city tennis championship he regained last year. He takes great interest in all young peoples activities and will prove most helpful to the Recreation Department and all parents of youth when he takes his place on the Board of Aldermen.

Mr. Rich is alarmed with the drinking problem in Newton, particularly in connection with young people. He believes the city government, in co-operation with law enforcement agencies, must do their part in solving this growing problem. The housing problem for some young veterans' families have been partially remedied by the Oak Hill development, but Mr. Rich is far from satisfied with the results so far obtained for the crying need for apartments for middle-aged and elderly couples. A look at the summary process list in our local court will bear out this need, and he believes the city government should proceed in co-operation with its citizens, as other municipalities are doing, to help remedy this situation.

Mr. Rich has already accepted several invitations to speak to women's organizations this fall, and intends to avail himself of every opportunity extended to him to acquaint the voters with his views. His sincere wish is that he may induce those seeking office against him to also accept similar invitations, thus permitting the voters an equal opportunity to judge for themselves.

CRABGRASS

Some of the best green lawns and most of the dried and brown lawns are heavily infested with CRABGRASS. Lots of sunshine and a little water is just what this pest loves.

Millions of seeds are NOW being formed to be dropped on your lawn for next summer's growth. Unless you remove these plants NOW! Then reseed with a good lawn seed mixture in late August you'll be sorry next summer.

New "Leaf absorption" method starts withering crabgrass in 3 days when using TAT C-Lect, the "selective" crabgrass killer.

Rate 1/2 pint per gallon of water per 500 square feet of lawn.

Half pint 85c Pint $1.50 Gallon $9.75

Combined with TAT WEED C-Lect this mixture produces faster kill... reduces germination... kills most common lawn weeds simultaneously.

Combination package (1,000 square feet) ---- $2.25

News from the State House

By HELEN L. RING

It is now hard to foretell when the General Court will prorogue. There are 215 unreported bills to be debated. Some are lengthy such as the purchase of the South Station and the $100,000,000 subway plan which provides for the extension of the present Washington street tunnel to Dudley street, extension of subway from Haymarket square to Baldwin street in Charlestown; demolition of elevated structure along Washington street, etc.

A prayer was offered by the Chaplain in the Senate Chamber on Wednesday. In his prayer the Chaplain paid great tribute to the only living ex-president of the U. S. on his 75th birthday, Herbert Hoover.

Senator Holmes from Weymouth asked to make a statement. Sen. Chester J. Dolan, Jr., President of the Senate asked the members if there were any objections, hearing none Sen. Holmes proceeded with his statement. He asked the President of the Senate to use his influence on the Governor to recommend to the legislature to increase entry fees of filing in district courts from $1.00 to $2.00 and in the superior court the entry fees from $2.00 to $3.00. This Sen. Holmes said will bring in a revenue which is solely needed of approximately $1,000,000. "The court budgets have gone up, everything has gone up, why not entry fees in courts," He further stated that Sen. Dolan's position in urging the Governor would not put him on the spot. Whether Sen. Dolan will oblige the Senator from Weymouth, that is a $64 question.

The bill S-708 sponsored by Senators Charles W. Olson, Rep. Ashland, and John E. Povers, Democrat, Boston, calls for the Milk Control Board to examine and investigate after a public hearing, fix the minimum wholesale and retail price to be charged for milk within all marketing areas irrespective of where such milk is produced. Senator Stone opposed the measure of price fixing. He spoke for a half hour on the bill. After his long debate the Senate adjourned at 1:30 p.m. to reconvene on Thursday at 11 a.m. The bill will go on the calendar for further debate. Sen. Stone said that it plays into the hands of the big fellow and no one else.

Sen. Powers defended the bill. He said he was also opposed to fixing prices but that when there is a definite abuse we must pass legislation to protect the consumer against profiteering. He also said that the bill will save consumers about $5,000,000 a year. Sen. Powers later said that the price of milk is now fixed by one big dealer. Senators Olson and Charles G. Miles, of Brockton spoke in favor of the bill. At present the Milk Control Board has the right to fix prices received by the producer—the farmer. This bill will give the board the right to fix the price of milk the housewife pays and the wholesale prices charged by dealers.

The bill reducing the age requirements for old age assistance from 65 to 60 years old was heard in the House of Representatives. The House Chamber was extremely hot and humid. The members seemed not to mind the heat as amendment after amendment was offered to raise money to finance the additional costs if they vote favorably on the bill to reduce the old age assistance to 60 years old. The amendments called for all the way from a lottery; legal bookings; taxing theatre tickets; 2% tax on corporations; $500 tax on chain stores; 10% retail sales tax on cigars; one cent tax on cigarettes. After several hours debating, Speaker Thomas J. O'Neill at 5:30 p.m. announced that the Democrats will hold a caucus. Upon return to the House Chamber it seemed that the bill was lost. After much debating, many members willing from the heat, decided to call a halt. They finally got together, secured enough votes, 104 to 89 on a roll call, sent the bill back to the Ways and Means Committee. An amendment to reduce the age to 63 years went down in defeat. Several members warned that if the bill is passed that it would be impossible to finance it without federal aid, that it would cost the state about $27,000,000 additional and cities and towns $13,000,000 on top of that. If the bill is passed it would add 26,000 persons, 60 years of age and over to the present assistance rolls of 92,000 persons.

The controversial anti-injunction bill to use peaceful persuasion and injunction in labor disputes would require courts to hear both sides before issuing an injunction was defeated a second time in the Senate. A tie vote 20-20. This measure is dead and will not be brought up again this session. Governor Dever stated that the "Republican party is controlled by interests hostile to labor." Under the present law an employer can obtain an injunction if he convinces the court that irreparable harm will result from a strike.

Governor Dever signed three important bills this week. One of which is the Health Unit bill. Senator Richard H. Lee, chairman of the Recess Commission is one of the sponsors of the bill. The bill calls for all communities must become members of a health unit within 10 years, and are empowered to share the expense of the public health service headed by a full time professional public health physician as director. Each community will retain its own health office. It will also provide immunization service, baby clinics, dental clinics, supervision for safe water supply, sewage disposal, and rodent control. This bill is patterned on the same principles as the Nashoba Health Unit now in action in Ayer, Mass. The other bill signed by the Governor is to do away with proportional representation. Cities and towns now having a Plan E charter are not affected by this bill.

A joint meeting of the Senate and House will take place on Monday, at 1:15 p.m. to debate the proposal to the Constitutional Amendment on the Graduated Income Tax.

the business generally when he became the Restaurant Editor of the Hotel and Restaurant News.

In 1942, he was appointed Secretary of the Massachusetts Restaurant Association. During the war, Mr. Strong was granted a leave of absence from the Association to go to Washington and serve as Chief of the Institutional Rationing Program throughout the country. His comprehensive knowledge of the industry made him a valuable representative for the restaurant men as he was fully aware of their problems and difficulties.

In his new Executive Position, Mr. Strong plans to expand the Association's program and policies so as to render greater service to the individual members. He expects to do considerable field work organizing regional meetings throughout the State, thereby extending the coverage of the Association. At the present time there are over 700 members, representing about 450 restaurants in the Bay State.

Andrew J. Crotty, Jr., National President, was chairman of the committee which recommended Mr. Strong. Other members included: Andrew S. Seiler of Wellesley; D. Joseph Sheehan, Waban; T. Walter Sharpe, Boston; and Nat Sharaf, Brookline.

if attending school. These children must have been deprived of parental support by reason of death, continued absence from home, or physical or mental incapacity of a parent. The child must be living with and cared for by a blood relative in a home conducive to proper environment for the child. This type of assistance was formerly known as Mothers' Aid, but in 1937 a State Law was passed liberalizing the Program to include, for the protection of the child, other relatives in case of a mother's death or continued absence. In 1938, Newton spent a total of $184,000.00 on this Program. There are at present 150 Aid to Dependent Children families in Newton, representing a total of 500 mothers and children.

"General Relief in Newton, as in all communities of the Commonwealth, is granted to individuals or families having residence in the City who are unable through their own efforts to provide themselves with the minimum requirements of support. Briefly, if you or I find ourselves through loss of employment or sickness in need of the essentials of life, we may apply to our local Welfare Office, and if we can properly establish this need, we are granted assistance by the Local Board of Public Welfare. The principal causes of need for General Relief are unemployment and sickness. This type of assistance is granted to those who are not eligible for either Old Age Assistance or Aid to Dependent Children. We have approximately 130 such cases in Newton, and in 1948 spent a total of $70,000.00 on this Program. "Our City Infirmary, located in Newton Highlands, cares for 22 men and women who have become homeless and lack support through reasons of senility and inability to work or properly care for cash funds. These people may well be called "The Forgotten Souls" of the community, being. It is our purpose to properly care for such persons and bring to them, as far as we are able, the happiness or a well-ordered life, in pleasant surroundings.

"The Federal Government, the State and the locality cannot give effective aid by mere statistical perfection. To achieve a well coordinated relief program, it is essential that our staff members be well qualified and possess if possible that rare combination of attributes—human understanding and firmness of purpose and decision.

"Right here I would like to pay tribute to my associates in the Department—the supervisors, the social workers and the clerical staff all of whom in fulfilling their duties consider neither time or selves in this work of service.

"As social workers, we are dealing with our neighbors' troubles, and their problems. It is our job — through common sense casework and financial assistance — to help these neighbors solve their problems, without creating a dependency that may become damaging to them and to the taxpayers.

"There are many social problems that constantly appear in connection with our work in the field of Public Assistance. Some of these, like the lack of adequate housing and the eviction problem admit of only partial solution. Closely allied to these is the question of proper child placement, a most difficult task for the best qualified worker in these days when crowded homes make foster home finding almost an impossibility.

"The subject matter covered by the Public Welfare field is as inexhaustible as any subject of human relations because we are dealing continually with human beings who are in need and at the same time recognizing the fact that the taxpayer who stands the bill is also a human being.

"Since the depression years until the latter part of 1948 we have had no employables receiving public assistance. Now, however, we are beginning to notice a wave of unemployment. There are more applications from employable men and it is becoming increasingly difficult for youths between 16 and 20 to find jobs." Next Monday, Recreation Facilities for the Citizens of Newton will be discussed by Recreation Commissioner, C. Evan Johnson.

A Shopping I Would Go!

By LEE TYLER

This is the lead-off into a tremendously exciting week and Newton can claim part of the world-fame attached to the big doings for it's all going to happen at Longwood Cricket Club, and part of the big grounds lie on Newton property. I'm speaking, naturally, of the annual National Doubles Tennis Tournament, an event which is outshone only by the National Singles at Forest Hills, New York, and the World Championships at Wimbledon, England. Glamour is the word. Famous names... Handsome faces... Marvelous tennis. If you come anywhere near Longwood, I don't see how you can help but be infected by the pervading carnival-like spirit. Let me tell you more about it.

Greenfield's

for Sports Apparel
40 Glen Avenue
Newton Centre

There's no rule that says you can't be really comfortable if it's terribly hot next week, and sit in shorts and a jersey to watch the matches. And Greenfield's, the wonderful outlet for sportswear a block past Newton Centre and off Beacon Street, has a tremendous variety bargain this week... over 1000 jerseys in all sizes, all intriguing color combinations. They're the comb cotton shirts, regularly priced $3. You'll find soft pastels, and snappy striped ones; plunging necklines, Gaucho collars, crew necks, and turtle necks. They're all guaranteed washable and made by the Old Colony Knitting Mills. And every single one now sells for an even dollar!

Hubbard Pharmacy

425 Centre Street
Newton Corner

Mr. Wilfred Chagnon and I have a bet on. He says there aren't nearly as many people home yet as I think there are. So just to prove who's right, and just in time for the big tennis treat next week, he's offering a very special treat for beauty counter shoppers. If you'll pick up scissors, cut out this notice, show it at Hubbard's, and buy a dollar's worth of any beauty products (say, a new lipstick, or some sun-proof facial cream if you'll be sitting in the stands at the Nationals), Mr. Chagnon will give you a complimentary gift of the refreshing cologne, Golden Chance. What a chance! The offer's not good indefinitely though — just through next week. Better hurry.

Camp—

ber that day he found it was due to an idea of Miss Taylor's, who had been touched by the daily audience of Bourne boys watching and envying the pleasures of the more fortunate campers.

Each summer Miss Taylor secures a list of all the boys of the neighborhood and sends a formal invitation to the parents, that all may enjoy "Bourne Day at Wampanoag", free of charge. "There are no absentees!" Mr. Tapper says. "Arriving at 9 a.m., each boy is assigned two hosts and given his choice of activities for the day: sailing, riflery and archery, canoeing and many others.

The National Doubles

at Longwood Cricket Club
Chestnut Hill

Curious about Gussie Moran? Gonzales? The exiled Czechs? Tennis in general? Very few sports make it possible to see all the topflight champions of the world in competitive play for a whole week. And not in any other is there such a cosmopolitan entry list than for the great National Doubles Tennis Tournament. It starts at Longwood, Monday, August 15, and continues through the 21st. The National Doubles consists of five major tournaments. Every morning of the week, beginning at 11:00, the Fathers and Sons, Men Veterans, and the Women Veterans will play off their rounds. And at 2:00 every day, the younger Men and Women take the courts for their respective matches. The competition is so keen that play often won't be called off until dark, so working people needn't wait until the semi-finals on the week-end to see great matches played. Now for ticket prices; for $10 you can get a full series ticket entitling you to a reserved seat in the grandstand for the whole week. $5.40 buys you a choice grandstand seat for the last two days. Day by day, the prices run $1.80 for reserved seats the first three days, $2.40 for the 4th and 5th days, and $3.00 for the semis and the finals. Unreserved seats are $1 for the first three days, and $1.80 until the semis when the price rises to $2.40. A general admission ticket, which actually is as much fun as any of the others for you can wander anywhere around the grounds, costs $1 for the first three days, $1.50 on the 4th and 5th, and $1.80 for the semis and the finals. For young people, 15 years and younger, general admission is 60c for the first three days. You can order special tickets by telephoning the ticket office at the club, Longwood 6-3900, or going to the club in person. During the National week, tickets will be on sale at the outdoor box-office near the grandstand. Seems to me, asking a friend to the tournament is a very nice way of returning an engagement, as well as a tennis fan's dream! Plan now not to miss the National Doubles, the biggest show in town!

Tallino's

1268 Boylston Street
Chestnut Hill

For luncheon before the matches, and cocktails and dinner when they're over, the most convenient and all-around most comfortable stop for you is the House of Tallino, around the corner from the club on the Turnpike. For a hot-day summer luncheon, you'll enjoy any one of the five sizeable salads they make a specialty of. They have a limited choice of scrumptious sandwiches, too. I wouldn't even know where to begin to recommend particular dinners. They serve the choicest steaks, chickens, chops, and lobsters. Tallino's is rightly proud of the dinners they offer, and they request that "if you're in a hurry we will appreciate your letting us know and we will suggest a meal which can be served you quickly." It's the perfect place to relax. And of course you know by this time that when the temperature soars, retreating to Tallino's is the smartest thing you can do.

Vaich Camera Shop

801 Washington Street
Newtonville

Naturally, you'll want to take advantage of the color of the tournament itself, as well as the famous people who'll be there. So have your camera along, all loaded and ready to shoot. John Vaich, an ex-professional photographer himself, has a huge supply of every size film in his air-conditioned Newtonville shop... black and white, and color film for both still and motion picture cameras. It's a perfect opportunity to try out your picture taking ability in action from the stands, or by asking your favorite tennis star to pose. If you have the film, but not camera, Mr. Vaich has them. Shots that make sport history often make word print, but don't always get immortalized by a snap at the right time. When you go, by all means don't forget your camera and an extra roll of film. When you see the developed pictures, you'll be glad you had it along.

Tapper writes. "That Miss Taylor is the idol of the locals was shown in one instance where some windows had been broken; the boys were indignant, wanting to know who 'did it' and what they were going to do about it. This surely was a gracious and practical move on the part of the camp's director." Birth rates in 1948 were five to ten per cent lower than in 1947, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

Cpl. A. S. Peabody, Jr.

Funeral services were held last Tuesday for Cpl. Arthur S. Peabody, Jr., of 56 Ekester street, West Newton, former junior tennis star killed over Austria in February, 1945. He was 21 years old.

A graduate of Newton High school where he was captain of a state championship tennis team, he attended the University of Maine. From there he enlisted in the Air Force in 1943. At Tyndall Field, Fla., he survived a crash landing during his training period. Later he went overseas to Italy with the 15th Air Force where he was a waist gunner in a B-24 Liberator bomber. Cpl. Peabody was killed when the wing from another plane sheared off two propellers of his bomber, causing it to crash five miles northeast of Vienna.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Mildred S. Peabody of Newton; a brother, Richard S. Peabody of Decatur, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. Barbara Charlot of Weston.

Rev. W. L. Stidger

The death of Rev. William L. Stidger of 19 Oakwood terrace, Newton Centre, last Sunday culminates a life of activity and service as minister, teacher, and author. Funeral services were held last Tuesday at the Copley Methodist Church, Boston, with Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University, presiding. Religious and educational leaders were present at the 2 p.m. service to pay tribute to the former professor at Boston University School of Theology.

A native of Mountville, West Virginia, where he was born March 16, 1885, Dr. Stidger was a graduate of Allegheny College and Brown University. In 1912 and 1913, he attended Boston University School of Theology and returned there in 1929 as head of the department of preaching and pastoral science. A pioneer in radio preaching, he introduced the first course in radio ministry in 1938.

The recipient of honorary degrees from Allegheny College, Kansas Wesleyan University and Salem College in Oregon, he won additional recognition with the award of the Radio Certificate of Merit for his radio work.

After his ordination in 1914, he held pastorates in San Francisco, Detroit, and Kansas City. He was minister of the Copley Methodist Church and the Church of All Nations at Morgan Memorial.

An active and enthusiastic Democrat, he worked on the "Happy Days" radio program in 1938 on behalf of the Democratic National Committee. He was a contributing editor to the Christian Herald and Zion's Herald.

Dr. Stidger was a 33rd degree Mason and a member of the Odd Fellows. His fraternities included Phi Delta Theta, Theta Phi, Delta Sigma Rho, and Pi Gamma Mu.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Iva Stidger, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Hyland of Philadelphia, Penn.

Information For Veterans Questions and Answers

Q.—My husband, a World War I veteran, died of a non-service-connected ailment. Am I eligible for a pension?

A.—You may be entitled if you were married to the veteran prior to December 14, 1944; your income does not exceed the limitation established by law and your late husband's service meets the requirements of the law.

Q.—What is the time limit for filing claim for burial allowance?

A.—Claim may be filed within two years from the date of cremation or permanent burial of the veteran.

Q.—I have noticed the term "statutory award" from time to time but have no idea what it means. What is a "statutory award"?

A.—A statutory award is one in which the amount of the award is specifically provided by the governing legislation.

Q.—What will I have to do to have the amount of my National Service Life Insurance policy reduced?

A.—You will have to submit to VA a written request stating your desire over your own signature.

Do You Know Massachusetts?

DO YOU KNOW THAT... The revised estimate by the U. S. Census Bureau puts the population of Massachusetts as of July 1, 1948, at 4,638,000, exclusive of persons in the armed forces overseas. This was an increase of 321,000 over April 1, 1940. . . . The Commonwealth had a net immigration of 96,000 persons between 1940 and 1948, being one of only 16 states that gained through migration, according to the census calculation. . . . Average of the 1949 tax rates for cities and towns is $42.39, an increase of 76 cents, or 1.6 per cent over that last year. For the same places, the total of assessed valuations increased 5.8 per cent and appropriations 7.6 per cent. . . . Associated Industries reports that the value of new orders received by textile manufacturers in Massachusetts, including cotton, woolen and worsteds, during June was 50 per cent more than in June a year ago and in total makes the biggest month's new business since February 1948. . . . Massachusetts public schools participating in the national lunch program last year bought more than $4,470,000 of food, in addition to nearly 16 million pounds of farm products received from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. . . . There are at present 133 communities in Massachusetts having protective zoning bylaws or ordinances in effect, representing more than 85 per cent of the State's population. Mr. D. Hollander Hall, husband of Mrs. June Buchanan Hall of Caney Creek Community Centre, Kentucky, and brother-in-law of Mrs. Francis J. Flag of 99 Kirkstall road, died in the New England Baptist Hospital, July 28. He was an attorney at law.

AT THE SOUTH SHORE Playhouse, Cohasset, Monday night, Elliott Nugent will start a week's engagement as star and director of the new comedy, "The Fundamental George," which is having its world premiere at this theater. The engagement will be for a week only, ending August 20, and there will be a matinee Wednesday, August 17.

Wilhite-Booth

At a 4 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Joseph Cody MacDonald in the Union Church in Waban last Saturday Miss Mary Elizabeth Booth became the bride of Ensign Alan Shepherd Wilhite, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hamilton Wilhite of Sweetwater, Tenn.

A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolcott Booth of Waban. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Swiss organdy over tulle with a bodice of lace and a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion was finger-tip length and she carried white roses and orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Barbara Nutting of Wellesley Hills, wore a gown of white organdy sashed with yellow and a white horsehair hat with matching yellow ribbons. Margaret Lee Booth of Waban, sister of the bride, was the junior maid of honor. She wore an identical gown and had yellow roses in her hair.

The bridesmaids, who carried bouquets of white flowers, wore white organdy over tulle with apple green sashes and matching hats. In the group were Miss Marion La Croix of Newton Centre; Miss Stanley of Abington; Miss Barbara Kraft of Boston; and Mrs. Henry Ford of Tuscaloosa, Ala., sister of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Booth wore mint green crepe with a white hat and a corsage of baby orchids. Mrs. Wilhite, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in aqua crepe with a matching hat and a baby orchid corsage.

The best man was Ensign David Robertson, USN, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the ushers included Ensign Doyle Lynn, Ensign Frank Ames, Ensign James Wheeler, Ensign James Hayes and Ensign Leonard Nelson of Quonset Point, R. I.

The bride was graduated from Mt. Ida Junior College. Ensign Wilhite attended Tennessee Military Institute and Milligan Col-

How to Get Help When Polio Strikes

1. At the first sign of illness, call your own doctor. If he suspects polio he will report the case to the local Health Department and arrange for hospitalization or home care, as indicated. The National Foundation does not select physicians or hospitals. This is a family matter. If you have no family physician, call your City or County Medical Society, your Board of Health or the nearest hospital.

2. If your doctor says it is polio and requires hospitalization, the local Chapter of the National Foundation will help arrange for transportation to a treatment center. As soon as the patient goes to the hospital—or if your doctor advises the patient can be treated at home—get in touch with your Chapter of the National Foundation to arrange for any needed assistance.

a.) Most Chapters are listed in the telephone book under N for National Foundation, I for Infantile Paralysis and the letter starting the name of the county you live in, i.e., Washington County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. If you can't find it—check with your doctor, hospital or Health Department.

b.) Your Chapter will get in touch with you as soon as it learns of the case through your physician, the hospital or the Health Department. However, late reporting or a heavy hospital load may delay this Chapter contact. If you do not hear promptly, telephone or visit your Chapter representative. You can ease your own worries sooner by making the approach yourself.

3. The Chapter representative will notify the hospital that it is arranging with you for full or partial payment of expenses for medical care. Adults are as eligible for help as children. Discuss with your Chapter how much of the full bill the Chapter will pay.

a.) March of Dimes funds are used to help the medically indigent—but this is not the same as "indigent," it includes families of moderate income who cannot meet the high costs of modern care of this expensive disease. The help is a gift—not a loan. While families that can pay are expected to do so, no family is expected to impoverish itself to meet medical expenses for polio.

b.) Even if you can assume full costs for initial hospitalization, it is a good idea to see your Chapter. If yours should be a patient who is severely affected—and this cannot be determined in the first few days—you may need help later on. Bills incurred in the weeks before your Chapter assumes financial responsibility cannot be paid months afterward, but the Chapter will step in at whatever time you really need help. Have a frank, friendly talk with your Chapter representative at the beginning.

4. Chapters pay for hospitalization, professional services including nursing and physical therapy, transportation to and from hospitals, convalescent centers and clinics, treatment after hospitalization and appliances such as wheelchairs, braces, etc., as needed. There are no hard and fast rules. Each case is decided upon individual medical and financial needs. Assistance is given regardless of age, race, creed or color. More than 110,000 polio patients were directly assisted in full or in part up to the end of 1948.

5. In addition, your Chapter can put you in touch with proper sources for nursing and physical therapy at home, can refer you to rehabilitation and vocational training agencies, will refer literature designed to foster better understanding of infantile paralysis—so you will know what to expect and how to help your polio patient back to a useful life.

Carey-Grower

Mrs. James G. Grower of 18 Jefferson road, Wellesley Hills, announces the marriage of her daughter, Roberta Mary, to Mr. Robert J. Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alfred Carey of 136 Ridge avenue, Newton Centre. The Reverend Frank A. Lombard of the Wellesley Hills Congregational Church performed the ceremony, which took place August 5 at the home of the bride, with members of the immediate families attending.

The bride graduated from Wellesley High School in 1947. She has attended Swarthmore College and is now a junior at Wellesley College.

Mr. Carey, who is a graduate of Newton High School, will be graduated from Harvard College this month. He served with the U. S. Marines in the Pacific during the war.

The couple will live at 16 Fairmont avenue, Newton Centre.

Palmquist-Shillady

The wedding of Miss Janet Shillady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwin Shillady of Waban, to Mr. James Benjamin Palmquist, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Palmquist of Medina, Ohio, took place last Saturday afternoon at the Union Church in Waban. A reception followed at the Waban Neighborhood Club.

The bride's veil of French illusion was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis. Her gown, with a six-foot train, was fashioned of ivory satin, and the long, pointed sleeves and bodice were trimmed with buttons.

Wearing pink picolay dresses and wreaths to match their bouquets of delphinium, snapdragons and stephanotis, the bride's sisters, Mrs. R. E. Dell of Malden and Mrs. W. J. Boston, Jr., of Westwood, were the matrons of honor.

The bridesmaids, who wore blue and carried the same flowers as the bride, included Miss Nancy Ray, Miss Julianne Palmquist of Medina, Ohio, Miss Joanne Ruxton of Darien, Ct., Miss Kathleen Slaughter of New Canaan, Ct., and Miss Rosemary Botley of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Mr. Thomas Moore of Akron, Ohio was the best man and the Rev. Joseph MacDonald officiated. The ushers were Mr. Kenneth Harmon of Beverly, Mr. Rodney Reed of Waban, Mr. James Gos-lege. After a wedding trip to Canada, they will make their home in Alameda, Calif.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. de Saulniers of Newtonville and Dennisport, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Dr. Joseph D. Knobloch of Utica, N. Y.

Both Miss de Saulniers and her fiancé are staff members at the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, L. I. She was with the M. I. T. Radiation Laboratory here in 1942 and continued her research in London and Paris. For two years after the war, she served as a member of the United States Liaison Office at the Canadian nuclear science laboratory at Chalk River, Ontario, Canada.

Dr. Knobloch, who received his B.A. from Hamilton College in New York and his M.D. from the Harvard Medical School, served his internship at the United States Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md. During the war he was lieutenant in the Naval Medical Corps. Before joining the Brookhaven staff he served as resident physician in New York.

A fall wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Durkee of Rochester, Vt., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Eloise Durkee, to Mr. Donald L. Stillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Stillman of Newtonville.

Both Miss Durkee and Mr. Stillman are graduates of Middlebury College. Mr. Stillman served with the Army in the European theater during the war and plans to attend the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. A spring wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Pearlman of Newton Centre announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gilda Pearlman, to Mr. Howard Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher of New York City. Miss Pearlman is a student at Boston University School of Music. Mr. Fisher was graduated from Harvard College with the class of 1948. After a September wedding, Miss Pearlman will continue her studies in New York.

How International Can You Get?

By LEE TYLER

Ever looked at a top-flight tennis player's yearly travel schedule? With the exception of the "slow" tennis months of November, December, January, and February, (when they might actually go home but are more apt to go to Florida or some other warm place for winter training) they have tournaments planned along a zigzag course weaving up and down, across and back through the United States. Where one tournament in one state leaves off, another in some other state is starting. In the spring, there are the European national championships to enter.

Conversely, some of the international players are living much the same sort of life. Though they don't participate in as many scattered tournaments as our American men do, if they're coming to the United States at all for our big tennis season, they're almost sure to enter the National Doubles.

This year, the Doubles Tournament Committee at Longwood Cricket Club is all enthused about the foreign entry list. For while, to the best of my exploring knowledge, Longwood has not attracted more than 9 foreign countries at one time since the National Doubles first started being regularly held there in 1920, next week, mind you, the players on the courts at Longwood will represent 17 different countries.

From Italy, and this is the first time Italy has ever entered players in our Nationals; five men from Australia, including the fabulous John Bromwich; the young giant, Enrique Morca, or Argentina; and the champions of Canada, Chile, Great Britain, France, India, Ecuador, Mexico, New Zealand, South Africa, Sweden, Denmark and the Philippine Islands. It is even possible that the self-exiled Czechs, Drobny and Cernik, whose whereabouts at this writing are absolutely unknown, may suddenly appear as a surprise entry.

When you imagine all these international champions in competition, not only with each other, but with America's best tennis talent, you know that to say the tournament will be colorful is putting it very, very mildly.

It will be interesting to watch how our slam-slash-bang players, whose winning game is usually attributed to one specialized shot, stack up against these internationalists, many of whom still play the beautifully-thought-out all-round game, now considered by the believers in aggressiveness, "the old-fashioned style." But it's the style, remember, that Frank Parker, American Davis Cupper and so-called "mechanical man in tennis" plays.

After the war, when the United States started sending athletes over to Europe to compete, and, since they were in better physical condition, to win, there was some feeling that our competing at all wasn't

Col. Roland Mangini Now Unit Cmdr.

Colonel Roland A. Mangini of 43 Palmer road, Waban, has been named commanding officer of the 1014th Organized Reserve Army Service Unit, it was announced by Colonel Frank A. Jones, Senior Army Instructor for the Organized Reserve Corps in Massachusetts.

Colonel Mangini's unit has been designated as the Station Complement for Fort Devens. If necessary, the Colonel and his men will be prepared to assume the housekeeping and administrative duties at the Fort and expand its troop handling facilities.

Colonel Mangini is the Manager of the Planning Department of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company and a veteran of both World Wars I and II. During World War II, he served as Executive Officer of the First Service Command Reception Center at Fort Devens and, later as Deputy Chief of the War Department's Casualty Branch in Washington. For this latter service, Colonel Mangini was awarded the Legion of Merit.

John Ward School Contract Awarded

Contract award for the construction of the addition to the John Ward School, totaling $28,756, has been awarded by the Building Commissioner to Bossi Construction Inc. of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jamron (Marcia Basch) are parents of a son, Edward David Jamron, born July 13, in Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Grandparents are Major William E. R. Basch and Mrs. Basch of Waverly avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jamron of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Mrs. J. N. Neumann of Montreal, Canada, is the great-grandmother.

The European countries now, though, are back on their feet and there'll be no easy winnings for our side this year. Looking at the entries, no sir! National tennis, the unique sport where everyone hopes to see an upset, is in for an exceptionally competitive week.

DAV Sweetheart of 1949

JUNE MOFFAT, Fenn College coed, has been named "DAV Sweetheart of 1949" by the Disabled American Veterans and will be honored at the 29th DAV national convention to be held at Cleveland August 14-20. Miss Moffat's selection symbolizes the girls of the nation who have stood by the disabled veteran. Her brother, Corp. Wallace Moffat, was wounded in action in World War II service and died of his wounds.

Gives Seventeenth Donation Of Blood In Program Here

The true meaning of the Blood Program was demonstrated at the Newton Chapter Tuesday when Mrs. Helene Whipple, general field representative, State of New York, American National Red Cross, gave her seventeenth donation.

Observing her at the time were a group of Junior Red Cross workers who are participating in the Leadership Training Center being sponsored by the American National Red Cross at Wellesley College. One of the Juniors, also from the State of New York, Ann Farwell, Geneva, N. Y., has received seventeen pints of blood pneumococcus meningitis in 1940.

It is interesting to note that on the one hand is the donor who has given repeatedly with no thought of receiving; and on the other, the child unable to give but in need of blood.

The aim of the National Blood Program is, of course, to furnish free whole blood without charge to anyone on request. The Red Cross is doing its part in procuring the blood, processing it, distributing it through hospitals and physicians, and financing the entire cost of the operation.

The success of the program depends wholly on individuals like Mrs. Whipple. It is estimated that one out of thirty-five will require blood in some form during the coming year. No one knows who is going to be on the receiving end.

Two Contracts Are Awarded By City

The Street Commissioner of the City of Newton awarded two contracts, one for highway work and the other for a sewer.

The first contract, amounting to $11,539.25, for the highway work on Windsor road, was let to Tufo and Yebba of Jamaica Plain. Federico and Grosse Corp., of Mattapan, was the recipient of the $9,382 award for the construction of the sewer on the north side of Boylston street.

Janse Criticizes Letter at Meeting

The current heat wave "warmed up" the enthusiasm of 'Janse's 49ers' at their session this week when John A. Janse, candidate for mayor of Newton, "Breezed" forth with a letter Mayor Lockwood had sent to Newton citizens which Mr. Janse maintained must have been developed by his opponent because of the "heat of my campaign."

Climaxing his "fire side chat" to his pioneering '49ers', Mr. Janse said, "I give as much credit to Donald Duck of comic fame for assuming fame for the building of the water tunnel beneath the city from Quabbin reservoir as I do to Mayor Lockwood. Yet, in his open letter to 'dear citizen' he would have you believe an 'I did-it' statement. Quabbin reservoir water supply was planned by the state long before my opponent ever thought of being the city's chief executive. He had absolutely nothing to do with it any more than he has supplied a 'cure-all' for the pollution of the Charles River beaches, which I intend to solve by some manner of means so that Newton's 'stay-at-homers' can enjoy Garden City privileges."

W. Edward Wilson, campaign manager for Mr. Janse, referred to a Newton Taxpayers' Association report circulated among the members which stated, "One of the candidates for mayor is making much of the fact that the pie chart included in the tax bill mailing from city hall is incomplete and insufficient. We are informed, however, that this year for the first time, incumbent Lockwood will have a city report circulated in the fall. It will be a first-class reader interest job."

"I would like to ask you 'Janse 49ers'," continued Wilson, whether the supposedly independent, non-partisan taxpayers' association is writing this so-called 'first class' report for Mayor Lockwood?" Mr. Janse criticized the "pie chart" sent to Newton taxpayers. "The trouble was that Mayor Lockwood did not 'cut the pie' in enough pieces," he contended. Mr. Janse has definitely taken an open stand on questions and problems confronting the city government. He has aroused the "free thinking" citizens of Newton to thinking about the failings of the present administration. "Personally," he stated, "I give hearty praise to such organizations as the Taxpayers' Association, the League of Women Voters, the various improvement societies in the many Newtons for their early interest in this mayoralty campaign. It proves that Newton citizens are alert and awake to the need of a change at city hall."

Mr. Janse, enthused with the response of his city-wide organization of "49ers" was most specific in his criticism of the Lockwood letter. Item by item, paragraph by paragraph he gave ready answer to the questioning "49ers" as he read the "false claims" as he called them. Said Mr. Janse, "Mayor Lockwood states every platform pledge has been kept. If that is true he deserves a medal of honor. Then he states, 'The city has been managed fearlessly, without political patronage.' Certainly the citizens of Newton have a sense of humor and should laugh at the heavy cost installation of the so-called municipal library that buys books at city expense, as I understand it $1600, on 'How to be a successful mayor' or 'How to run a city government.' Do we need a 'book' mayor? I stand for an efficient business administration conducted by a successful business man as Newton has had in the past."

"Again let's laugh," continued Janse. "My opponent states, great strides have been made in building city streets. If my opponent has made 'great strides' he has that are still badly in need of repairs even some whose property owners have petitioned for acceptance even and have not been acted upon for months. In fact, one petition was lost in city hall with no explanation given and their second petition has been 'over there' four months. His reference to the school building program is 'out of this world.' The efficiency of our School Committee and its department are separate and apart from his administration except that he as mayor is an ex-officio member. His reference to the veterans' housing project at Oak Hill Park as being the 'envy of other municipalities and reflects only credit on Newton' will be worthy of further statements from me and the 'reflections' I will cast will be stronger than the eclipses of either the moon or the sun."

"I note he has dropped the fire department operation figures from $235,000 to $219,000, due to the adoption of the humanitarian 48 hour work-week plan. Maybe before election day he'll arrive at the real figure of $138,000."

"He closed his letter with what I consider a personal reference to me when he states, 'The garbage collection is much improved and the cost lower than bid by other collectors.' For a score of years I handled that collection in a business like manner. Being under a city contract it was not my province to participate in city elections. I am a free agent today. I challenge Mayor Lockwood to canvass the city of Newton and personally get proof positive in the affirmative of his statement. Reports received by me throughout the city indicate dissatisfaction with his handling of this problem. This is not a gripe nor a grudge statement, Mr. Mayor. A 'house-to-house collection' of opinions might change your mind."

Presenting the New Cadillac Coupe de Ville

ILLUSTRATED above is the Coupe de Ville—an ultra smart new Cadillac body type, designed for those who seek the low-swept lines and open-airiness of a convertible—combined with the comfort, convenience and safety of a closed car.

It is a classic example of modernity and practicality—one of the most desirable and most useful models ever to issue from the boards of Cadillac designers.

Yet—smart and beautiful as it is—the Coupe de Ville's greatest superiority lies in the chassis on which it is built. For, like all Cadillacs, the core of its goodness is found in its performance—in the wonderful capacity of its new V-type engine; in the soft, even, restful manner in which it rolls over the highway; in the easy, effortless response to steering wheel and brakes. It is, truly, a symphony in motion.

We should be pleased indeed to give you full details about this wonderful new body type—as well as the other beautiful Cadillac models which grace our showroom. Why not come in at your earliest convenience?

Recreation Factor Of Importance Here

The third of a series of radio broadcasts, originating at the Newton City Hall over Radio Station WCRB, relating to the Recreation Facilities for the Citizens of Newton, took place Monday afternoon at 3:45 P.M.

In introducing C. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner, Harold T. Pillsbury, Director of Research and moderator for the Public Relations Programs, stated: "It has long been the practice of our Recreation Board to justify recreational facilities and services, on the basis that our recreational outlets serve as an aid in either controlling or preventing social problems, along with such other factors as better housing, parent education, the church and the schools.

"They too, are developed scientifically on the basis of all neighborhood and city-wide needs.

"Today, the Recreation Commissioner for the City of Newton, Mr. C. Evan Johnson, is going to acquaint us with the unlimited opportunities and the planned services that have been made available to meet the anticipated needs of our Garden City neighborhoods."

Mr. Johnson responded as follows:

Next Monday afternoon at 3:45 P.M. Mr. Pillsbury will present on the "Bill Sherman Goes Calling at Newton City Hall Program" Willard S. Pratt, Director of Public Works. Mr. Pratt will discuss the Engineering, Street and Water Departments, the Planned Public Improvements and the importance of coordination on all matters in the respective departments under his jurisdiction.

"Recreation in Newton is one of the most important activities provided by the Citizens of Newton. It had its beginning before the outbreak of World War I and its growth since that time has been developed in the interests of meeting the needs of our growing community.

"It is most interesting to observe that as our educational system has grown and expanded to include activities of children and adults beyond the learning program and to include spare time and hobby interests, that either the facilities or activities or both are already part and parcel of our Recreation Program.

"I should like to consider four basic essentials which make up our Newton Recreation Program. They are: 1. Physical Equipment, 2. Personnel, 3. Activities, and 4. Costs.

1. Physical Equipment: "There are 37 Recreation areas located in Newton, with an area of 380 acres and a total land value of $1,800,000. Construction costs on these grounds since 1912 have exceeded $600,000. Twelve of these play areas are listed as part of school property, but are subject to Recreation maintenance and installation. Six of these areas are in varying stages of development and cannot yet be considered adequate as play areas.

"Last year, 1948, there were 69 improvements, additions, or changes made on these grounds, representing outlays from $200 to several thousand dollars.

A partial listing of facilities seems essential at this point. 35 Clay Tennis Courts, 11 Black Top Tennis Courts, 18 Baseball Diamonds, 37 Softball or Junior Baseball areas, 16 Outdoor Basketball Courts, 3 Recreation Buildings (Small), 2 Bathhouses, 5 Comfort Stations.

"This listing would indicate that Newton does have many facilities available for use.

2. Personnel: "What type of person works in Recreation?"

"There are two classifications to be considered — Maintenance and Administration, and Supervisory.

"The first is made up of 22 persons who have shown by their interest and work that they are proud of Newton Recreation.

"The Maintenance Staff is made up of a group of men who constantly are on the alert to improve and better the conditions on our Playgrounds. They are constantly on the watch for the safe condition of all equipment and facilities and in addition will

Two From Newton Join Northeastern University Faculty

Twenty-nine members have been appointed to Northeastern University's Day College faculty beginning with the September term, Pres. Carl S. Ell has announced. This gives the Day College a faculty of 175, the largest in the 51-year history of the University.

New faculty members include Robert L. Kooler, 34 Janet road, Newton Center, to become coordinator of cooperative work. He graduated from Newton High School in 1943 and holds bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Boston University.

Mrs. Elinore B. Trovbridge, 49 Columbus street, Newton is to become lecturer in psychology. She holds degrees from Radcliffe and Boston University, and has taught at Boston University and Kathleen Dell School.

Three Officials To Seek Re-Election

Two members of the Board of Aldermen and one member of the School Committee are the first three candidates to file nomination papers for re-election this year.

Alderman Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Board, and Alderman Clyde S. Casady have filed their nomination papers. The other members of the Board have taken out papers but have not filed the myet at the office of the City Clerk. Both Bauckman and Casady represent Ward 5.

The School Committee member who has filed nomination papers is Francis P. Frazier, who represents Ward 1.

City Clerk Frank M. Grant announced that the last day for filing nomination papers for certification of signatures will be Sept. 13 and the last day for filing nomination papers after certification of signatures will be Sept. 20.

Tennis Exhibition To Be Held Friday

A tennis exhibition of some of the top ranking players will be held this Friday evening at 5:30 p.m. at the Burr playground, Frank Guernsey, former National Intercollegiate Champion and former ranking player in the U. S. A. and his partner, also a world famous player, will play against the Mass. State doubles champions, Al Everts and Don Manchester.

The exhibition is sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department and the services of Guernsey are made possible through the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. The public is cordially invited to attend, and admission is free.

Burr Park Eagles Win Fourth Victory

The Burr Park Eagles, girls' softball team, won its fourth consecutive victory August 10 over Thompsonville's team. This makes four wins and no defeats for the championship team of 1948. The three other games were played against Newton Centre (21-0), Cabot (33-1), and Hawthorne Playground (19-10). The Burr lineup is as follows: Joan Lafford, p; Janet McManus, c; Collette Madden, c; Jane Wallace, 1st; Janet Frey, 2nd; Anne Perkins, ss; Barbara Athy, 3rd; Janet Reardon, r; field: Carol Bickerstaffe, r; field: Ruthy Riddle, c; field: and Carol Collins, l. field.

Christian Science Reading Room Damaged by Fire

A short circuit in wiring resulted in a fire at the new Christian Science Reading Room, 304 Walnut street, Newtonville, Monday afternoon.

Considerable smoke resulted but there was little fire damage to the quarters which will be occupied by the reading room next month. Engines 4 and 8 and Ladder 1 responded to the alarm at 5:35 p.m., and the dismissal was at 6:05 p.m.

Hodgdon Announces Five Planks In His Campaign Platform

In a statement released this week, Walter A. Hodgdon, who will be a candidate for Mayor in the November election, announces five planks in his platform. He stated:

"Two months ago, when I started my present campaign for the office of Mayor of Newton, I stated that 'My platform will evolve as we go along. Therefore, at this time, I want to announce openly and definitely, so that there will be no misunderstanding, that the first five planks of my platform are as follows:

1. The complete restoration of responsibility and courtesy to the Mayor's office and to all departments of our city government.

2. The giving of full publicity to the activities of the Mayor's office and to the activities of all departments of our city government.

3. The installation of a non-partisan, non-partisan Purchasing Department. It will purchase all equipment, supplies, insurance policies, and, in fact, everything to be bought by our city government. If possible, legally, it should handle all the purchases made for the School Department. Controlled quantity buying would mean big savings for our taxpayers.

4. The inclusion of an ironclad rule in the set-up of the Purchasing Department that preference must be given to Newton businesses and Newton citizens, providing, of course, that other considerations such as quality and price are relatively equal.

5. The equalization of the take-home pay of our two uniformed departments. This can be taken care of by granting to the Fire Department the same wage increase recently given to the Police Department. To correct a rank injustice, this should be retroactive to the date the increase was allowed the Police personnel.

"In the near future, as the campaign progresses, other definite planks will be submitted to the citizens and voters of our City."

Final Vows Held At St. Ignatius Church

St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, which was dedicated July 31, was the scene, for the first time, of the pronouncement of final vows by members of the Society of Jesus. The ceremony also marked the first pronouncement of final vows by a former member of that parish, Rev. William V. E. Casey, S.J., Rev. Francis X. Luma, S.J., and Rev. Robert Rosenfelder, S.J. also recited their final vows.

The ceremony took place Monday morning at an 8:30 mass, which was celebrated by Very Rev. William L. Keleher, S.J., president of Boston College.

This ceremony took place at the Communion of the Mass. As the celebrant faced them with the sacred Host upraised, each of the three priests advanced in turn to the top step of the altar and recited the solemn vows, then placed a written profession of the vow in the hand of the celebrant holding the sacred Host.

The simple but impressive ceremony marked the completion of a sixteen-year training period of study, prayer and service in the Society of Jesus.

Fr. Casey, a native of Brighton, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Casey, of Chestnut Hill. He attended Boston Latin School and Boston College, entering the Society of Jesus at the completion of his freshman year. After completing his novitiate at Shadowbrook in Lenox, Mass., he entered Weston College, where he was ordained in 1944 by Bishop Thomas Emmett. He received his A.M. in English from Boston College and his Ph. Lic. and S.T.L. from Weston College. He has served on the faculty at Holy Cross College and at Boston College, where he is now the chairman of the department of theology. A contributor to Catholic periodicals, he is an authority on the New Testament.

Fr. Luma, a native of Lithuania, is a native of Lithuania. —FINAL VOWS—

Organization For Salvation Army Drive Being Completed

Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, Residential Chairman for the Newton District in the coming Salvation Army appeal for funds, reports that her list of twenty-five village chairmen needed for the drive is practically complete.

Following a recent meeting at her home in Waban, Mrs. Huber said: "These chairmen are already hard at work setting up the residential organization, totalling around eight hundred workers, divided into one hundred and fifty-nine teams. On these teams depends the success of the whole drive—for they will form the front line in our campaign embracing a thorough house-to-house canvass covering every street in Newton. I am delighted with every one of our Workers. Their enthusiasm for the Salvation Army and its activities, and their eagerness to get started on the drive, augur well for an over-the-top finish. In all my experience as chairman of committees I have never seen a finer co-operative spirit, nor have I ever felt greater confidence in the success of any undertaking with which I have been connected. The Chairmen, Captains and Workers comprising the Residential group are behind this drive wholeheartedly—and I am proud to be associated with them in such a worthy enterprise."

Mrs. Huber announces the selection of the following village chairmen, together with the number of teams they will direct:

Newton Lower Falls — Mrs. Stanley Robinson; 3 teams.
Newton Upper Falls — Mr. George Ferran; 6 teams.
Newtonville — Mrs. Bernard E. Brooks, Mrs. M.S. Cogan and Mrs. Roland MacDonald; 19 teams.

Nonantum — Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Boudrot; 11 teams.
Oak Hill — Mrs. Roger Hamilton, and Mrs. Curtis S. Forbes, Assistant Chairmen; 7 teams.

Waban — Mrs. C. Charles Maran; 11 teams.
Auburndale — Mrs. R. E. Sylvester and Mrs. Raymond Woolston; 13 teams.

Newton — Mrs. David Black, Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon, Mrs. Jesse Stan and Mrs. Carl Thurnquist, assisted by Mrs. Philip Jamieson; 24 teams.

Newton Centre — Mrs. Samuel Dwight Colburn and Mrs. Samuel Ring; 24 teams.

Newton Highlands — Mrs. Edward S. Colton, Jr., Mrs. Robert Jennings and Mrs. Margaret Peterson; 11 teams.

Waban Hill — Mrs. David C. Theall; 4 teams.
West Newton — Mrs. Albert Kreider, Mrs. Norman C. Cleaveland and Mrs. Harold Dixon; 22 teams.

Lt. Goodwin With ORC At Fort Dix, N.J.

First Lieutenant James S. Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Goodwin of Hartsdale, N. Y., is presently serving with the 86th Replacement Company, 313th Replacement Depot, Fort Dix, N. J.

In civilian life, Lieutenant Goodwin of Newton, is a field auditor with the Maryland Casualty Company of Boston.

Entering the Army in January, 1941, he was sent to officer candidate school and commissioned second lieutenant in October, 1942. Two years later he received his present rank of first lieutenant.

The 36-year-old officer graduated with a BA degree from Princeton University in 1935 and later studied at the Insurance Institute of America.

Lieutenant Goodwin and his wife, Margaret, have four children; James, 6, Mary, 5, Joan, 3, Katherine, 1.

Water Pipe Line Contract Awarded

The Water Commissioners of Newton have awarded a $2,294 contract for the construction of a water pipe line on Crehore drive, Wether, Barbara, DeForest and Lorna roads, to C. Russo of Roslindale.

City Paddle Tennis Tournament Held

Last Monday the city-wide paddle tennis tournament took place in Newton Centre under a broiling sun. William M. Powers, tennis supervisor for the city of Newton, directed the contest. Winners of the 18-year and under contest were F. Cronin and M. Brown, and Frank Macchione defeated Paul Lafford in the 15 and under class, 6-0, 6-4.

According to Mr. Powers, the paddle tennis tournament will probably be an annual feature of the Newton Recreation Department's program.

Tennis Tournament For Boys and Girls Being Held Here

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week the annual city-wide tennis tournament for boys and girls is being held at the Newton Centre playground.

A special feature of the tournament will be the ten golden trophies donated by civic-minded Newtonians and to be awarded to the winners and runners-up of each division in the contest. Those who gave the trophies include Helen Anderson, Al Rogan, Harry Sylvester, George Volpe, and Louis Volpe.

Mayor Thanks Red Sox Management

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood today expressed his sincere thanks to the management of the Red Sox for providing tickets for 325 children of the city, through the Commissioner of Recreation, to attend the Massachusetts Mayors' Association's "Kids' Day" at Fenway Park last Saturday as a token of appreciation to the youngsters who will participate in a September tag day to aid to obtain funds to build the new $11,500,000 Children's Medical Center in Boston.

The tag day will be conducted as part of the special coin box campaign which is being sponsored by the Mayors' Association in conjunction with the Massachusetts Police Chiefs' and Selectmen's Associations.

The coin boxes, of which more than 20,000 are being distributed in business establishments throughout the state, are replicas of the proposed Children's Medical Center.

Asking all citizens to take an active part in the coin box campaign by "depositing a coin in them now and then," the Mayors, Police Chiefs, and Selectmen have adopted the appealing slogan, "What May Seem Like Small Change To You, May Be The Means Of Making A Big Change In The Life Of Some Poor Crippled Child."

Memorial Golf Club Bids Announced

Low bidders for the contract to rebuild the greens at Leo J. Martin Memorial Golf Course on the Charles River Reservation in Newton and Weston, have been announced by the Metropolitan District Commission of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

M. E. Hennessy of Brookline entered the lowest bid of $11,300. Mitchell Brothers of Danvers, was second with $11,728.75, and Charles Callahan Co. of West Roxbury was third with $18,900.

All Must Reduce Speed at Railroad Crossings

Every person operating a motor vehicle, upon approaching a railroad crossing at grade, shall reduce the speed of the vehicle to a reasonable and proper rate, and shall proceed cautiously over the crossing. Every person operating a school bus, or a motor vehicle carrying explosive substances or inflammable liquids as a cargo, or part of a cargo, upon approaching a railroad crossing at grade, shall bring his vehicle to a full stop not more than seventy-five feet from the nearest track of said railroad, and shall not proceed to cross said railroad until he is satisfied that it is safe to do so. Whoever violates any provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

What Will Happen to Your Partnership Interest?

Your partnership interest may be your most valuable asset. You may be counting on it to protect your family's future. Have you taken steps to be sure that, in the event of your death, your family will realize its true value?

Every partner, in a general way, recognizes the merit of having an agreement to fix the price of his interest in the event of death, but frequently neglects to act until death has made it impossible.

Safeguard your family's future. Make certain that your estate will receive a fair price for your partnership interest.

In serving as executor for deceased partners we have helped to carry out partnership agreements. We have seen these agreements fulfilled to the great benefit of the deceased partner's dependents. This experience may be helpful to you when you work out plans to protect your partnership interest.

We would be glad to talk to you, your partners and your attorney about this matter at any time.

Asks Motorists To Refrain From Driving When Over-Tired

Because there has been an increase in the number of accidents resulting from fatigue, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King asks Massachusetts motorists to refrain from operating motor vehicles while over-tired or fatigued, as it is one of the most dangerous practices to be considered by individual drivers for their own protection and preservation.

This is the danger period, for it is during hot, sultry weather when uncomfortable sleeping conditions often prevent the acquiring of sufficient rest, that many persons are called upon to do considerable driving after their regular work hours. Weariness from hard labor or undue exertion, poor eyesight which causes strain, over-indulgences in many of the prevalent forms, and many other factors are causes of fatigue.

As fatigue increases, efficiency is lowered, judgment, depth, distance, and speed are impaired, reaction time slows down, and there is a loss of ability to resist glare; finally, nodding at the wheel is inescapable.

In his appeal, directed to every licensed operator in Massachusetts, the Registrar pleads for full co-operation, pointing out that each must exert every precaution against needless traffic accidents on the highways of the Commonwealth through the control of 'fatigue driving'.

Information For Veterans

Q.—My brother does not want to stay in a Veterans' Administration hospital and says he will leave. If he leaves the hospital against medical advice, will such actions affect his compensation?

A.—No. However, the hospital report covering the period he did remain there may be reviewed by a VA rating board to determine whether his disability warrants continuation of his award or a change in the award. Q.—Is my compensation check from VA subject to seizure by a creditor who holds my note for $1000?

A.—No. Compensation due you is exempt from claims of your creditors and is not liable to attachment, levy or seizure by or under any legal or equitable process whatever.

Q.—I am getting a pension for a non-service-connected disability. If I get a Civil Service position, will my pension be taken away?

A.—Your payments will stop if you receive an annual income of $1000 or more if you are unmarried, or $2500 or more if you are married or have minor children.

Q.—I am paying my National Service Life Insurance premium by deductions from my compensation. What will happen to my insurance if my compensation should be discontinued?

A.—The insurance will lapse unless premiums are paid within 31 days from date when due.

Veterans and their dependents who desire information concerning their benefits and entitlements are invited to send inquiries to this newspaper. Their questions and the answers will be published in this column.

Shillington and his family will reside.

The Ohio Council of Churches has an annual budget of nearly $100,000 and a staff of five full time departmental secretaries.

Mr. Shillington has served Wesley Church for a little more than two years during which time there have been substantial gains in membership and attendance and extensive repairs made to the buildings. He sponsored the first United Church Canvass in Salem which resulted in an increase of $19,000 for the thirteen cooperating churches and has been serving as chairman of the United Church Canvass Committee for the Massachusetts Council of Churches. Before going to Salem he served the Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, and the First Methodist Church of Newton and was Executive Secretary of the Newton Council of Churches.

The Ohio position is one of the most challenging in American Protestantism.

Mr. Chagnon is the national chairman of the Committee on Socialized Medicine of the National Retail Druggists Association. He is a charter member of the Newton Kiwanis Club and is a member of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy Corporation, the University Club and the Hunnewell Club of Newton. He was appointed a member of the State Pharmacy Commission by Governor Saltonstall in 1939, and was reappointed by Governor Bradford.

His wife is the former Edna Reynolds of Newton.

Mr. Chagnon was named to the Public Works, Legislation, Mayor's Address and Ward Lines committees by President Wendell R. Bauckman of the Board of Aldermen.

The appointment of Mr. Chagnon brings to the Board of Aldermen a citizen who is well-known throughout the city and whose knowledge of city affairs is outstanding.

David J. Barry, Jr. Promoted to Corporal

David J. Barry Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Barry of 20 Curve street, West Newton, now holds the grade of corporal following the announcement of his promotion by Colonel Robert W. Witty, Commanding Officer of Yokota Air Force Base, where Cpl. Barry is presently stationed for duty with the United States Air Force in the occupation of Japan.

A former student of Newton high school, Airman Barry enlisted in the Air Force in July 1946 and after he was sworn in, was sent to Lakeland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas for basic training. Following completion of basic training and the first phase of "life as an airman" at the world's largest training center, he remained on duty in the States until alerted for overseas movement to the Far East Air Force.

Arriving in Japan in March 1947, Cpl. Barry was assigned to FFAF and joined the 1126th Military Police Company in Tokyo. In July of the same year he was reassigned to the Fifth Air Force and subsequently joined the 3d Communications Squadron at Yokota AFB. Yokota is one of the most prominent air bases in the Far East and is located only 30 miles from Tokyo, one of the largest cities in the world.

As a member of the 3d Communications Squadron, Cpl. Barry is performing duties as an installer-repairman for military telephones and telegraphs. He was discharged on the 19th of July 1949 but the following day he reenlisted for another three years of military service.

Gath Pledges Aid For Better Streets In Newtonville

After cooperating with Christian Herter, Jr., President of the Newton Republican Club to make the GOP moonlight sail down Boston Harbor Tuesday night for Newton Republicans, Harry Gath, Jr., a member of the club's executive committee and candidate for alderman from Ward 2, Newtonville, completed a busy week in his mid-summer campaign with a committee meeting at his home 600 California street, Monday night. It was enthusiastically received by his supporters as indicative of the intense interest Mr. Gath has in his home section, Newtonville.

Monday night Mr. Gath presented his petitions to the Board of Aldermen from over a 1000 Newton citizens asking the "city fathers" to build a swimming and wading pool at Albemarle Playground. This was bolstered by the hundreds of post cards received by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood endorsing such a project.

Following a buffet served by Mrs. Gath and his daughter Carole, a student at Frank L. Day school, and a prize winner in handiwork at the Carr playground, Mr. Gath explained to his committee the routine procedure of petitions before the Board of Aldermen as pertained to his Albemarle playground promotion. He said, "Naturally, I am grateful to the response given to my petitions and post cards for the building of a swimming and wading pool at Albemarle playground. It has aroused the interest of the Newton citizens and as a business owner and home taxpayer I propose to see it through to a finish. I will be far more able to do it as your alderman from Ward 2."

"It is my understanding that Mayor Lockwood is acquainting himself with facts and figures pertaining to the installation of such pools in other cities where river pollution is rampant and even those where it isn't. I advised him to investigate the George White Fund installation in Charlestown only this week. The reference of my petitions to the recreation department means further investigation and delay but it is routine procedure because such an installation is within their province. Their recommendations will be acted upon by the Board of Aldermen and the mayor."

"However, tonight I am calling to your attention that in the entire street resurfacing classification on the docket for the Board of Aldermen there was not one street improvement labelled for Ward 2. Why? Where does my opponent stand in this regard? He certainly must be cognizant of the street needs in Ward 2. In one of the largest street layout sections of Newton certainly Ward 2 merits some attention. I know positively that the property owners of Ward 2 have petitioned for new street construction without action being taken. Certain it is hundreds of other home owners know the needs of the Newtonville district. Personally, I think it is one of the main issues of the campaign. As alderman from Ward 2 I intend to sponsor more street improvements in the Newtonville area. In my book so-called "side streets" should have as much consideration as main thoroughfares."

Attractive Rooms At Y Make Home

Clean and attractive dormitory rooms are one of the many services which the Newton YMCA, located at 276 Church street in Newton Corner, renders to young men. YMCA residence halls have long been known as "a home away from home," and the Newton YMCA is no exception.

Forty-nine residents compose the population of this little community. Here young men from Newton and from out-of-town and from out-of-state cities are assisted in assimilating themselves into their new environment. Newton young men are likewise frequently helped in securing reservations in other YMCA's by the Newton staff.

A non-profit community room registry is also operated to list rooms in private homes where young men arriving in this community can secure desirable housing. If you know of any person needing help with a housing problem, please contact the Men's Division Secretary of the Newton YMCA or call Bigelow 4-6050.

REACTION TO HOOVER'S TALK

The Republicans would be wise to adopt Herbert Hoover's speech at Stanford University as the party document from which will be written the party platform in 1952 and on which the party will unite to challenge the Democrats on the single issue of reckless federal spending and the evils thereof.

The GOP has a new chairman, Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey. He says he is looking for a formula under which all factions within the party can be united. Mr. Hoover supplied it. Republican reaction to the message was entirely in harmony with its theme of eventual dictatorship or fascism if present statism trends are continued.

Those who did not hear him, should read the speech. It was a prediction of what lies ahead unless those who are leading us into socialism are halted NOW. It was not a partisan speech, not even a political speech. It was a talk by an elder statesman to all the people of America.

The Republicans should adopt its central thoughts as the party's promise of better days in America.

Recreation-

show an interest in helping the children to enjoy good, wholesome Recreation.

"The Administrative Staff has their office right here in City Hall. Everyone knows what administration means, but few know that they represent all of Newton's Recreation and the fine manner in which they meet and talk with people who have Recreation Problems is the best type of advertising that we can have."

The Supervisory Staff is made up of several classifications.

"Four supervisors with a total experience in Recreation work of close to 100 years."

"They are: Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard in charge of Neighborhood Centres and supervisor of a Playground District, and in charge of Newton's Halloween. Mrs. John F. Donahue, director of all Recreation League sports, and a supervisor of a Playground District. Mr. Nicholas P. Tedesco, director of all Boys' Craft activity and Supervisor of a Playground District. Mr. John B. Dacey, summer supervisor of a Playground District."

"Playground Leaders who work part time, some of them throughout the year. These people work part time during the school year and full time during vacation periods. Our Playground Leaders, many of whom have grown up on the playgrounds, are usually teachers and college students. We do employ 3 to 4 High School Seniors or Graduates each year. These people are chosen with extreme care and with the thought in mind that they will receive training this first year to qualify them for leadership responsibilities for the years to come. In all cases of this type, the new worker is assigned with our best and most experienced leaders."

"This summer we have a staff of 102 Playground Leaders and Assistant Leaders."

3. Activities
 "The activities on a playground are many and varied. To the uninitiated, the variety of activity may seem to present problems of leadership, but to the playground staff and the children, the activity is based on sound organization and planning."

"Each playground plans its own activity and is limited only by the requirements of special projects and activities which may involve other playgrounds."

"Attendance is never compulsory."

Community Service At Eliot Church

The Community Service sponsored by the churches of Newton will be held on Sunday, August 21, in the Eliot Church at 10 o'clock. The preacher will be Mr. Richard N. Hey, student assistant in the Eliot Church. The organist at this service will be Mr. Herbert Irvine, minister of music of the Eliot Church and Miss Charlotte Zimmer of the Eliot Church choir will be the soloist.

sory and yet our attendance totals are constantly on the increase.

"Our activity schedule is divided according to the four seasons and, of course, the heaviest schedule is during the summer season."

"I should like to give a listing of some of our activities. We actually list some 50 activities in our program. Here is a partial list with explanation in some instances. Baseball - 66 teams - 6 leagues. Softball - 8 teams - 1 league. Basketball - 28 teams - 3 leagues. Tennis - Instruction and 5 Tournaments. Badminton - 4 Tournaments. Archery - 2 areas. Skating - 3 areas. Dancing. Tobogganing. Paddle Tennis - on all playgrounds - Tournaments. Parties. Picnics. Sewing - Girl's Craft. Metal Craft. Woodwork - Boys' Craft. Furniture Repair. Gardening. Games of all kinds - for Children and Adults. Outdoor - Volleyball and Basketball."

4. Costs
 "A cost analysis involves figures and comparison as a general rule—but I do want to present a simple basic analysis of costs which should prove to Newton that Recreation is a valuable part of our city program."

"These figures represent a survey of 1948 costs and involve only three items. Total Expenditures $166,354.14. Per Capita Cost $2.28. Cost per person served 12.9 cents."

"The total cost and per capita cost do not answer the questions in the minds of our listeners, but the cost 12.9 cents per person served is the critical figure."

"Newton provides recreation for its citizens at a cost of 12.9 cents per single use of its recreation facilities. Meeting recreation needs at such a low cost is indicative of the services rendered by the City of Newton Recreation Department."

CRABGRASS

Some of the best green lawns and most of the dried and brown lawns are heavily infested with CRABGRASS. Lots of sunshine and a little water is just what this pest loves.

Millions of seeds are NOW being formed to be dropped on your lawn for next summer's growth.

Unless you remove these plants NOW! Then reseed with a good lawn seed mixture in late August you'll be sorry next summer.

New "Leaf absorption" method starts withering crabgrass in 3 days when using TAT C-Lect. the "selective" crabgrass killer.

Rate 1/2 pint per gallon of water per 500 square feet of lawn.

Half pint 85c Pint $1.50 Gallon $9.75

DO YOU KNOW MASSACHUSETTS?

DO YOU KNOW THAT... Building permits issued in 142 Massachusetts cities and towns during the first seven months of 1949 show 11,403 new dwelling units started and 1387 family accommodations created by improvements to existing buildings, as reported by the Department of Labor and Industries. This total, 12,790 units, was 11.8 per cent more than in the same months last year, but included some 3000 publicly built veteran dwellings, so that private home building for the seven months totaled about 11 per cent fewer dwellings than a year ago. . . . Massachusetts people have more than $6 billion in liquid available savings, an amount equal to the State's entire retail trade over nearly two years' time. It is distributed among more than 70 per cent of all residents who have incomes, according to estimates based on the Federal Reserve Board's national survey. . . . The State Housing Board now has executed contracts for financial assistance with 78 cities and towns of the Commonwealth, providing for 9033 new veterans' dwelling units, estimated to cost $112,212,000. Of these, 879 units have been completed and 3158 are under construction. . . . Thompson's Island in Boston Harbor is named for David Thompson, who bought the island following a trip to America in 1619. . . . Total unemployment claim load reported by the Division of Employment Security for the week ending August 6 shows a drop of 14,516 from the peak of 198,514 reached during the first week in June. . . . The town of Saugus has engaged a planning engineer to assist the local planning board in its continuing studies for community development. —Compiled by State Planning Board.

National Doubles
A Blazing Success

Woe is woe, for all the local players who entered the great National Doubles at Longwood Cricket Club have been put out, but if it's any consolation, it took much higher nationally ranked players than they were to do it. Two English Wightman Cup stars eliminated Virginia Boyer, Newton Highlands, and Lois Ladd, Winchester. Two ex-Yale and Princeton stars defeated Chauncey Steele of Cambridge and Bob Stewart of Boston. It took national champion Pancho Gonzales and his partner, ex-national champion Frank Parker, to run out Henri Salaun from Wellesley and Blair Hawley from Boston; and Talbert and Mulloy to exclude Al Everts, Newtonville, and Don Manchester, the playing dentist from Auburndale.

Otherwise it's an extremely cheerful week over there. Blessed with perfect weather (and don't think the tournament officials didn't pray for it), the opening day boasted the largest first day crowd since 1939. Tennis enthusiasts have been swarming to the courts ever since. Hammond street and the turnpike are lined with cars piled in bumper to bumper.

More and more men are sensibly shedding their jackets to watch, and one by one the girls are changing into shorts and jerseys. Mornings you're apt to catch glimpses of your favorite tennis player, be it male or female, most anywhere around a cleansing shop. Early evenings many of them congregate for supper at the local Howard Johnson's. But nontimes and on-ward 'til six you'll catch them all around the grounds at Longwood watching, practicing.

Longwood is as social as it is athletic this tennis week, what with a continual round of parties that started before the big dance Wednesday night, and won't end until the end of the week. But, oh yes, you come to see the tennis. . . .

If a preview of the two test-teams of Australian Davis Cuppers, John Bromwich and Bill Sidwell, and Frank Sedgman and George Worthington, in action is any indication, the Americans should have trouble in the final challenge round for the Davis Cup, however the accurate, hard-hitting Aussies should decide to pair. On the third day of play, both Australian teams won their matches in three quick sets.

Other international players of interest are the chunky Italians, Cucelli and del Bello. They speak not a word of English and this is their first time in America. They do their talking with their smiles and their rackets. Still another clever duo are the Frenchmen, Robert Abdessalam, and Paul Remy, who play the Italians in a quarter-final round the afternoon this paper goes to press.

Of the new young faces competing this year, about twelve of the boys are Junior Davis Cuppers. The program, originated by Colonel James H. Bishop of Culver Military Academy, affords the opportunity for boys under 21 to make the local Junior Davis Cup Squad in their city; then, early in the year, the cream of the season's crop are gathered together and entered in all the tournaments in the big eastern grass court "tennis circuit," ending up in the two Nationals, for tournament experience, and the chance to meet opposition against the world's best men players.

Late Wednesday afternoon, a surprise battle developed from the at-first uninspired play of Parker and Gonzales out in the grandstand against Southerners Jack Tuero and Arnold Saul. It got to be two sets apiece, and nip and tuck in the fifth, before Parker and Gonzales managed to unscramble themselves and just win.

Now that the competition is noticeably narrowed down, exhibition matches are being played every day as an extra added treat for tennis fans. And just to prove that tennis players, necessarily tough in their way, aren't "hard," Bill Powers, young Newton tennis booster, has succeeded in getting Frank Guernsey and tiny Felicissimo Ampom, champion of the Philippines, to consent to play an exhibition match in Newton on Friday.

I haven't mentioned the girls' play, which is steaming ahead about as expected with du Pont and Brough, Todd and Moran way out in the lead. Nor have I said anything about the veterans, men and women; or the fathers and sons. The men, as usual in sports, have the spotlight this week.

At this writing (early Thursday morning), three American teams are left in the running for the prize Doubles bowls, and five foreign teams. Last year the Men's Finals was between the four members of the American CAROL STONE, who will appear tomorrow night (August 22) in Eugene O'Neill's seagoing classic, "Anna Christie" at the South Shore Playhouse in Cohasset, is one actress whose reappearance at this famous theatre may be said to be virtually "by popular demand." For Carol Stone, whose first performance as "Anna" in the famous O'Neill drama the occasion will mark, is by no means a stranger to either Boston or Cohasset audiences. Her first appearance at the South Shore Playhouse was upon the occasion in this theatre in which Thornton Wilder first sent "Our Town" to audiences anywhere, just a decade ago.

Davis Cup Team, Schroeder, Parker, Mulloy, and Talbert. It's too close to make a safe bet this year, but it does look at the moment as if we might be lucky enough to see an Australian-American final. But between now and Sunday, anything can happen. That's what makes the National Doubles so darn exciting. We all hate to think of the let-down when it's all over!

No "Shopping I Would Go" Anymore

Completely unexpected came a telephone call the other night; a quick interview the following morning; and a mighty happy girl the moment afterwards. For I am graduating to Boston to work on the "Boston Herald", a long-awaited dream come true. I'm sorry, though, to leave this shopping column in such a rush, and not to have a lot of shops and interesting people in them to write about this week. It's been grand working with the "Newton Graphic", John Fielding, its editor, and I hope that the column will be carried on by someone else who'll have just as much fun with it — even in the slow summer months! — as I did. Wish I didn't have to tear off so fast, with so little advance warning to anyone, but I start Monday. I want to thank Graphic readers and shopkeepers right here for all the friendly and encouraging words about "A Shopping." I shall miss the Newton paper, though that doesn't mean that I'm not terribly glad to have this chance in Boston!

Sunday School same hour
Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8

"Mind" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 21. Golden Text: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord?" (Romans 11:34).

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"And God spake all these words, saying, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:13). Correlative passages from "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"The First Commandment is my favorite text. It demonstrates Christian Science. It inculcates the trinity of God, Spirit, Mind; it signifies that man shall have no other spirit or mind but God, eternal good, and that all men shall have one Mind" (p. 340).

Mrs. Alice Hoey of 82 Richardson street died last week in a Wellesley private hospital after a long illness. A former chief operator in Newton for the telephone company, she was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Percival Berkeley who has been on the faculty of the Andover-Newton Theological School since 1909, has reached the retirement age of 70 but has been asked to stay on in his chair as instructor in Old Testament and will do so for another year at least.

Recent Deaths

Harry M. Sutton

Funeral services were held August 13 for Harry Melvin Sutton, 31 Westbourne road, Newton Centre, who died August 10 at the Deaconess Hospital after an illness of six months.

He was a native of Keene, N. H., where he was born October 5, 1887, and a graduate of the class of 1912 at Brown University.

He was a consulting management engineer and had his business at Newton Centre, under the name of H. M. Sutton, Engineers. He was a member of the Society for the Advancement of Mechanical Engineers and American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He was also a member of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

He leaves his wife and three daughters: Miss Barbara Sutton, Newton Centre, Mrs. Aldith Allen, Boulder, Colorado; and Mrs. Nance White of Greenville, South Carolina. Also surviving are five sisters: Mrs. Ralph Keith of Keene, N. H., Mrs. Varne Parker of Pittsburg, Mrs. John Chick of Titusville, Pennsylvania and Mrs. Paul Walcott of Hackensack, N. J., and a brother, Edward Sutton of Keene, N. H.

Reverend Edward C. Herrick, D. D., president-emeritus of Andover-Newton Theological School officiated at the services at the Newton Cemetery.

Thomas E. Foley

Funeral services for Thomas E. Foley, husband of Mrs. Mary E. Foley, were conducted from his home, 15 Shirley street, West Newton, August 12, with a solemn requiem mass at St. Bernard's Church.

Celebrant of the mass was Reverend Francis P. Sullivan, assisted by Reverend John A. Saunders, deacon, and Reverend Robert E. Brennan, sub-deacon. The organist was Miss Esther M. Costello, John Mahoney, tenor, sang the "Benedictus" and Mrs. Francis Kilroy sang "Agnus Dei." Bearers were Charles Roach, Gilbert Chasson, John Cloran, John Egan, Ernest Lindley, and Lyn Perkins. Delegations were present from Waltham Machine Works and St. Bernard's Holy Name Society.

Interment was at St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham, with committal prayers by Father Saunders.

Emma N. Harrington

Mrs. Emma Nickerson Harrington, 80, of 29 Ricker road, West Newton, widow of William W. Harrington, died August 12, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, following an illness of six months.

She was a native of Provincetown and was a graduate of Newton High School. She later attended Boston University and was a member of the Speech Readers' Guild of Boston.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Louis H. Carter, Miss Mary E. Harrington, both of Newton and Mrs. John R. Sheehan, New York. Also surviving are two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were held at the Newton Cemetery.

Ethel G. Ball

Funeral services for Mrs. Ethel G. (Carmichael) Ball, widow of Edward J. Ball, Sr., 107 Webster Park, West Newton, were held Saturday afternoon at the Newton Cemetery Chapel.

Paul Dexter Wentworth, organist, played "Gloria in Excelsis," "Amen," "Canticum," "Calmata," "Marryott" and "Sweet Hour of

Smith-Oakes

Gladioli and lilies decorated the Belmont Methodist Church, Friday, August 12, when Miss Virginia Marjorie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Frank Smith of Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. William J. Oakes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Oakes of San Diego, California. The Reverend Joseph Imier officiated at the ceremony and a reception followed.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses and gardenias with her off-the-shoulder gown of Chantilly lace and satin, en traine. Matching lace edged her veil. All the bridal attendants were gowned in pale blue made with lace bodices and taffeta skirts. The maid of honor, Miss Maud Minton, Birmingham, Michigan, carried pink rubrum lilies with lavender tulle and wore a matching headress, and the bridesmaids carrying pink rubrum lilies with pink tulle to match their headresses, were Mrs. Harry Gee, Dearborn, Michigan, Miss Joan Connell of Needham, a cousin of the bride; Mrs. Harry Ellis of South Natick and Miss Joan Herring of Newton.

Mr. Delwin Smith, Newtonville, was best man for his brother. The ushers were Ronald M. Hawkins, Milton; Mary McKay of Newton Centre; Mr. Frank L. Ogilvie, Jr. of Newtonville and Mr. Henry J. Gee of Dearborn, Michigan.

The bride was graduated from Ogontz Junior College and from the University of Michigan, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. The bridegroom was graduated from Georgia Institute of Technology and received his master's degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He served as an ensign in the Navy. After a wedding trip to Banff and along the Pacific Coast, they will make their home in San Diego, California.

Thompson-Woodard

At a double ring ceremony at the Second Church in West Newton, Mabel Joan Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson, 34 Kensington avenue, West Newton, became the bride of Kenneth Stuart Woodard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodard, 15 Cross street, West Newton. Dr. R. Clyde Yarbrough officiated at the 4 o'clock service on Sunday, August 14.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and satin with an overdress of lace. Her illusion finger-tip veil was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

Doris Cardwell of Greenfield was maid of honor and was gowned in blue tulle taffeta and lace with matching mitts and coronet. As bridesmaid, Diane Thompson of Newton wore yellow taffeta and lace, mits to match, and a braided taffeta and net coronet. Both carried mixed pastel bouquets.

Ivar L. Sjostrom, Jr., provided the wedding music on the organ, while Mrs. Rose Hillson of West Newton, wearing a white dress with a corsage of red roses, sang several selections.

The best man was George A. Woodard of Hamstead, N. H., and ushers included John Purcell, Joseph Gilmore and Robert Thompson, all of Newton, and Robert LeVie of Waltham.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Kingham of Crossley Green, England, aunt and uncle of the bride's mother, who are on a visit to this country. Out of town guests from Maine included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simpson and daughters, Grace and Diane, and Mrs. Percy Cormier, all of Millinocket, and Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Reed of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Woodard of Auburn.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School and the Newton-Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Woodard was graduated from Newton High School and served 3 years in the U. S. Army.

After a reception held in the church parish house, the couple left for a wedding trip to the White Mountains. On their return they will live at 1821 Washington street, Auburndale.

THE RESTORATION IS COMPLETED, and the Public House emerges as a graceful and authentic country inn. It was founded in 1771 by Colonel Ebenezer Crafts as a coaching tavern in Sturbridge, Mass.

This is how the PUBLIC HOUSE at Sturbridge, Mass., looked before its restoration in 1937, when its past glories lay dormant in a boarding house called The Elms.

By HELEN L. RING

There are still 223 matters awaiting final action, 117 of which are still in the committee unreported says Rep. Robert Murphy, Democratic floor leader in his report to the House of Representatives. It is now believed by many leading members of both parties that they will wind up legislative business by the end of August. Many members of the House have not been attending sessions as they are away on their summer vacations. The members remaining are very anxious to wind up business and join their families at their summer homes. The former President of the Senate, Samuel Wragg, spoke to the Senate members on Wednesday telling them not to be too much concerned about proroguing so late for when he served in the Senate in 1938 they prorogued as late as August 24th.

The bill to give the Department of Education authority to enforce the law to outlaw discrimination against applicants to colleges and other educational institutions because of their race, color or creed was heard in the House on its enactment. Representatives Howard Whitmore Jr. and George Rawson, both of Newton, led the fight to oppose the enactment of the measure. Both stated that it was an outrage to allow the measure to become a law, that it will not probe discrimination. Rep. Harold Putnam, Republican, of Needham said that it is the finest piece of legislation enacted this year and asked not to strike out enactment clause. The bill won on a standing vote and 117-82 on a roll call. Rep. Charles Gibbons, of Stoneham, Republican floor leader of the House and many other leading Republicans voted for the measure. The bill now goes to the Senate for enactment.

H-1230 to allow $2,000 exemption of unearned income in state income tax returns went down to utter defeat in the House on Monday. This measure was approved by the Senate last week. After a hot and bitter debate to push the bill for enactment by Rep. Whitmore of Newton a roll call was taken, 94-90 to refer the bill to the next annual session.

Investigation of the insurance companies of Massachusetts by the legislative committee on Insurance was recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means. The bill to allow the State Milk Control Board to control the retail price of milk was passed to be engrossed and sent to the House for action. The motion for reconsideration was defeated on a roll call. Senator Michael H. Condon, Pittsfield, Democrat, said that in his district housewives are getting milk for 15 or 16 cents a quart while the control board says that they ought to be paying 20 cents a quart. (The writer is paying twenty-six cents a quart.)

A petition to balk the school bus referendum was filed in the House by Rep. Charles Gibbons of Stoneham and Mason Sears of Milton, former State Senator and a brother-in-law of U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. It was defeated on a roll call 106-98. If the petition was passed by the House (it requires a two-thirds vote for passage) then the bill on the petition would be debated by the legislature and it would forestall an initiative petition which is now in progress by securing twenty thousand signatures to place it on the ballot in November 1950. The present law allows transportation by which cities and towns appropriating money for school transportation must apply the privilege to private as well as to the public school children. Parochial schools are included in private institutions. Rep. Gibbons said he believed in separation of church and state but didn't think there was any connection of church and state in the matter of pupils riding to church schools in public buses. Speaker of the House, Thomas J. O'Neill said he was against the initiative petition and hoped the necessary signatures would not be obtained. He asked Rep. Gibbons to join with him in asking citizens not to sign the petition. Rep. Gibbons in reply said he will do all he could to prevent the obtaining of signatures. Rep. Murphy opposed the suspension of rules to allow the petition to be committed to the Rules Committee. The House refused to suspend rules to admit the bill providing bus transportation for school children regardless of race, creed, color or religion.

Miss Virginia Marjorie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Frank Smith of 228 Mill street, and William Jacob Oakes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oakes of San Diego, Calif., were married Aug. 12 at a candlelight service in the Belmont Methodist Church, with the Rev. Joseph D. Imier officiating. The couple will live in San Diego where they will go via Banff, Canada, and the Pacific Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Weston Littlefield, Jr. (Bette Brackett) of Waltham are parents of a son, Elmer Weston Littlefield 3rd, born August 9, at Richardson House. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Littlefield of Mt. Vernon street and Mr. and Mrs. D. Earl Brackett of West Newton are the grandparents. Mr. David E. Brackett of Escanaba, Mich., is the great grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Durkee of Rochester, Vt., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Eloise Durkee to Mr. Donald L. Blake Stillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Stillman of 33 Whitney road. A spring wedding is planned.

Mrs. Charles L. Wilkins of 62 Page road passed away Aug. 10. Funeral services were private.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Harrington (Ruth Andress) are parents of a son, Andrew Neal Harrington, born August 6, at Richardson House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Harrington of West Newton and Mrs. J. Mace Andress of Clyde street.

Mrs. Jennie B. Taintor of 84 Walker street was a week end guest of her cousin, Miss Christine MacMillan in Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mark (Dorothy Anderson) and their young son, "Bucco," are vacationing on Nantucket.

Mrs. L. S. Miner and her son, John, of Syracuse, N. Y., were recent guests of Mrs. Miner's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beebe of 949 Washington street.

Miss Julia Bryant Paine Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodrich Parker, and Mr. Richard Henry Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Haas of 371 Highland avenue, were married recently in St. John's Episcopal Church, Lowell avenue.

The Rev. Arthur H. Block of the Lutheran Church spoke on "Learning, Living, Looking" Sunday morning.

Janse Discusses Condition of Streets

Returning to Newton Monday night from his Cape Cod summering to meet in weekly session with his well known "49ers" organization, John A. Janse, candidate for mayor, accepted the quips of his supporters commenting upon the "tan you are wearing and the where-did-you-get-it" query. Mr. Janse gave ready answer to them when he said, "It certainly never came from the Charles River beaches which the present city administration has allowed all Newton to suffer from due to Mayor Lockwood's disinterest in the summer time play for Newton citizens and their youngsters which would definitely ly contribute to their good health and recreation."

He continued, "While I am on the subject of 'tanning', I'll talk to the record of the docket that was before the Newton Board of Aldermen last Monday night regarding street repair appropriations. According to the docket $113,600 was to be appropriated for the 'patch work quilt' program of Mayor Lockwood just a few weeks away from election day. What a measly and paltry sum to be spending when in the 18 square miles of geographic area of Newton, every taxpayer and home owner as well as rent payer well knows the poor condition of his own thoroughfare. Certain so-called political columnists, bow-tied to Mayor Lockwood's coat-tails, have openly criticized me for emphasizing this issue of street repairs. For their information I am going to continue to emphasize it and 'bring it home' to the thousands of Newton taxpayers I expect to meet in the next few weeks.

"The trouble with the average Newton taxpayer is that they are not informed of the doings at city hall. Certainly, I am in a position to know because my business contracts with Newton pre-date even Mayor Lockwood's arrival in the city as a new citizen. My observations on this subject alone of street repairs is personal because my trucks covered every street in Newton. Therefore, I think I am better qualified to pass judgment on Newton's street needs than the present incumbent.

"You will note in the $113,600 docket set-up that it only called for a 'street resurfacing' job. There isn't a single mention in there of a street rebuilding job which many Newton streets need from base foundation to top-surface dressing. Mr. Mayor, you cannot accomplish that with a poor dozen improvements just to gather votes before Nov. 8. The whole 'patch here and patch there' program called for no intelligent long-range planning as to building nor financing. I have full confidence in the intelligence of the Newton citizens and taxpayers knowing that Mayor Lockwood is using the street improvement act as a political football thinking his 'heavy line' defense will hold the 'free thinking' citizens offense attack through such chicanery and strategy as he uses 'coaching' the city government.

"Just to prove that I am stating facts since I made the request of Newton citizens to communicate with me at my home, 26 Greenwood street, Newton Centre, regarding street conditions I have received not only scores of letters but telephone calls regarding 'every man's street is his own thoroughfare'. I especially ask you pioneering '49ers' to have your friends and neighbors continue such communication so that when I am occupying the mayor's office in 1950 I can give hearty thanks to you loyal '49ers' for making it possible for me to formulate a whole two year program of street rebuilding not alone 'repairs' and 'resurfacing'."

Following the meeting W. Edward Wilson, chairman of the Janse campaign committee outlined organization plans in the seven wards of the city.

Newton Dentist To Lecture In Europe

Chesterbrook School Site Is Approved

The Board of Aldermen approved the new location of the Chesterbrook School at the so-called Trowbridge House, 734 Centre street, Newton, and voted to report favorably on the application of the school for a certificate of incorporation last night. The incorporators had previously requested permission to have the school at 142 Homer street, Newton Centre, but the request was withdrawn after residents opposed the petition.

LEAKY HEAD TEST

Because leaks always suggest water loss it is surprising how few motorists consider gas leakage around the cylinder head gasket when overheating develops. Unless a gasket is in good shape and the head is drawn down properly there's a good chance that combustion gases from one of the cylinders will blow into the cooling system. This brings an excessive overheating because gas pressure in the system forces coolant to go out the overflow in quantities.

Testing for this is simple. Take off the radiator cap and look into the radiator when the engine is started up. Have someone accelerate the engine. Each time the motor speeds up coolant will spurt to the top of the radiator. A slow rise of the coolant level will mean radiator clogging and possibly a collapsing lower hose. Agitation is a real clue to a head gasket leak.

HERE'S YOUR TACHOMETER

To those who have been inquiring regarding the possibility of installing a tachometer to count the number of engine revolutions per minute, I am glad to be able to pass along the specific information that a good tachometer costs approximately $18. It is necessary to purchase a cable-casing at $3.50 and an adapter at $15. Installation charges would be extra.

If you have been one of the many who wonder where the tachometer is hooked up I can also report that the usual take-off is at the distributor shaft. Probably nothing gives a better idea of the advantages of overdrive than to see by means of a tachometer just how the engine slows down in proportion to car speed.

KEEP THEM IN MIND

When an oil filter is installed on an older engine it is usually necessary to replace the cartilage after a few hundred miles of use. This is due to the fact that there will be so much foreign matter in the engine.

When trying to find out why a steering gear binds it is always necessary to disconnect the drag link and allow the gear to operate by itself for a test and possible adjustment.

MECHANIC JOE SPEAKING

"If your car's engine is right up to snuff you should be able to run along in high gear with the throttle closed, and without any trace of struggle or bucking. A still better test is to drive the car hard for fifteen minutes, then cut back to the idling test. In working the engine's parts will have expanded freely. Any bucking as the speed is cut down to idling may indicate too little valve tappet clearance or a general inefficiency from uneven compression, poor rings or just plain lack of good engine design."

REAR TO THE FORE

The rear bumper always has had to withstand the corrosive effects of large volumes of exhaust gases but this has more recently been complicated by growing use of oil additives which add more chemicals to the exhaust. At best the rear bumper and any other exposed chrome plated parts at the back of the car will need more frequent polishing. Another way to help matters is to install a tail pipe extension of the type that deflects the gases to the ground. An interesting variation on this theme is the new tail pipe fitting which shoots the gases directly to the road. Looking at this chromed adornment from the rear it appears as if the tail pipe had no opening at all. The manufacturers maintain there is no added back-pressure.

FOR YOUR TOURING SAFETY

In driving through the mountains you can safely bet that any curve will either be on a downgrade or an upgrade. This means either braking or shifting gears in addition to turning and horn-ing.

One of the interesting things about cars, and often one of the important ones, is refusal to give good acceleration immediately after a sudden stop. Just don't count on it because there is likely to be disturbance of the fuel level in the float bowl.

On downgrades the gear shift lever is less likely to slip back into the neutral position if you use low gear instead of second or high.

COOLS ON WAY DOWN

Whether the engine heats up right at the top of a hill or on the way up the best policy is to try to get to the bottom again so as to cool down the parts involved. If you have reached the top this means going down the other side with the throttle closed (but with ignition still on). If you are on the way up try to turn around and go back to the bottom. After the motor has cooled down a bit you can raise the hood and survey the situation in greater comfort. Also less water will be lost out the overflow pipe by this process. When a hot engine is switched off it is too free to stew in its own heat.

SAVES POWER AND GAS

In any effort to save gasoline it will help to view the job as one of saving power. It is surprising how many drivers waste power at the very time when they are trying to save fuel. They race through the gears, climb hills too fast, accelerate too fast in high gear and hit a too high speed average. This power waste is reflected in the greater need for braking. Every time the brakes are applied gasoline is being wasted, indirectly. More miles per gallon means fewer stops per mile, and less flourish of power.

THEY NEED TIGHTENING

To avoid embarrassment, and expense of throwing a wheel cover it is a good idea to tighten the prongs which serve to hold the covers in place on the wheels. This must be done judiciously which is a five-dollar word for carefully. No tools are needed. Just press the prongs outward a little by hand, then try snapping on the covers to see if they fit more snugly. When you use a tool to remove them, and find the job a little harder, you will know you have succeeded in tightening them.

QUERIES OF THE WEEK

Q. There is a peculiar noise in the left front wheel when the brakes are applied. Inspection shows that the shoes are working properly and that the retractor springs are in good condition. We have even replaced the wheel bearings. H.N.L.

A. How about the brake backing plate?

Q. Where is the manufacturer's serial number on the motor of my car? At the bottom of my letter I have given you the details as to make, model, year, etc. H.M.C.B.

A. On this car the engine and serial numbers are identical. You will find it stamped on the top of the clutch housing.

Q. In all my years of motoring I've never had oil come out the top of the radiator. But this has happened, and naturally I'm puzzled. K.K.R.

A. No need to be mystified by this. There is a bad cylinder head gasket, combustion gases blowing into the cooling system and carrying oil with them. There may also be a cracked head or valve seat. Check carefully when you take the head off.

Q. Is it safe to use oil in the cooling system to check water pump squealing? G.H.D.

A. Yes, if the oil is the emulsifying type used as rust inhibitor. It will help to keep the cooling system in better condition.

Q. My speedometer is quite noisy but when I took out the cable I couldn't see any kink in it. So I am still using the old cable. Do you think that the drive gear in the transmission causes this? Wm.K.

A. Often a cable can be kinked without this being visible. The only way to be sure is to lay the cable on a table or level floor and roll it. I do not believe that the drive gear is involved in this.

Q. The engine of my car dies out on upgrades and tends to spit back through the carburetor, but it picks up again if I choke it a little. Does this prove that the fuel pump is weak? A.W.Jr.

A. No. If the fuel pump were failing to deliver sufficient fuel it wouldn't help to choke. The need for choking proves a lean mixture. This might be due to a bad air leak around the intake manifold system or to a clogged high speed carburetor jet.

Q. I checked over the brakes the other day and was surprised to find that there is a plain evidence of uneven wear on the linings. I am sure this isn't due to incorrect adjustment of the shoes, and the drums definitely are not warped. Any ideas? J.T.W.

A. At this point it would be well to consider weak retractor springs for the brake shoes. If the car is old it would pay you to replace all these springs.

Presenting the New

Cadillac Coupe de Ville

ILLUSTRATED above is the Coupe de Ville—an ultra smart new Cadillac body type, designed for those who seek the low-swept lines and open-airiness of a convertible—combined with the comfort, convenience and safety of a closed car.

It is a classic example of modernity and practicality—one of the most desirable and most useful models ever to issue from the boards of Cadillac designers.

greatest superiority lies in the chassis on which it is built. For, like all Cadillacs, the core of its goodness is found in its performance—in the wonderful capacity of its new V-type engine; in the soft, even, restful manner in which it rolls over the highway; in the easy, effortless response to steering wheel and brakes. It is, truly, a symphony in motion.

We should be pleased indeed to give you full details about this wonderful new body type—as well as the other beautiful Cadillac models which grace our showroom. Why not come in at your earliest convenience?

Your City Government

The fourth of a series of Public Relations Programs over the radio took place Monday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. Harold T. Pillsbury, Director of Research and Moderator for this series of broadcasts, in introducing William S. Pratt, Director of Public Works, stated "Permanent public improvements have always held the interest of our citizenry. Then, too, the City's Engineering, Street and Water Departments are constantly executing planned public improvements. . . . Carrying out such directions as may be issued by the Director of Public Works."

Mr. Pratt, discussing the importance of coordination on all matters affecting the Engineering, Street and Water Departments of the City of Newton, had the following to say:

In order that the general public may have a complete understanding of the operation of the Department of Public Works, it is necessary that they know what function the Public Works Departments perform and what departments are responsible. Those concerned, besides the office of Public Works, are the Engineering, the Street and the Water Departments.

The Engineering Department is responsible for all engineering for all departments throughout the City. The Street Department performs the following functions: Maintenance and repair of streets; bridges, public property, sidewalks and curbing; Street cleaning; Collection of garbage, ashes and papers; Snow and ice removal; Maintenance of surface drainage and sanitary sewers; Traffic signs and their maintenance; Street lighting; Care of trees and grounds; Control of pests; Maintenance of cemeteries; Street, drain and sewer construction; planting of new trees; Construction of new playgrounds and parks; and many other functions of a lesser nature. The Water Department is in charge of the supply and distribution of water throughout the entire City.

I shall not attempt to give in detail, information concerning

Dr. Edwin C. Leonard Announces Candidacy

Announcement was made this week by Dr. Edwin C. Leonard, Jr., of 50 Green Park, Newton, that he will be a candidate for Alderman in Ward 7 at the city election in November.

Dr. Leonard, whose office is located at 352 Centre street, Newton, was born in Newton educated in the schools here and is a graduate of the High School. In 1925 he graduated from the Massachusetts College of Optometry and later took a graduate study course at Ohio State University, from which he also graduated.

Dr. Leonard has practiced at Newton Corner for over 20 years. He is a past president of the Boston Society of Optometrists and is a lecturer and writer of optometric subjects. For ten years he was chairman of the New England Conference of Optometrists.

He is a past president of the Mens' Club of Elliot Church, the Hunnewell Club of Newton and a past treasurer and director of the Newton Improvement Association. In addition he is director of the Newton Y.M.C.A. and is active in the work of the Newton Boy Scouts.

Dr. Leonard and his wife, the former Madeline Somerby of Newton, reside at 337 Waverly avenue and have four children and two grandchildren.

Letters of Appeal Are Being Mailed

Letters of appeal were scheduled to be mailed today to launch The Salvation Army 1949-1950 Greater Boston Annual Appeal in Newton.

With approximately 7000 letters to Newton residents marking the preliminary steps toward meeting the campaign goal of $20,000, the Appeal for the middle of September by a house-to-house canvass to be conducted by volunteer workers.

General chairman of the Newtons is Dwight Colburn, with Orville O. Clapper and Walter A. Hood vice chairmen. William M. Cahill, of the Newton-Waltham Trust Company, is treasurer.

Directing the canvassing will be Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, of 45 Homewood Road, Waban. Mrs. Huber will supervise the work of the volunteer workers and the residential chairmen in the Newton sections.

In the letters, Chairman Colburn states:

"The people of Newton are now asked to participate in The Salvation Army's Annual Appeal for urgently needed support of its 30 institutions, centers and departments in Greater Boston.

"Our community is directly served by a number of units in this federation of social service agencies, with its heart to God and hand to man. Among them are the Evangelical Booth Home for unmarried mothers; the Booth Memorial Hospital in Brookline; Wonderland fresh-air camp for boys and girls, mothers and babies, in Sharon; the Missing Persons Bureau; and the Men's Social Service Department. "More than this, the Appeal will aid the community in a unique manner, peculiar to The Salvation Army. A portion of the gross receipts will be retained here, administered by a local committee without red tape, salaries or overhead expense, for local service.

"Your free-will, voluntary gift to an organization which raises the fallen and aids the helpless—without distinction of race, creed or color—is earnestly solicited.

"A card and envelope are enclosed for your convenience in answering. Your gift would be most gratefully received."

Steal Pistols and Carbines at Armory

A complete arsenal was stolen from the state armory at 1137 Washington street, West Newton, during Monday night or early Tuesday morning, by thieves who forced a supply room door and escaped with 23 pistols and seven carbines.

The break, which may have been engineered by a potential bandit gang seeking arms, was discovered Tuesday morning by Robert Davis, an employee at the armory.

The missing pistols are regulation service 45 caliber automatics and the carbines are the .30 caliber models used for the first time in the last war.

No sign of a break in the outside door of the armory was discovered, although the supply room door was forced. Company K of the 101st infantry drilled at the armory Monday night and police consider it possible that the break was engineered by some one who hid in the building until every one had left. The armory is also used as headquarters by Company F of the 101st infantry.

A carbine was found leaning against the supply room door, indicating the possibility that some one stood guard with the weapon while the looting was in progress.

Urges Motorists to Use Extra Care

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department today urged motorists to use extra care in travelling to and from their places of employment.

"This department," the Chief stated, "has received many complaints during the day from citizens concerning the excessive speed of motorists going to work in the morning and returning home in the evening.

"A good number of accidents occur between the hours of 6:00 and 9:00 a.m., and 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. These could be avoided by allowing a little more time in the morning, and a few extra minutes instead of hurrying home in the evening.

"Do not take chances," the Chief concluded, "Play Safe—comply with all traffic rules and regulations."

Mabey's Given Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Emory A. Mabey of 74 Charles street, Auburndale, were tendered an open house and reception at their home on Sunday in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

About 100 relatives, neighbors and friends attended the affair which was arranged by members of the family including Mr. and Mrs. Hervey O. Mabey of Wellesley, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Mabey of Newton Highlands, J. Norman Mabey of Auburndale and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig of Whitinsville.

The home was decorated in a yellow color scheme with roses, gladioli and snapdragons. Mrs. Mabey wore a gown of gray silk with an orchid corsage. Several gifts of money, flowers and messages of congratulation were received by the couple. A buffet lunch was served and the anniversary cake was decorated with yellow flowers and gold leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Mabey, the former Laura May Brown, are both natives of Prince Edward Island where they were married August 16, 1899. After residing there for two years they came to Cambridge, Mass., later moving to Auburndale.

Mr. Mabey is a retired foreman of the Boston and Albany Railroad. He is a member of the Old Fellows and a Mason. Mrs. Mabey is a member of the Rebekahs and they are both members of the Centenary Methodist Church of Auburndale.

Besides their children they have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

To Receive Navy Unit Commendation

The Navy Department has selected Anthony J. Danca of 63 Hanson road, Newton Center, to receive the Navy Unit Commendation.

The award is made as a result of his service aboard the USS Zeilin, an attack transport ship, during the battle of the Lingayen Gulf and MacArthur's invasion of the Philippines, January 11-12, 1945. During the engagement, a Japanese suicide plane hit the ship killing several men.

Chief Yeoman Danca is a paid member of Organized Surface Division 1-5, U. S. Naval Reserve, and attends drill one evening a week at the Reserve Training Center, Boston.

In addition to his newly received Navy Commendation, he wears the American Defense, Asiatic, American Theatre, Philippine Liberation, Navy Occupation Service Medal, China Service Medal, Good Conduct Medal and Victory Medal Ribbons.

He is employed as a shipper by the Angier Products Co. of Cambridge.

Awarded Scholarship In Physical Therapy

Miss Margaret Ann Dolan, 72 Concolor avenue, and Miss Barbara M. Shields, 17 Park street, both of Newton, have been awarded a scholarship in physical therapy under the nationwide professional training program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

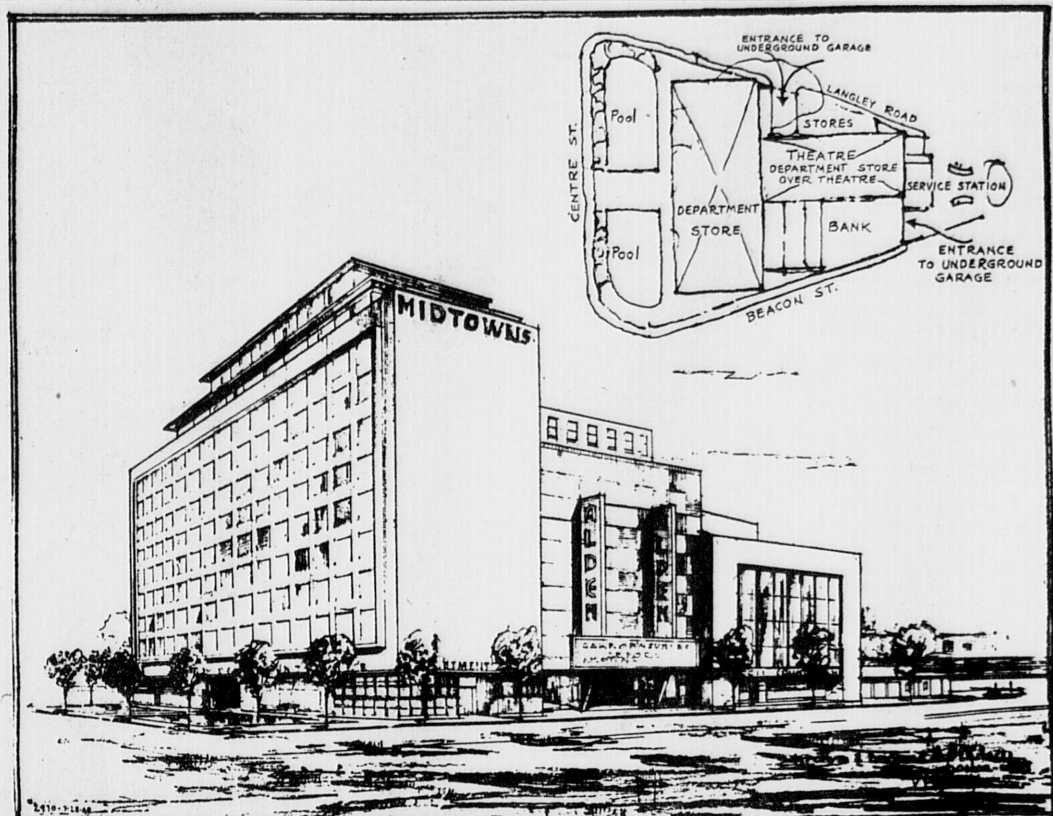

Joseph F. Nee, Massachusetts representative for the Foundation has announced.

Both Miss Dolan and Miss Shields are studying at Boston University, one of many schools and institutions throughout the country approved for this type of training by the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education and Hospitals.

In announcing their awards, Mr. Nee explained that physical therapists trained under the National Foundation program are not obligated to confine their work to treatment of infantile paralysis exclusively. He pointed—AWARDED—

Streamlined Shopping District Being Planned for Newton Centre

A MODERN DEPARTMENT STORE, theater, bank, and an office building will be included in this new shopping center proposed for erection in Newton Centre, near the junction of Beacon Street and Langley Road. The plan includes a large automobile parking area in the basement of the new block. The project would utilize the present site of the Mason School, which will be rebuilt later when school appropriations and construction costs are more closely joined. The center is one of several planned in Greater Boston.

Decentralization of Boston's business has struck again—this time in Newton where Mayor Harold Lockwood announced this week plans for building a huge department store, theatre, bank, and general shopping center in the midst of the Newtons.

Beautification of Newton Center Square, as well as off-street parking facilities in the basement of the streamlined shopping center will be attained in the project proposed by outside business interests for erection near the corners of Langley Road and Beacon street in Newton Centre, the mayor stated.

The release issued this week by the mayor, is as follows:

Considerable pressure has been applied for replacement of the Mason, Rice and Bowen Schools in Newton Centre. However, the general program of long range planning has not provided funds with which to erect new schools, at present day cost, without the City receiving sufficient funds from the disposal of the present site of the Mason School to warrant the outlay.

With this situation in mind the prospective development of the location at Newton Centre has been studied and a possible use of the area well considered. The increased costs of transportation to and from Boston, which has been suffering from decentralization of retail trade for some years, emphasizes the present need of a full sized department store to serve this large city, forming an outstanding market.

It is accordingly suggested that the site of the present Mason School Building be replaced by a modern department store, that a modern theatre be constructed east of the department store and the balance of the land be used for a bank, store and salesroom buildings as shown in the sketch.

To avoid a parking problem the plan includes building a large parking space throughout the lower level or entire basement area of the land. This will supply free parking to all tenants and patrons without use of streets, with properly planned entrances and exits.

It is obvious that such a project does not avoid the need of previously discussed off-street parking for Newton Centre. At the same time such a development will prove a major aid to all shops in the general area by enabling customers to purchase throughout the section and enjoy improved accessibility and convenience, attracting an improved flow of trade.

At the same time the Centre Street front of the land will be maintained as a well landscaped area, supporting the attractive appearance of the square.

The plan includes not only the realization of a substantial value for the land but an appreciable tax income on property which hitherto has been only expense, thus warranting erection and maintenance of a new modern Mason-Rice School in an improved location away from central traffic problems. This entire project is presented for study by the City by outside interests.

Public Schools To Re-Open Here Monday, September 12

The opening day for all public schools in Newton has been set for Monday, September 12.

For pupils transferring from private and parochial schools to the tenth grade of the Newton High School placement tests will be given on Thursday, September 8, at 8:30 A.M. Registration for these tests should be made on Tuesday, September 6, or Wednesday, September 7, in the Guidance Office at the high school. Pupils should bring their ninth-grade school records.

Other pupils transferring from schools outside of Newton may register on September 6, 7, 8, or 9 in the Guidance Office. Appointments for conferences about programs of study may be made by telephoning Lasell 7-6267.

Three Polio Cases Reported Last Week

For the week ending August 19, three new polio cases were reported in Newton, according to an announcement this week by the Health Department. All three cases were non-paralytic and occurred in different sections of the city.

The Health Department states that the peak of the season should almost be reached. There are no uninvolved populous areas for the disease to spread into and cause a secondary rise, since some cases have occurred in every region of the State.

Play School Children Give Demonstration

Children who attend the Play School at the Rebecca Pomroy House, a Red Feather Agency, gave a demonstration for their mothers and relatives last Friday afternoon.

The program opened with a doll carriage parade in which Priscilla Farrell, Carol Ann Rush, Rosalie Gaziano, Judy, Jane and Joan Sullivan, Sandra and Linda Allen, Janice Morrison, Mary Ellen Connolly, Bonnie Algeri, Rosemarie Conzo, Anne Cahill, took part. Priscilla and Rosalie won the prizes for their unusual decorations. The boys participating in the tricycle parade were Don Jackson, Jackie Curley, Pat McLeod, Paul Shaughnessy and Freddie Ricken, the prize being won by Freddie. There were folk dances and folk songs and group singing by the girls. The boys performed tricks on the jungle gym. Judy, Jane and Joan Sullivan sang a trio, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

The afternoon ended with refreshments and an exhibition of crafts done during the summer. Miss Jean Stein was in charge of the program assisted by Miss Mary Doyle and the following group of Junior Leaders: Ann—CHILDREN—

Needham Council KC To Hold Carnival

After a lapse of twenty-five years Needham Council Knights of Columbus is planning to hold a six day Carnival opening Labor Day afternoon on Reservoir street in East Needham. The midway will consist of Merry Go Round, Chair Plane, Ferris Wheel, and Caterpillar ride. Display of fireworks is to be held Friday evening, September 9. The carnival will close Saturday night with the giving of an Admiral cabinet television set, a Zenith portable radio, and a Mixmaster to the holder of the lucky tickets. The purpose of the carnival is to raise funds in an endeavor to build quarters for the Council on a site now owned by the Council in Needham.

Award Given Louis Fabian Bachrach

Louis Fabian Bachrach, president of the photographic firm bearing his name, has just been awarded the degree of Honorary Master of Photography by the Photographers Association of America at their annual convention held last week in the Hotel Stevens, Chicago, Illinois.

The award, which is given in recognition of exceptional services rendered to the photographic profession, is held by only twenty-four other men in the United States. Included are Dr. Harold Edgerton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Captain Edward Steichen, George Harris of Harris and Ewing, and Kenneth Mees of the Eastman Kodak Company, world authority on photographic emulsions.

Candidates must receive the unanimous vote of the Committee of Honorary Degrees of the Association.

Mr. Bachrach, who has been taking pictures for nearly fifty years, was a guest of honor at the banquet where the award was made.

Kiwanis Club to Be Stocked With Soap

Members of the Newton Kiwanis Club brought soap wrappers to the weekly meeting, at the Newton Y.M.C.A., Wednesday, and all the members present pledged delivery to two additional wrappers, each, next week, when Denny Myers, Boston College football coach is scheduled to tell them of B.C.'s plans for a clean sweep through the coming football campaign. The soap wrappers received by Lever Bros. Company, Cambridge, that concern will send an equal number of cakes of soap to the European needy, free, via C.A.R.E. Dr. John Conroy is in charge of the Kiwanis drive.

A movie titled "Curiosity Shop," showing the research that has resulted in the fabulous strides made in the manufacture of aluminum was shown by Robert Fitzgerald, a representative—KIWANIS—

Information for Veterans

Questions and Answers

Q—What effect has a bad conduct discharge on burial allowance of my husband?

A—There is no allowance in his case, since the legal requirement for the type of separation from service is not met.

Q—I was honorably discharged from the Women's Army Corps, and am assured I meet eligibility requirements for Federal benefits. In case of emergency, will the Government assume my hospital expenses in a private hospital without prior VA authorization?

A—The Government will pay for such emergency treatment in a private hospital for a service-connected ailment, or for a non-service-connected condition determined as aggravating the disability from the basic service-connected disorder, or for treatment to prevent the interruption of vocational training under Public Law 16, provided Government facilities are not feasibly available and delay would be hazardous.

Q—My daughter married while in the service and after her discharge died of a service-connected disability. Is the surviving husband entitled to accrued monetary benefits?

A—Yes, provided claim for compensation has been filed by the veteran during her lifetime.

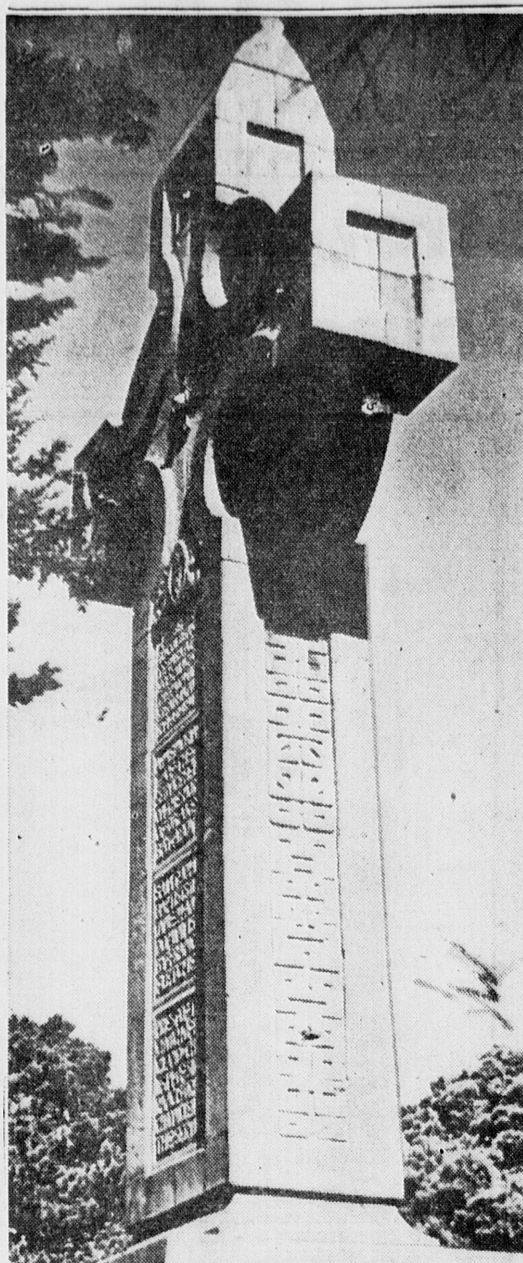

Q—My compensation has been cut, although my disabilities are worse. How can I get another examination?

A—You may submit a statement from your attending physician, giving in detail the symptoms which he finds on examination together with a complete diagnosis of your condition. This should be forwarded to the Adjudication Officer of the Regional Office having your case folder. If, in the judgment of the Rating Board, a re-examination is warranted on the basis of such evidence, one will be requested.

AS THE 56TH GENERAL CONVENTION of the Episcopal Church is meeting in San Francisco, the whole Church commemorates the 400th anniversary of the Book of Common Prayer in the English language. The Prayer Book Cross was erected in 1894 in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, to commemorate the date in 1579 when in the hands of Sir Francis Drake's Chaplain, the Book of Common Prayer was first used in the New World. Convention visitors by the hundreds are going to the Park to see the famous Cross.

'Puppy' Stakes Now At Wonderland

The battle is on for the puppy championship of Wonderland and may the best pup win. Out of a field of sixty eight young ambitious pups only sixteen remain in competition to answer the call of "There Goes Swiftly"—This puppy Stake Race with a purse of $12,200 is the incentive for the greyhound owners to try and come up with the "pup of the year" at Wonderland.

All the trial and quarter-final trial races have been thrillers with the pups running as true to form as their older and more experienced racers in the regular nightly card. Out of the past eighteen trial and semi-final spins fourteen of the public choice going off the favorite on the tote board, have come through with flying colors. Out of this puppy championships will come, next season, top flight class greyhounds with rich purses to shoot at. Perhaps another Rural Rube may come out of this young blood. A pup who races quite similar to the great Rural Rube is Art Wilson's young flyer Marjella who has won all her trial spins coming from behind to nip the front runners at the wire.

Some of the pups to last through the trial races are: Something New from the kennel of H. B. Diamond; Rosy Stepper, a flashy sprinter owned by R. H. Stevenson; Rosie Sparkle and and Rocca Storm, all from the Stevenson kennels. R. K. Hutchings has his classy Halbrook, winner of all his trial spins ready to challenge one and all. Semi-finals of this puppy race will be held Friday night, August 26, with the grand finale being run off at the Revere Beach track Thursday night, September 1.

Miss Grace Galloway of 31 Ripley street, Newton Centre, enjoyed a week's vacation at Camp Winnecunnet, the Boston YWCA summer camp for business and industrial girls at Martha's Vineyard recently. She returned home August 20.

Do You Know Massachusetts?

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . Of the 39 offices of the Massachusetts Division of Employment Security distributed throughout the state, all but two by early August showed a lightening in the unemployment claim load. The median decline in unemployment was 23%, compared with the high for each place earlier this year . . . The greatest improvement appears in Boston and its nine nearby cities, but Worcester district was a close second and the district north of Boston a good third . . . The six offices showing a drop of 40% or more in unemployment claims were: Hyannis 77%, Gloucester 76%, Marlborough 63%, Waltham 48%, Haverhill 41% and Northampton 40% . . . Gypsy moths have been practically eliminated on Cape Cod this summer by spraying from airplanes, a method that seems likely to be extended to the whole state . . . Notwithstanding the drought, the August 1 crop indications in Massachusetts point to 10,115,000 pounds of tobacco, 23% above the 10-year average; 3,300,000 bushels of apples, 33% over the average; 525,000 tons of hay, 8% under the average and 2,397,000 bushels of potatoes, 20% under the 10-year average . . . The oldest state paper in existence relating to Massachusetts is thought to be the first patent or charter given the Pilgrims by the Council for New England in London in 1621. The original is held by the Pilgrim Society in Plymouth, but a copy may be seen at the Massachusetts Historical Society's museum in Boston . . . The town of Boxford at a recent special town meeting voted to uphold its zoning bylaw. (Compiled by State Planning Board.)

Bergin-Blaquere

At a double ring ceremony in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, Saturday morning, August 20, Miss Marie R. Blaquere, daughter of Mrs. Catherine F. Blaquere of 64 Greenough street, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Francis R. Bergin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Bergin of Auburndale. Rev. John A. Saunders performed the ceremony. A reception followed at the Hotel Sheraton, Boston.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Joseph Blaquere, the bride wore a gown of blue satin with fitted bodice and full skirt with a long train. Her three-tiered veil of French illusion was of cathedral length and her bouquet combined stephanotis, orchids and pale pink sweethearts. She was attended by Mrs. Dorothy Kelleher as matron of honor who wore light orchid marquisette over taffeta with a picture hat of a deeper shade and carried salmon colored gladioli.

Mr. John Devlin was best man and the ushers were Mr. Robert Blaquere and Mr. Albert Roulo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergin flew to Canada on their wedding trip where they will visit Montreal and Quebec and on their return will reside in Jamaica Plain.

White-Newcomb

At a four o'clock ceremony in the Newtonville Methodist church, Saturday, August 20, Miss Nancy Newcomb, daughter of Mrs. Raymond Newcomb of Newtonville and the late Mr. Newcomb, became the bride of Mr. Robert Rombout White, 3rd, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert White of West Orange, New Jersey. Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Norman D. Harris, the bride wore a gown of starched organdy and valencien lace. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a cap of the same lace. Mrs. Norman D. Harris, matron of honor for her sister, wore an organdy gown over pale lilac. The bridesmaids, wearing similar gowns over pastel blue, were Miss Nancy C. Miller of Chicago and Miss Mary L. White, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. Henry O. White served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Harry B. Cornell of Blairstown, New Jersey, Mr. Brett White of Bethel, Conn., Mr. David F. Wynne of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mr. Dudley Jenks of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. White will reside in Rochester, New York where Mr. White will attend the University of Rochester Medical School. He is a graduate, cum laude, of Amherst College, class of 1949 and a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity. Mrs. White was graduated from Newton High School and Mount Holyoke College.

Dunmore-Cattell

In the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, Saturday, August 20, Miss Mary Virginia Cattell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard B. Cattell of West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Chester Dunmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kenneth Dunmore of Newton. The four o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Clyde Yarbrough was followed by a garden reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin and an heirloom lace veil. Her bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis. Miss Jean Cattell, maid of honor for her sister, wore deep green chiffon and carried bronze and white pompon chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Dunmore of Hanover, New Hampshire, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Nancy Thompson of Smithfield, Ohio; Mrs. Warren D. Wells of Terryville, Conn.; and Miss Joan Cuthbert of Manchester, New Hampshire, also wore gowns of deep green chiffon with head-dresses of white flowers and carried bronze and white pompon chrysanthemums.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cattell wore a gown of gold crepe with a small flowered hat and a corsage of yellow roses and blue delphinium. Mrs. Dunmore wore beige crepe with a matching flowered hat and a corsage of tallismans roses.

Mr. Richard J. Cattell, Jr., brother of the bride, was the best man. The ushers were Mr. William and Mr. John Cattell, brothers of the bride; Mr. Robert Hunt of Waban and Mr. James Cutler of West Newton, cousins of the bridegroom; Mr. David M. Pynchon of Newton Highlands, Mr. William Heineman of New York City and Mr. Thomas Gallinelli of Newton Highlands.

Following a motor trip to Maine and New Hampshire Mr. and Mrs. Dunmore will make their home in Newtonville.

The bride was graduated from Smith College. Mr. Dunmore attended Tabor Academy and was graduated from Williams College. He is a member of D. U. fraternity.

White-Newcomb

At a four o'clock ceremony in the Newtonville Methodist church, Saturday, August 20, Miss Nancy Newcomb, daughter of Mrs. Raymond Newcomb of Newtonville and the late Mr. Newcomb, became the bride of Mr. Robert Rombout White, 3rd, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert White of West Orange, New Jersey. Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Norman D. Harris, the bride wore a gown of starched organdy and valencien lace. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a cap of the same lace. Mrs. Norman D. Harris, matron of honor for her sister, wore an organdy gown over pale lilac. The bridesmaids, wearing similar gowns over pastel blue, were Miss Nancy C. Miller of Chicago and Miss Mary L. White, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. Henry O. White served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Harry B. Cornell of Blairstown, New Jersey, Mr. Brett White of Bethel, Conn., Mr. David F. Wynne of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mr. Dudley Jenks of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. White will reside in Rochester, New York where Mr. White will attend the University of Rochester Medical School. He is a graduate, cum laude, of Amherst College, class of 1949 and a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity. Mrs. White was graduated from Newton High School and Mount Holyoke College.

Boudrot-Loughlin

At a nuptial mass in St. Anthony's Church, Allston Saturday, August 20, Miss Alice Loughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Loughlin of Allston, was married to Mr. Albert J. Boudrot, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Boudrot of 40 Woodbine terrace, Auburndale. Rev. Timothy Gleason, pastor, performed the ceremony and was the celebrant of the Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and a veil of Chantilly lace caught to a coronet. She carried white roses. Miss Theresa Maher, maid of honor, wore tea rose taffeta with matching hat and gloves and carried peach gladioli. The bridesmaids, gowned in powder blue taffeta were Miss Marie Loughlin, cousin of the bride, and Miss Marilyn Vohar.

Mr. Paul Dunn, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Milton Pelletier, Jr., and Mr. Richard Crosby, cousins of the bridegroom. Edward O'Neil, a cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of St. Patrick's High School and the Katherine Gibbs School. Mr. Boudrot, a veteran of World War II, is attending the Bentley School of Accounting.

Forsdick-Darrach

In the Second Church, West Newton, Sunday, August 21, Miss Shirley Millicent Darrach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Darrach of 19 Fuller terrace, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. John Vernon Forsdick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon G. Forsdick of Waltham. Rev. Robert Clyde Yarbrough performed the 5:30 ceremony. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with sweetheart neckline and a fingertip mantilla veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet was of white gladioli. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. LeRoy C. Studley of Hyannis who wore copper-gold satin with matching mits and halo with a gold illusion veil. She carried yellow gladioli. The bridesmaids, Miss Marian Lloyd of Malden and Miss Muriel Hamilton of Medford, were gowned in silver green satin with matching halos and carried rose-gold gladioli.

Mrs. Darrach chose a gown of aqua crepe for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Forsdick wore peacock blue crepe.

Mr. Edgar Forsdick was best man for his brother. The ushers were Eliot Leaf of Waltham and Warren Waite of Watertown.

Following a wedding trip to Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Forsdick will make their home at 41 Underwood Park, West Newton.

Drennan-Miskella

In the Church of Our Lady, Newton, Sunday, August 14, Miss Bertha Frances Miskella of Newton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Miskella, became the bride of Mr. Eugene Dennis Drennan, son of Mrs. Thomas Drennan of Newton Centre and the late Mr. Drennan. Rev. John A. Sears performed the 3:30 ceremony and a reception followed at the Philomatheia Club.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Miskella, the bride wore a gown of duchess satin with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was caught to a beaded cap and she carried white roses and stephanotis with an orchid center. Miss Eleanor Miskella, maid of honor, wore a hoopskirted gown of blue chiffon with a matching tiara head-dress. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink roses with ribbon streamers in pastel shades.

Mr. George Edward Maguire was best man and the ushers were Mr. John Foley, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Otto Payonczek, nephew of the bride.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York, Washington and Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Drennan will make their home after October 1 at 287 Homer street, Newton Centre.

The bride is a former employee of the City Clerk's office at Newton City Hall. Mr. Drennan is employed by the Newton Forestry Department.

Wade-Reuling

Miss Edna Reuling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reuling of 12 Putnam street, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wade of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan on Saturday, August 13. White gladioli and bronze candelabra decorated the McCune Chapel of People's Church, East Lansing, Michigan for the candlelight ceremony performed by Dr. N. A. McCune. A reception followed in the church parlors.

The bride wore a gown of brocade with a full train and carried a cascade of white gladioli. She was attended by her sister, Miss Anna L. Reuling, as maid of honor, who wore an empire gown of pale green taffeta and carried rose tipped white gladioli.

Robert Wade, brother of the bridegroom, of Sault Ste. Marie, was best man. Serving as ushers were Robert Burchill, James Cook, Walter Reuling and John Reuling, Jr., brothers of the bride.

The wedding music was by the bride's paternal grandparents, Mrs. Reuling presiding at the organ and Mr. Reuling, flute soloist, playing Mendelssohn's "Song Without Words."

The receiving line included the bride and groom, the four grandparents of the bride, Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Reuling of East Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. Swan Swanson of Lansing, Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State College. Mr. Wade served four years in the Pacific theater and is a senior at Michigan State College.

Hasenfus-Conroy

At a nuptial mass in St. Lawrence's Church, New Bedford, Saturday, August 20, Miss Mary Frances Conroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Michael Conroy of New Bedford, was married to Clement Joseph Hasenfus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lawrence Hasenfus of 970 Dedham street, Newton Centre. Rt. Rev. John F. McKeon, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony and Rev. Waldo C. Hasenfus, uncle of the bridegroom, was the celebrant of the mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with heart shaped neckline, the fitted bodice trimmed with tiny pearls, and the full skirt ending in a long train. Her full length veil of illusion was caught to a head-dress of heirloom Brussels point lace and her bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis.

She was attended by Miss Margaret M. Farrell of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., as maid of honor, a classmate at Rosemont College. Her gown was of rose marquisette with high neckline and bouffant skirt. With it she wore lace mits, a large rose colored horsehair hat, and carried purple gladioli and pink roses. Miss Louise Mahoney, cousin of the bride, and junior bridesmaid, wore jonquil-yellow marquisette trimmed with moss green velvet ribbon and a bonnet shaped head-dress of matching net. She carried yellow sweetheart roses, delphinium and baby's breath.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Conroy wore a gown of soft rose crepe with a small hat of rose and beige ostrich tips and a corsage of brown baby orchids. Mrs. Hasenfus wore maple crepe with a matching feathered hat and a corsage of pale purple orchids.

Mr. John Hasenfus of Newton Centre was best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. William M. Conroy, Jr., brother of the bride, and Mr. John Coughlin, cousin of the bridegroom, of Norwood.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. John Mahoney, Jr., of New Bedford.

The bride was graduated from Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pa., and the Catholic University of America. Mr. Hasenfus, a graduate of Boston College, did graduate work at Boston University.

Almon L. Fales

Almon L. Fales, a leading authority on sanitary engineering and a retired member of the Boston consulting engineering firm of Metcalf and Eddy, died Friday, August 19, at his home, 45 Westbourne Road, Newton Centre, following an illness of several months.

Mr. Fales was in his 74th year. A native of Medway, he received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1898. For the next 15 years he was associated with the Worcester sewage purification works, rising from assistant chemist to superintendent and director of its testing laboratories. In 1913 he joined the firm of Metcalf and Eddy. He retired as an active partner in 1948 but retained his connection as a consultant.

Recognized as an authority in the fields of sewage purification, stream pollution abatement and the treatment of industrial wastes, he served the government during the World War and World War II in problems of sewage disposal at Army camps and the treatment of waste from ordnance plants.

The author of many articles in the technical and scientific press, he was also a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, American Water Works Association, American Chemical Society, New England Water Works Association and the New England Sewage Works Association.

He was an active member of the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre and had served it for many years as moderator.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Clara Blood Fales, and three daughters, the Misses Doris E. and Virginia B. Fales, and Mrs. Elizabeth Fales Dietz.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 1:30 in the Newton Cemetery Chapel. Interment was in Hope Cemetery, Worcester.

Clement S. Houghton

Funeral services for Clement Stevens Houghton of 152 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

Mr. Houghton, an investment expert, died Sunday, August 21, at his summer home in North Hatley, Quebec. He was in his 86th year. An inheritor of a large fortune he gave large sums of money to various causes and was an ardent supporter of education for negroes. He was a cousin of Arthur A. Houghton who gave the Houghton Library to Harvard College.

Mr. Houghton leaves his wife, Mrs. Martha (Colt) Houghton, a daughter, Mrs. James B. Wharton of Old Lyme, Connecticut, and three sons, William of Marblehead, Samuel G. of Reno, Nevada and Dr. John D. Houghton, pathologist at the Veterans Hospital in West Roxbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldridge Ellis Hunt, Jr., 44 Page road, are parents of a daughter, Nancy Elizabeth Hunt, born Aug. 14, at Richardson House, Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Edwards of Newton Centre and Mr. and Mrs. A. Ellis Hunt of 51 Page road.

Your City—

any one department, but will give a general outline of all their functions. The magnitude of these operations can best be seen from the following statistics:

Total area of city—18 square miles.
100 acres of parks.
215 miles of accepted streets.
71 miles of unaccepted streets.
255 miles of water mains.
162 miles of surface drains.

To give you a better idea of size, the area of Newton and miles of utilities is three times greater than that of the Town of Brookline.

Due to the continued growth of the City, and the demand for more and better service, in 1934 it was decided that for more efficient operation and better coordination between the various Public Works Departments, a Director of Public Works was necessary.

Accordingly, on July 5, 1934, the office of Director of Public Works was created. Under Section 88 of the Ordinances the duties of the office are defined and read as follows:

"He shall have under his immediate control and direction such assistants and employees as may from time to time be duly authorized. He shall have under his direction and advisory control the street commissioner, the water commissioner and the city engineer, who shall keep the director fully informed of all matters in their respective departments and carry out such directions as to the operations of their departments as may be issued from time to time by the director."

The Director of Public Works, having complete information of the operation of the three departments, is able to coordinate the proposed projects so that work progresses more rapidly and at less cost.

The selection of streets for reconstruction and surface treatment is determined by the Director through consultation with the Board of Aldermen and, by programming the work, the efficiency and economy of the operation are increased. Once the program is established, the basis for funds, both in the budget and bonds authorized, is determined, and deviation from the program would seriously affect the progress and cost of the work. Petitions received, all factors being equal, are acted upon in the order in which they are submitted, and the final decision as to whether projects will be constructed depends entirely upon the Board of Aldermen making available appropriations to cover the cost.

The order of construction, so that the installation of utilities such as water, sewer, drain, gas, telephone and electric conduits are installed previously to the construction and paving of streets, is a very important phase of the Director's responsibility. The petitions that are submitted for construction of new sewers, drains, covering grooves, and construction of streets are submitted directly to the Public Works office and progress reports are constantly kept up to date so that the Mayor and Board of Aldermen may be fully informed as to the number of requests, action taken, etc.

Long range planning for the construction of future projects and capital expenditures is another function of the Director of Public Works. This enables him to plan the work and to know what funds will be necessary from bonded accounts in order to fit the construction of future projects.

that requests for bond authorization may be fully explained to the Board of Aldermen and the Mayor. It also gives him a basis on which to determine what funds will be necessary to include in the annual budget.

Public utilities, such as gas, electricity and telephone locations have to be approved by the Engineering Department before granted by the Board of Aldermen, and it is the responsibility of the Director to notify such utilities so that their installation may be completed before the final paving of streets.

Studies of department operations are constantly being conducted by the Public Works Department in order to decrease costs and increase production. The question may arise as to why the department heads cannot perform these studies themselves. It has been the experience over the past years—previous to the installation of the office of Director of Public Works—that due to the continued rapid development of the City, and the ever increasing demand on the department heads, that the details of the department themselves required so much time that, if the department heads were to perform these various operations, either more administrative or supervisory employees would be necessary in each department, or the direction of the functional operations of the department would suffer.

It is the Director's responsibility to be fully informed on all Board matters for all of the departments, and attend all committee and Board meetings. This relieves the department heads of spending about one night a week attending meetings.

Since all of the information concerning the various departments, plus the information concerning proposed construction, is assembled in this central office, information is available to the public, which relieves the department heads of time consuming telephone and personal contacts.

The Director also studies ordinances governing the Public Works Departments and public works functions and makes such recommendations for revising said ordinances as is deemed necessary in order to improve the efficiency and economy of the operations. One illustration of this can readily be seen in the revision of the betterment street ordinance, and the ordinance governing the construction of Board of Survey streets.

The question frequently arises as to what the taxpayer gets for his money. I would like to explain Public Works annual costs and enumerate what the taxpayer receives for this expenditure. The following figures are for the year 1948:

The per capita expenditure for Public Works amounted to $39.02, divided as follows:

19.2 percent or $7.50 for capital expenditures.
65.1 percent or $25.40 for Street Department operation.

12.9 percent or $5.03 for Water Department operation.

2.4 percent or $0.94 for Engineering Department operation.

The following are a few of the services received by the general public for this expenditure:

The construction and reconstruction of streets throughout the entire City. The installation of sanitary sewers, surface drains and new water installations. Existing streets were maintained in order that the taxpayer may have a hard surfaced, good riding street for ingress and egress to his property. Sidewalks and curbing were maintained regardless of what material they were constructed. The street in front of his house was kept clean in order that dust nuisance might be alleviated and the appearance improved. His garbage was collected twice a week and his refuse and ashes were collected once a week—and disposed of. Trees were planted in front of his property and maintained. Gypsy moth and other pests were controlled by spray and other methods. Parks and school areas were maintained for his relaxation. Street signs and traffic signs were renewed and maintained for his safety and information. Sewers were installed and maintained in order that sewage from his home could be properly taken care of and his health protected. Surface drains were installed and maintained in order that water, collecting in the street and on his property, would be carried away. New playgrounds were constructed for his recreation. Off-street parking areas were developed and maintained. In the winter, the streets were cleared of ice and snow for his safety and convenience. Street lighting was supplied. Locations of underground structures and poles are determined by the Engineering Department and street lights are installed on recommendation of the Street Commissioner.

A family of four was furnished with water at an average cost of 75 cents per month. When one considers that there is no utility more essential to the well-being of man, nor one that is used more extensively, it is evident that this is a very small cost as compared with other utilities such as gas, electricity and telephone.

Due to the adequate supply, distribution and location of hydrants throughout the entire city, the insurance rates are considerably less. Fire protection is indirectly the responsibility of the Public Works Department—because of the installation and inspection of hydrants and because maintenance, snow removal, etc., of the public streets enables the Fire Department to have ready access to all locations.

Police protection is also affected by the proper functioning of the Public Works Departments as concerns street lighting and street maintenance—making accessible all properties.

On some of the above services, which are covered by the expenditures quoted above, charges are made in other localities. The average charge for collection of garbage, ashes and rubbish in some cities throughout the country exceeds one dollar per month.

In other words, if it were not for the Public Works Departments, many of the functions performed by other departments would be seriously impaired, such as transportation, public health, recreation, police and fire protection, esthetic appearance,

To Double Force of Retail Salesmen

As part of Oldsmobile Division's current program calling for double the present force of 5200 retail salesmen by the first of the year, sales management conferences are now being held and general convenience to the citizen.

I have attempted to cover the subject of Public Works in a very general manner. Specific and detailed information will be discussed at a later date by the heads of the departments concerned with the responsibility of performing the above functions.

Next Monday afternoon at 3:30 P.M. on the "Bill Sherman goes calling at the Newton City Hall" program, Ashley Q. Robinson, Newton's City Engineer, will discuss construction work, surveys, levels, designs, estimates and plans pertaining to our streets, drains, sewers, waterworks, bridges and lands of the City, together with such other duties as are incident to his office.

on a national scale, it was announced by G. R. Jones, general sales manager of the automobile company.

"Not only sales managers of Oldsmobile's 3700 dealerships, but all male personnel of our 24 zone offices are attending these timely refresher courses," said Mr. Jones. He explained that sales managers were in some cases partners or owners of dealerships. Zone personnel included assistant managers, service managers, service representatives, parts and accessories managers, office managers, district managers, car distributors and their assistants.

"Our aim is to make everyone connected with Oldsmobile thoroughly familiar with modern ways to serve the customer administratively," said Mr. Jones. Oldsmobile's management has set the mark of 350,000 new car production next year. This figure is one-sixth larger than this year's anticipated record-making production of 300,000 new cars. It is plain to see why we want every man in the sales department of our dealerships to be properly equipped to serve the motoring public."

Ninetieth Anniversary of Oil Industry This Saturday

The petroleum industry will celebrate its 90th "birthday" on August 27—the anniversary of the drilling of the nation's first commercial oil well at Titusville, Pa.

This historic event opened the doors to national progress, for it started a chain of events which carried this country from a struggling, third-class power in 1859 to the leadership of the world in nine decades.

The pioneers who brought in this well in the sparsely-settled countryside of Northwestern Pennsylvania were Col. Edwin L. Drake, of New Haven, Conn.; William A. "Uncle Billy" Smith, a skilled blacksmith and driller, of Salina, near Tarentum, Pa., and the latter's two sons.

There were others, of course, but these were the central figures in the creation of a new industry which has produced undreamed-of comforts for the home as well as energy for industrial production and transportation miracles. It has generated billions of dollars in taxes, as well as providing employment for two million persons.

Drake's search for oil in Western Pennsylvania was studded with obstacles from the very beginning. Forty years old at the time, and in ailing health, he arrived in Titusville in May, 1858.

This little town was then a backwoods community of 125 assorted souls, and residents who had collected surface oil from springs for years for medicinal purposes ridiculed the plans and objectives of this man from the east.

Double Pay
Many brine well drillers completed, then ignored their contracts with Drake just for the fun of it. After more than a year Drake finally obtained the services of "Uncle Billy" Smith, luring him to Titusville by offering $1.50 a foot—twice the regular pay for brine well drilling.

Smith, a jack-of-all-trades and a shrewd man on drilling operations, agreed to bore a 1,000 foot well. A condition of his contract stipulated that if he failed to reach 1,000 feet through any fault of his own, his entire pay was to be forfeited.

In the early summer of 1859, Drake and his crew erected a derrick near an oil spring and began work. He demonstrated his ingenuity by driving a pipe down to bedrock and drilling inside it, and by using a steam engine to furnish power.

"Drake's Wonder"
Once underway, drilling progress was slow but steady, averaging about three feet a day. At 69 feet, the drill slipped into a crevice and dropped six inches.

Smith pulled up his tools, never realizing at the moment that he had won his battle with nature and had completed the nation's first commercial oil well.

On an inspection trip the following day, "Uncle Billy" was amazed and overjoyed to find thick, black oil within a few feet of the surface of the pipe. While Col. Drake watched, Smith improvised a bailer and took out several barrels of the dark liquid which was to contribute so much to humanity.

"Drake's Folly" overnight had become "Drake's Wonder," a new era and a new industry were born. Through the foresight and the progressiveness of the men in the oil industry the energy contained in petroleum has contributed greatly to the prosperity and growth of the United States.

By HELEN L. RING

The Senate rejected a motion to rush prorogation into effect on Tuesday. Senator Harris Richardson, Republican floor leader said that there are 152 matters to be disposed of and we must go slow, be careful what we do, as each bill needs careful study. The order introduced by Sen. John Powers, Democrat, to consider beginning Tuesday afternoon as the last week of the session was defeated on a roll call. It is believed by many legislators that prorogation will start on Monday next.

H-2766—Bill extending the state's inheritance tax law to place a levy on property held jointly by a husband and wife in case of death of either one, exempting only homes up to $25,000 was engrossed by the Senate and sent to the House for enactment. The following bills were engrossed by the Senate and sent to the House for enactment:

HERB Says!

TODAY'S GRIN — Little Boy: "Mommy, how long is it since Daddy died?" Mother: "He didn't die, darling. He joined a golf club."

To Mrs. H. F., Newton Centre, with reference to your inquiry as to the cost of operating a television set. (No more than 1c per hour, much less than the old or new electric iron.)

The terrific savings we mentioned last week on nationally advertised TV sets caught on like wild fire... we are even pulling in sets from our main Boston Store to meet the demand.

The one item that we do not furnish home demonstrations on is the KURTIN-LESS show. Not only is this item definitely different, but eliminates unsanitary curtains. Yes, many is the happy home 'round these parts since Coleman's opened our Newton Branch. We are not the type to boast, but when it comes to Home Products we have the big edge. Just to remind you slackers who have not the time to read my entire column each week (You'll lose out if you don't), we have a complete line of Plumbing, Hardware, Paint and Wallpaper Supplies, Appliances, Television, Refrigerators, Stoves, Housewares, etc. Shoot in those Home Products questions, folks... Herb has all the answers.

THIS WEEK'S VERY SPECIAL: A nationally advertised TV Console with radio, record changers, and 12" tube. Reg. price $795.00, NOW $499.50, at COLEMAN ONLY... so SEEK and YE shall FIND.

ment: reimbursement to cities and towns for expenses incurred for the transportation of pupils. Resolve providing for an investigation and study by a special commission called the Dever Commission; the bill to have the Commissioner of Corporation and Taxation to distribute $70,000,000 and any other amounts available from income and corporation taxes, to cities and towns this year. If this bill is passed by the House the city of Newton will receive approximately $1,000,000 according to valuation of $26.25 in 1945. The Joint Session of both branches rejected the graduated income tax in Massachusetts by a roll call 138-108. Two-thirds vote is needed to pass the measure before it goes on the ballot. As the law now stands in this state, income taxes are set at a uniform rate for all incomes.

The State Senate killed the bill—H-2761 to create a commission on the necessities of life on a roll call 11-25. Six Democrats joining Republicans voted against the bill. The debate was lengthy and rather bitter at times. Sen. John Powers and Sen. William E. Nolen of Holyoke defended the bill. Sen. Richard H. Lee of Newton said this is a duplication, it is a piece of political hocus pocus to give patronage to some needy political ward heelers. He continued "this is the most expensive administration in the history of Massachusetts. We don't need this bill at all." Sen. Harris Richardson branded the bill as the worst of all bills we have had in the legislature this year. Sen. Powers asked for postponement. It was rejected on a voice vote. Sen. Richardson stated that the cost to set up a commission of that sort would be terrific perhaps in the vicinity of over a million dollars to do the very things that the Milk Control Board, Department of Public Utilities and Industrial and Development Commission now do. He branded the bill "a miniature OPA and a Gestapo bill" which gives the commission powers to snoop on business of all kinds. Sen. Powers stated this bill is necessary. The consumer has not been properly represented and this is the only way the consumer will be protected. There are many things appearing in the budget that have long been neglected." Sen. Charles Taylor said that Governor Dever asked for this bill because he felt it would protect the public—protection that is required. The bill is the people's lawyer."

Sen. Nolan stated it would set up a fact-finding board and the ordinary man and woman paying excessive prices for commodities have no place to turn. Governor Dever said he will renew his recommendation for this bill in 1950 and will not revive the proposal now. He has ordered all department heads to stand by for the prorogation of the 1949 legislature since they are required to remain on call as long as both branches are in session. They cannot prorogue until the Governor informs them that he has no more messages for new legislation for his session. After a three-hour debate in the House the bill to allow the Milk Control Board to control the retail price of milk was defeated, but voted for legislative investigation of monopolistic practices within the dairy industry. The Senate voted for creation of a five-man commission to make a study of the $70 million dollar toll road across the state to cost $150,000. Salaries at $25 a day not exceeding $5,000 a year. The House engrossed the bill to increase from $8.00 to $10.00 a day the amount allowed to hospitals by cities and towns for the care of public welfare recipients. The bill to allow the State to purchase the South Station will be heard today. In the Senate, Rep. Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton offered two amendments. The bill with amendments was passed to be engrossed by the House. Sen. Lee opposed the bill as written without amendments. He stated he objects the state going into business and is in favor of private enterprise.

Also to be heard in the Senate today is the bill H-778—for a 65-cent minimum wage for Massachusetts. The bill was passed and engrossed in the House. A long and stiff battle will take place. The bill exempts caddies, casual workers, people receiving tips and other exemptions. The proposed law provides a penalty in fines up to $200 and from 10 to 90 days in jail. The committee on Municipal Finance reported on the petition by Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., of Newton H-752 filed by Rep. Whitmore, Jr., of Newton calling for cities and towns having parking meters be authorized to apply receipts to the acquisition and maintenance of off-street parking areas to refer the bill to the next annual session. Rep. Whitmore substituted the bill in the House. It is now in the Senate for action.

The marriage of Miss Elsie Dawson and Dr. Merrill F. Unger, Professor of Semiotics and Old Testament at Dallas Theological Seminary, Dallas, Texas, will take place in the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, Friday evening, September 9.

A USO report shows that of the 700,000 men who entered the services in 1948, more than 500,000, or 70 per cent, are under 21 years of age. Furthermore, last year 480,000 young people were graduated into civilian life from military service in striking contrast with 278,000 who were graduated from all of the colleges and universities in the United States combined.

IT PAYS TO TRUST THE OTHER FELLOW

Want to make friends and influence people? The easiest way to do it is to trust them. That's the advice given by John D. Murphy in the September Journal of Living.

A big portion of the world's unhappiness is due to forcing our wills on others so that they feel compelled to do what we wish. Yet by inculcating a desire in others to please or comply, the results are entirely different.

The average man is much more cooperative with a person who considers him cooperative. He is a little nobler with a person who gives him credit for being noble. And he is always a little more fair and honest with a person who trusts him implicitly.

People who deal with are colored by your attitudes concerning them. If you regard a man with suspicion and distrust, you are likely to find that he behaves in a manner which justifies your attitude. It always brings out the worst in him.

On the other hand, by assuming the best intentions in the other fellow, you may succeed in arousing them. This psychological law holds true in all aspects of life—business, marriage and raising children.

A simple, sincere trust is the most powerful instrument for influencing human behavior. It awakens within the other fellow a sense of his own inherent desire to be honest. And more than that—it gives you a greater self-confidence and self-respect. For a person who cannot trust others cannot trust himself.

THERE IS NO SANTA CLAUS — IN WASHINGTON!

Federal dollars are collected from you and me—over a thousand dollars a year from each American family. 33 percent of our income is taken for taxes—11% for direct taxes such as income tax and 22% for the hidden taxes.

There are 53 separate taxes in a loaf of bread, 127 in a roast of beef, 154 in a bar of soap, 201 in a gallon of gas, and 502 in a pair of shoes.

When you buy a pack of cigarettes the tobacco man gets 7c—the rest goes for taxes.

Isn't it about time to put on the brakes and stop the tax-spending joy ride?

Did you know that Comrade Lenin once said "Some day we will force the United States to spend itself to destruction."

Don't be kidded by promises of too much security.

An American named Benjamin Franklin warned "He who trades Freedom for Security will lose both."

What can you do about it? Write your Congressman today and tell him to vote for each Hoover recommendation as fast as the measure comes up.

NEWTON ON THE AIR

This is just a tip to those who may be interested in a broadcast over WVOM-Brookline this coming Saturday evening, August 27 at 9:00 p.m. Tune in at 1600 on your dial. Your columnist has been asked to do another M.C. performance for the United Council on World Affairs, which is the name of the organization resulting from a merger of the United Nations Association, the Foreign Policy Association and the Joint Council for International Co-Operation. My good friend M. Bernard Fox of Brookline, who has asked be quite a few times to speak on this program, on which he has acted as M.C. (Master of Ceremonies, in case you didn't know) has gone to New York to serve as Assistant Program Director for the Dumont Television Co.

Last week some of you may have heard my guest speaker, Mrs. Sylvia Burack, a member of the Brookline School Committee, discuss modern educational trends, with special reference to high school students. This week, at Mr. Fox's request, is to be Newton Night, and I have been fortunate in securing the services of two very well-informed Newtonians, who will discuss some of the vital problems confronting our citizens today. The two men are Mr. Wendell R. Bauckman, President of the Newton Board of Aldermen and Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, Chairman of the Public Works Committee and, of course, well-known as the Treasurer of the B. S. Hatch Co. Ken Prior is an old friend of mine and was my guest speaker over the same station early this summer. The three of us are planning to have a very interesting program for Newton listeners. Remember, it is WVOM, 1600 on your dial.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. PROBATE COURT. To Florence B. Gibson, of Newton, in said County of Middlesex; and Louis J. Bonland, of Scituate, in the County of Plymouth, as they are co-executors of the will of William J. Gibson, late of said Newton, deceased;

A petition has been presented to said Court by Edward M. Rowe, as he is administrator with the will annexed of the estate not already administered of Joseph Ernest Gibson, late of said Newton, deceased, representing that said William J. Gibson, upon his resignation as executor of the will of said Joseph Ernest Gibson, refused to deliver to said petitioner all papers, records, memoranda, and properties belonging to the estate of said Joseph Ernest Gibson; and praying that said Court determine the loss suffered by said estate of Joseph Ernest Gibson by reason of the conduct of said William J. Gibson as such executor; that said respondents be ordered to account to said petitioner for the amount so determined; and for such other relief as may seem just.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the nineteenth day of September 1949, the return day of this citation and also file an answer or other legal pleading within twenty-one days thereafter.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of August in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

Returns to Assume Duties at Bradford

Miss Constance E. Ballou, who has been summering at Chatham, on Cape Cod, with the family of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, has returned to Bradford Junior College to take up her new duties as Director of Admissions. During the past four years, while a teacher of English at Bradford, Miss Ballou has served on the faculty committee for admission. She succeeds Miss Ann Splitstone, who has gone to take a similar position at Hollis College.

Miss Ballou, the daughter of Mrs. John R. Ballou of Newton Lower Falls, was graduated from Wellesley College in 1941. A year later she was awarded the Hawkes Teaching Fellowship which led to a Master's degree in 1944. Since that time she has been a member of the Bradford faculty, and has continued her own studies at Harvard and Cornell summer schools. She has been faculty advisor for Quill, the student publication, and for the Bradford year book. She is serving for a second year as president of the Haverhill Wellesley Club.

Gath Lauds Youth Movement in Newton

As the sponsor and active supporter of sports programs throughout the city for the youth of Newton through his baseball, football, softball, bowling and golf teams, Harry Gath, Jr., candidate for alderman from Ward 2, meeting with his committee at his home, 600 California St., last night emphasized the spirit of youth that has grown up within the newly founded Newton Republican Club of which he is a member of the executive board.

Informally, Mr. Gath outlined a few facts to his committee relating to the youth movement. He said, "Youth is in the saddle" if they will only realize it. My constant communications with the members of my own Gath Guards teams during World War II, whether in Europe or Asia, gave me that inkling. They have positively proven it since their return to Newton with the endorsements they have given me favoring the building of the swimming and wading pool at Albemarle playground. The interest of the younger generation in the political scene was well demonstrated the other night when the combined Republican clubs held their sail down Boston harbor. The younger generation dominated the function. It is a definite indication of the growing interest of youth in ALL affairs from sports to politics. In my campaign for alderman from Ward 2 I am especially anxious to serve the youth of my district as new home owners, taxpayers or rent payers. My 15 years of serving youth in Newton should give me the new ideas needed in the board of aldermen."

Miss A. M. Rochelau of Sterling street who has been the guest of relatives and friends in New Hampshire and Michigan returned to West Newton the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Benjamin Palmquist, Jr. who were married recently in the local Union Church will live in Cleveland, Ohio, after a wedding trip to Canada.

Fall IS THE PROPER TIME TO PLANT GRASS SEEDS

Evening dews and cooler nights encourage rapid growth of all planted grass seeds.

Most weed seeds will remain dormant until spring.

If your lawn grass is thin then scratch the soil to remove dead grass. Plant new seeds in soil—not in dead mat of stems.

If your lawn is burned out then we suggest you ask for our special bulletin treating on drought renovations. Just phone or drop us a card. It is free for the asking. Most lawn failures are due to cheap seed mixtures or lack of fertilizer, or both. Seed must be perennial variety otherwise each season the grass thins out, making space for weeds and crabgrass. A well fed lawn of perennial seeds gets heavier and stronger each year thus forcing weeds out.

Our 25 years experience blending seeds for Golf Courses assures us of the "know how." We use the same quality seeds for lawns as for golf courses. Better seeds cost more but make better lawns.

Party Manners for pleasant party lines

It pays to be poised. Party line neighbors are quick to respond to those who are calm and collected when they ask for the line in an emergency. By sharing courteously, everyone benefits... and party line service is smooth.

It's good to be gracious. When a series of calls must be made, it's nice to remember the others on the line by allowing time between calls. This, too, helps give all party line neighbors their fair share of service.

It's polite to be prompt. Answering the telephone as quickly as possible shows consideration for the person who is calling. Telephoning at "off peak" hours—in the middle of the day, or evenings after 8—is also appreciated.

A NOTE to all party line users

As a general thing, party line service is good enough to meet the requirements of most party line users.

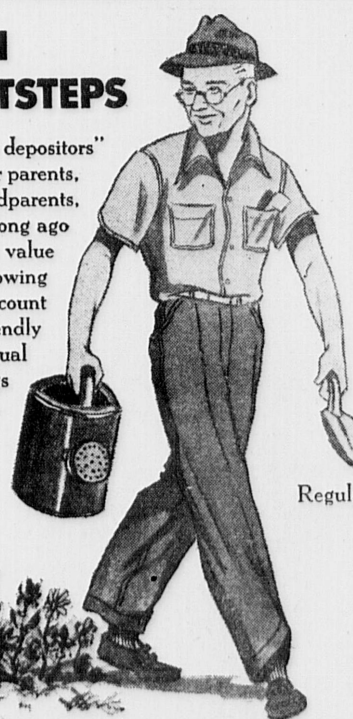

Right now, however, many people who would normally have individual service are on party lines—because this is the only way in which we could supply telephones to the thousands who have asked for new service in the past three years.

Until the time comes when we can provide everybody with the exact grade of service desired, won't you remember that party line service is largely what you make it. We'll do our best to handle your calls smoothly and efficiently. But, in the long run, the quality of party line service depends a great deal on how it's used.
